"Laugh, and the world laughs with you, Weep, and you weep alone."

A fire in Marion last week destroyed a warehouse and 300 bales of cotton.

The first bale of new cotton has been shipped to Houston, Texas, from Duval county in that State.

It is stated that the present crop of cotton will be produced on less borrowed money than any crop since the war.

It is rumored that the Legislature will be called together on the 1st of November and continue in session for two months.

If Senator Irby is guilty as charged, in the Laurens county school commissioner business, the picture is a very dark one.

Senator Irby has completely demolished Farley—smote him hip and thigh. There are other precincts, however, to be heard from.

One of the buildings on the World's Fair grounds was burned a few days ago. Over thirty firemen and guards lost their lives in the conflagration.

Judge Norton has granted a temporary injunction restraining the county dispenser of Greenville from continuing the dispensary until a hearing can be had.

The reunion of the United Confederate Veterans at Birmingham, Ala., having been postponed, the Richmond and Danville railroad has withdrawn the special rates advertised for that occasion.

Emperor William, of Germany, is seriously contemplating a visit to this country, taking in the Columbian Exposition. We would like to have him come down and try some of our Edgefield "dispense."

Judge Gary denied the petition of the Columbia people, asking that there should be no dispensary in that place, on the ground that he had no jurisdiction. Judge Gary's decision seems to meet with the approval of the best minds.

The Robert Porter Brewing Co. is said to have made two shipments of beer into the State, in violation of the dispensary law. The beer was sent from Charlotte to Greenville and to Charleston, and as only one keg was sent to each place it was shipped presumably to make a test case.

There will be a grand rally of the untrifled Democracy at Greenwood on the 29th instant, next Saturday week. Gov. Tillman, McLaurin, and Irby are booked for speeches on that occasion. This gathering is intended, we suppose, as a set-off to the meeting at that place a short time ago when Gens. Gordon and Butler made speeches.

Adjutant General Farley has completed his inspections, and is now making up his pay roll. He will send his checks to the different companies in the State very soon. This will be good news to the various military companies in the State. The number of men inspected this year is larger than ever before. There are 3,500 names on the rolls and $10,000 to be divided, which will give about $2.85 to each man.

Clemson College opened with 340 students, and daily arrivals are announced. The session will be continuous for ten months.

January and February will be the holiday months. The boys will rise at 6:30 a. m., and there will be something for them to do every hour in the day for six days of the seven.

At night, 10:30 precisely, an official presses an electric button, and lo, at once the boys are all exactly where Moses was when the candle went out.

A large number of convicts have been detailed from the penitentiary to make brick and get out rock for the building of the South Carolina Industrial and Winthrop Normal College at Rock Hill. Capt. Neal, the superintendent of the penitentiary, has been on the ground for some days arranging for stockades and getting things in shape for big work. The college, however, will be run in Columbia for at least one more session. In the twin institutions at Fort Hill and Rock Hill, South Carolina is getting far ahead of her sister States when we consider her size and wealth as compared with most of them.

Astronomers have discovered a new comet. For a few nights longer it can be seen in the western horizon, near the constellation called the Dipper.

Treasurer Walker, of the Manchester (Mass.) Mills, says unless there is a change in the next ten days, all the mills of Manchester will shut down.

The Georgia horticulturists hold their eighteenth annual meeting at Athens on the 2nd and 3rd of August, and South Carolina has no such organizations.

A strange disease resembling cholera has appeared at Raleigh, N. C. The persons attacked die in six or seven hours. There have been twelve deaths.

France and Siam are at war. The French marines have captured Forts Donthan and Tapham. Six of the French soldiers have been killed. The loss of the Siamese has been very heavy.

So few people attended the World's Fair on Sundays that hereafter the big exhibit will be closed on that day. Sunday opening proved a failure and was consequently abandoned.

Secretary Morton, of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., has cut off from the pay roll of his department, up to the last of May, 242 names, effecting a saving of $200,000 per annum.

The address delivered by President Craighhead on the opening of Clemson College exceeds by many degrees those usually delivered on such occasions. The trustees of the institution certainly made a wise selection.

At a birthday party in Greenville county last week, near Grier's station, Tom Tony cut Jim Fox with a pocket knife, severing his jugular vein and killing him instantly. Both men were substantial farmers.

Richard P. Roughton and Fred T. Rawlins, two prominent young men of Greenville, were fought a duel in the death of the late Mr. Roughton. The duel was fought in the square of that town. The result was that Roughton was killed and Rawlins was wounded.

