An Aged Lady Drops Dead.
Mrs. Turner, wife of the late Harvest Turner, an estimable lady, dropped dead from her chair on the morning of the 18th inst., aged some seventy-six years. Mrs. Turner lived near Elmwood.

For the Advertiser.
A Noble Old Gentleman and Lady.
--A Happy Wedding.
We lately enjoyed the pleasure of dining with the Hon. Luke Culbreath and his noble lady. We found them well and reasonably cheerful and happy. How blessed are all those that to every noble human trait of character have in addition the divine graces of charity, resignation and faith. They have the highest enjoyment in prosperity and with more than Roman fortitude can bear adversity and sorrow.

The event of the month surely was the brilliant wedding at Dr. Strom's. It took place at 2 P. M. The company, while confined to the immediate clans, numbered about sixty or more. The elegant party was neatly decorated, darkened by blinds and shades, and then lighted up brightly with some dozen blazing lamps. At the appointed time, the bridal party, consisting of seven or eight couples of select young gentlemen and ladies, filed in, forming a circle around the minister with the bride and groom directly in front of him. Then a brief ceremony by Rev. Mr. Gaines linked for life the destinies of two of the finest looking and best young people in the country--Car. Williams and Lela Strom. The friends and relatives generally took part in the usual congratulations.

An elegant and beautiful dinner followed, at which everybody seemed to make haste slowly. It was not in our power to attend the reception the next day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, but I know it was a fitting wind-up of the enjoyable occasion.

The wedding was graced by such society landmarks as Mrs. Bales, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Dec. 14, 1885. B. TRUB.

Meeting Street Dots.
Mr. Goodrich, the Canvassing Agent for the Augusta, Edgely and Newberry narrow-gauge, is now working up this section for funds to carry out the great enterprise. He reports success in getting the people to subscribe liberally. Meeting Street will be an important point on the road. It is almost in a direct line between Edgely and Newberry, and would attract considerable local freight on the west side, which would go to other roads, and which the Edgely road would not pass east of Meeting Street. We hope the people will subscribe liberally and have the road at once.

Mr. Henry Forrest, of Mine Creek, on the way afternoon, led to the altar one of our most popular young ladies, Miss Carolina May. The happy couple departed on Wednesday morning for their future home at the Mine Creek neighborhood.

The Ladies' Aid Society will give an entertainment and oyster supper at the residence of Mr. M. H. Mims, during the holidays. The proceeds are to be appropriated to repairing Stevens Creek church.

Mr. W. T. Walton made this year, with two plows, 30 bales of cotton on 30 acres, and 300 bushels of corn. Mr. Walton considers this two-thirds of a crop.

Mr. T. S. Lewis has lately finished a mammoth barn, stable and crib combined, to store away feed for his several pleasure horses and droves of cattle, and furnish them comfortable shelter.

Paul Gray, horse-arrester for estate of S. W. Nicholson, dec'd., has brought in 17 horses and mules. He has them confined at Elmwood, putting on "the big bit."

All About Cusville and Cuss County, Ga.
ETHELBE, BARTOW CO., GA.
Dec. 17, 1885.

Dear Old Advertiser: I appreciate your weekly visits to this little burg, situated on a creek of the same name. At this place there is a large flouring mill, containing four sets of runners and a gin. This stream would afford water power enough to run a large factory.

Our County was called Cuss before the war, and then the Court House was located at Cusville. When Sherman came he burnt up Cusville. Then after the war the Court House was located at Cartersville, which now contains about 3,500 inhabitants. It is located on the W. & A. R. R., 45 miles N. W. of Atlanta. Cartersville supports two weekly papers and has a narrow gauge railroad, running to Cross Plains, Ala., which carries an immense amount of freight and is paying well. This county contains a population of 18,690, of which 6,271 are colored. Lands are productive and can be bought for from 50 cts. to $100 per acre. Corn sells at 50 cts. per bushel. This is the home of Bill Arrp, Sam Jones and W. H. Felton, ex member to Congress.

I take a deep interest in the welfare of old Edgely, as it is the home of my childhood. I heard a man of Cartersville relate an anecdote on an Edgely soldier in the Mexican war. He said in one of the battles the soldier from Edgely was noted for his expertness for dodging bullets, and his Captain reproved him for it. He said: "Captain, I am from Edgely, S. C., and if you had been raised there and had not learned to dodge bullets you would have long since been killed." Would it not be well for you to exercise a little more forbearance one towards another, and seek not to avenge yourselves one of another, for vengeance is mine sayeth the Lord of Hosts." E. H.

Give Pleasure to the Children.
And thereby bring peace and happiness to your own hearts. Looking to this end, no better place can be found to let them pay a visit than to G. P. Penn & Son's Christmas Palace--where Santa Claus reigns supreme and joy is unconfined.

Just received a fresh supply of Citron, Currants and Seedless Raisins, at LYNCH'S.

