That-The bulls' argument of a -10 per cent, shortage in the world's crop of wheat may have sufficient merit to offset financial pressure on the carriers of large stocks in sight in America, and wheat may follow the course of cotton which was apparentiy in a similar position about a year ago.

That-Vigorous selling of Octcber, November and January provisions may reduce the bull clique's nerve, and release their hold on values.

That-It is said 8 cents cash last year represented the money in every dollar's worth of business done, and 92 cents, represented the creditused. We believe there is no reason to think there is any less money now, but heing at a loss to estimate the depreciation in credit we cannot well predict future prices.

A naturalist's paper relates an interesting instance of a toad's cunning. A brood of chickens was fed with moistaned meal in saucers, and when the dough soured a little it attracted large numbers of flies. An observant toad had evidently noticed this, and every day toward evening he would make his appearance in the yurd, hop to a saucer, climb in- and - roll over. over until he was covered with meal, having done which he awaited developments. The flies, enticed by the smell, soon swarmed around the scheming batrechian, and whenever one passed within two inches or so of his nose his tongue darted out and the fly disappeared. The plan worked so well that the toad made a regular business of it.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is acknowledged as standing first among illustrated weekly periodicals in America. It occupies a place between that of the hurried daily paper and that of the less timely monthly magazine. It in-cludes both literature and news, and presents with equal force and felicity the real events of current history and the imaginative themes of fiction. On account of its very complete series of illustrations of the World's Fair, it will be not only the best guide to the great Exposition, but also its best souveniz. Every public event of gen-eral interest will be fully illustrated in its pages. Its contributions being from the best writers and artists in this country, it will continue to excel in literature, news, and illustrations, all other publications of its class.