Edmond and Danville had hauled a keg of beer to Greenville Sunday and T. C. Gower & Son hauled it from the depot on Monday to the office of C. J. Pride to whom it was shipped from Charlotte, N. C., by the Robert Porter Brewing Co. After remaining in Greenville all day with a piece of ice on it the contents of the keg disappeared. The whole thing was arranged to violate the dispensary law but no arrests have been made.

Secretary Carlisle is back at his post again in Washington getting ready for the extra session of Congress, which meets on the 7th of August. Oh, that extra session! It is fraught with much for the country and especially the Democracy which is now wholly in possession of all the reins of government, the first time for thirty-three years. The battle between free silver and anti free silver will be a battle royal with the probability that legislation, if there be any, will be a compromise and suit nobody.

Senator Butler, in a recent interview, thus defines his position: "I am inclined to think from what I know of the opinion of leading Democrats, men very high in council of the party, that this will be the way out of our financial difficulties. A repeal of the Sherman law, coupled with the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on State bank circulation, and a graduated income tax. If the Democratic party will do this, and readjust the tariff, we shall hear of no more financial troubles for twenty-five years."

Interesting to Property Owners. Santer Herald. On the first of this month, by direction of the South Eastern Tariff Association, what is known as the "Three-Fourths Value Clause," went into effect in all cities and towns of South Carolina except Charleston and Columbia. This clause was of force outside of the cities and towns before July 1st, but as fires occur frequently in the country it was then a matter of minor importance. As many persons do not know what this three-fourths value clause is, we give it there, and advise its careful perusal: "It is understood and agreed to be a condition of this insurance, that in the event of loss or damage by fire to the property insured under this policy, this company shall not be liable for an amount greater than three-fourths of the actual cash value of each item of property insured by this policy (not exceeding the amount insured on each such item) at the time immediately preceding such loss of damage; and in the event of additional insurance—if any is permitted hereon—then this company shall be liable for its proportion only of three-fourths such cash value of each item insured at the time of the fire, not exceeding the amount insured on each such item."

This simply means that the insured must carry at least one fourth of the risk. For instance suppose a house actually worth $1000 is insured for $750. In case of loss the face value of the policy ($750) is paid, or if the insurance was less than $750 say $500 then the face value of the policy $500 would be paid; but any amount of insurance above $750 would not be paid. If the house was insured for $800, $1000, or even $2000 (the value of the house being only $1,000), and the premium for such amount paid, yet in case of loss the company would not be liable for more than the three-fourths of the real value of the building or other property.

A new "Ironsafe Clause" has also been adopted and went into effect at the same time as the above. This is a matter of special interest to merchants. There has been an iron safe clause in force for some time which has been very important, but the last is much stronger. Speaking to a fire insurance agent on this subject very recently, he suggested that many merchants know very little about the importance of this clause and that they should be advised to read their policies over carefully as a violation of the iron safe clause might cause them in case of fire to lose their insurance money.

JIM TILLMAN TOMAHAWK. It is to Get in Its Work on Senator Irby in Great Shape. The Columbia Journal. CLARK'S HISTORY OF JULY 1893. The Journal represents the ground on Captain Clark's side of the normal and asked if he thought it was better to have a board of two members, and that the member who was at the same time supervisor of registration was not thereby disqualified.

Killing The Tigers. The following description of Gov. Tillman's first attempt to kill the blind tigers in Charleston, and there is said to be a regular monogerie of them in that city, is from the Charleston Sun of July 15th.

The Tillman law came down with a heavy hand in Charleston this morning. Shortly before 10 o'clock Chief Constable Gaillard, aided by a squad of constables among whom were two Charleston men, named Swan and Pepper, and two from the country named Jolley and Chapel, (the names of the balance could not be learned,) made their way to the Amerigo Vespucci saloon, on Market street, kept by V. Chicco, an Italian grocer and former saloon keeper.

The constables informed Chicco that they had come to seize his place and arrest him as keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold. They read to him the warrant and injunction and served both papers on him. Chicco was then arrested and taken to Trial Justice Milan's office, where he gave bond in a blank sum, W. K. Brown, the butcher signing the bond.

The constables were left in charge of the place on Market street under command of Chief Constable Gaillard. Under the law it is said that the State is empowered to seize everything in the place, even including the household effects. A couple of drays were secured, and work was at once commenced in clearing the store of its contents.

It was not long after the arrest was made until it became known that the State officers were at work. A large crowd gathered in front of the place, and with keen interest, watched the proceedings. In a few minutes the street was impassable but the crowd made no demonstration whatever. Two of the constables stood guard at the door, and permitted no one to pass unless permitted to do so by order of Chief Constable Gaillard.