On Thursday, Dec. 31st, 1885, "Mary and her Little Lamb" will be raffled at the Drug Store of G. L. Penn & Son, and on New Year's morning of 1886 there will be at least one happy little heart in Edgely.

A Homestead in the Garden of Eden.
Dr. Bill Jennings says that if the Homestead had been of forenoon the days of our forefathers, he believes that old Mother Eve would have claimed a Homestead in the Garden of Eden and held it against all edicts and laws to the contrary.

To One and All!
To our subscribers, far and near, one and all, we wish a merry Christmas and happy New Year. May your homes be always bright and joyous, whether ours are or not, and may the blessed spirit of Him who gave us Christmas as an everlasting festival of peace and good will, encompass you and yours forever.
The White and Colored Schools.
Mr. Folk, the energetic and watchful Edgely Representative in the House, made a spirited and logical argument in support of Mr. Thompson's bill to separate the white schools and the colored schools respectively. Mr. Folk has consistently advocated this plan.--Register.
91 Turkeys and a 442 lb. Hog.
A highly esteemed subscriber writes us that: "A lady in the Dark Corner section of our County, whose undertaking industry is only equalled by her retiring modesty, has this year raised ninety-one turkeys, and on Friday last week had killed a hog of her own raising which weighed four hundred and forty-two (442) pounds net. This hog was fattened on waste vegetable, melons, kitchen slops and meal!"
Our Women in the War.
We acknowledge the receipt in book form of the whole of the stories of the experiences of Southern women in the war, which, 80 in number, were published in the Weekly News and Courier. A Compliment for Capt. B. R. Tillman.
At a meeting of the Upper St. George's Agricultural Club, on the 18th inst., the following preamble and resolutions were passed by a unanimous vote:
Knowing that the agriculturists of the State are being deprived, if not defrauded, of their legitimate dues and privileges, be it Resolved, That we tender to Capt. B. R. Tillman our sincere thanks for the able manner in which he has stated our grievances and advocated our rights.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Capt. B. R. Tillman and a copy to the News and Courier for publication.

At the home of the Holidays.
John R. Abney, Esq., of the New York bar is at home for the holidays. We observe no change in Col. Abney except the development of the two Everts wrinkles, and they are very faint and shadowy to be sure. These Everts wrinkles, as they are called among the legal fraternity in New York, indicate that the happy possessor has crossed over the "Pons Asinorum" of legal knowledge and is firmly and surely on the high road to fortune and to fame. Hence the great yearning among members of the bar for the Everts wrinkle.

He will make the appointments with the Auditor, and we bespeak for him the good will of our patrons. Mr. Gaines is authorized to collect and receipt for subscriptions, new and old.

Prizes Awarded.
At the Presbyterian Church, on last Sunday, Miss Lou Holson and Master Willie Seymour recited, much to their credit, and that of the school, the entire Shorter Catechism. The recitation was conducted by Rev. L. F. Beatty of the Methodist Church. A prize of five dollars was given to each. Little Alice Bellinger was then placed near the pulpit on an elevation, that she might be seen, and recited beautifully the Child's Catechism, entire. And she, too, richly deserved a prize.

John R. Abney, Esq., of the New York bar is at home for the holidays. We observe no change in Col. PRAYING FOR SHOES.
On a dark November morning
A lady walked slowly down
Through the twilight moon throughfare
On an ancient seaport town.
Of a winning and gracious beauty,
The face on her pure young face
Was soft as the gleam of an angel's dream
In the calm of a heavenly place.
Her eyes were fountains of pity,
And the sensitive mouth expressed
A longing to set the kind thoughts free
In music that filled her breast.
She met, by a bright shop-window,
An arching time and thim,
Who, with limbs that shook and a yearning
Was mistily gleaning in.
At the rows and varied clusters
Of slippers and shoes outspread,
Some, shimmering keen, but of sombre
sheen,
Some, purple and green and red,
His pale lips moved and murmured:
"But of what, she could not hear,
And out of his folded hands would fall
The round of a bitter tear.
"What troubles you, child?" she asked
him,
In a voice like the May-wind's sweet,
He turned and while pointing dutifully
To the unadorned bleeding feet,
"I was praying for shoes," he answered:
"Just as you pray for your last pair?"
"I was praying for God for a single pair,
The sharp stones hurt me so!"
She led him, in musical silence,
Through the archway to the open door,
And his hope grew bright, like a fairy
light,
That flickered and danced before!
And there he was washed and tended,
And his small brown feet were shod;
And he pondered there on his childish
prayer
And the marvelous answer of God.
Above them his keen gaze wandered,
How strangely from shop and shelf,
Till it is almost seemed that he loudly
prayed,
Of looking on God himself.
The lady bent over, and whispered:
"I was praying for shoes!"
He started, and all his soul flashed forth
In a gratitude swift and glad,
"Happy?----Oh! yes!----I am happy!"
Then wonder with reverence rife,
(His eyes aglow, and his voice sunk low)
"Please tell me! How you God's wife?"
"Paul Hamilton Hayne."