One of the drays secured, backed up to the door, and work was commenced loading up with cases of vermicelli. The crowd on the sidewalk increased, and the men at work found it difficult to make their way from the door to the wagons. Police Officer No 27, happened along, and Chief Constable Gaillard called on him to keep the street clear for passage. The officer, however, found that he had his hands full, and as soon as he cleared the passage in one direction it filled up in the other. Then the crowd began to show its feelings concerning the constables, and all sorts of remarks and opinions were indulged in and given without reservation.

The constables stood immovable as the sphinx and paid not the slightest attention to what was being said. The crowd became bolder and cried "Outrage," "Countrymen," "Tillman's fools," and the like. One man got up and said: "We are living in the free United States of America and Russia isn't a marker to this."

Then the crowd cried out "Russia Russia!" They pressed about the door, and one man in the crowd evidently an Italian, saw Chicco's little daughter in the store crying, and stepped to the door to speak to her, instead, one of Chicco's assistants came to the door and began a conversation in Italian. At this Chief Constable Gaillard came to the door and taking the man by his coat lapel, pushed him out in the crowd, saying at the same time.

"I have told you people to keep away from here and I mean to see that you do it. Men, I was born and raised here in Charleston. I am doing my duty. I have asked you to keep back like gentlemen, if you don't do it I will have it done. I have sent to Mr. Martin to see if I can get a policeman, instead of a wooden man. This officer could keep this street clear if he only had time. If I was a policeman I could do it."

At this another of the constables said, "Men, we are just doing our duty. We are seeing that the law is obeyed, that's all. There is not a man in this crowd that I don't like, but I tell you we are not going to give back a single inch." At that moment a reporter asked Mr. Gaillard if he would permit him to see the papers for publication. To this Mr. Gaillard positively refused to assent. He refused to impart any information whatever.

When asked if he would say what the next arrests would be, he said: "I suppose you think I'm insane? You would think so, if I told you that wouldn't you?" Then a short conference was held between the constables and Chicco's attorney, Mr. Bissell, which resulted in the drays being unloaded and the vermicell being restored to the establishment.

WANTED TO RUN THE FORCE. The crowd that hung around the neighborhood, and frequently passed the door of Chicco's place, evidently worried the constables, and they approached Lieut. Mollenhauer, who was sitting on his horse near by and instructed him to clear the street. Lieut. Mollenhauer declined to be instructed in his duties, and let the constables know that, as long as the citizens did not obstruct the sidewalk, or actually interfere with them, he would not make any arrests.

Signed by Judge Imlar and dated July 14th, says, that the place 83 Market street has been complained of by A. W. Buchanan as a nuisance; that liquors, wines, etc., are openly sold there in defiance of law; and directs that the constables take charge at once, diligently search the premises, inventory all goods and chattels, and place them in the custody of the sheriff. The complaint is signed by A. W. Buchanan, Assistant Attorney General and W. St. J. Jervey, Solicitor 1st circuit.

It is authoritatively stated that another arrest and confiscation will be made this afternoon.

HAD THEIR PICTURES TAKEN. During the morning an enterprising photographer brought down a camera with an instantaneous shutter and made pictures of the constables as they appeared at the doorway. They didn't seem to relish this but the crowd cheerb as each one was caught on the fly.

COOK'S COTTON ROOT COMPOUND. A recent discovery by an old physician, known only to me, to grant her Letters of Administration of the estate and effects of John L. Addison. THESE ARE, THEREFORE, to cite and admonish all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said John L. THE KEELEY INSTITUTE. Twelve Years of Established Merit—A Warning.

To the Public: As a matter of justice to ourselves and to the reputation of Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Double Chloride of Gold Remedies, for the cure of the liquor, opium, morphine, and tobacco diseases, and Neurasthenia, we warn the public that these remedies are used by no institution or sanitarium in the United States except those established by our company, under the uniform name of "The Keeley Institute."

All others claiming to use Dr. Keeley's Remedies or formulae are frauds and impostors. The Keeley Institutes established in various parts of the United States now number ninety, with three in Europe, where the Keeley Treatment is administered and the Keeley Remedies sold. We, however, caution all to examine well and know that they are dealing with genuine representatives, authorized by us, before taking treatment or purchasing remedies.

The misleading establishments use the name of "Bi-Chloride of Gold," or similar titles. The newspapers often fail to discriminate sufficiently to know that they are imitators. This is a matter of public welfare, and hence this warning. Respectfully,

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO., CURTIS J. JUDD, Sec. and Treas. Dwight, Ill., Dec. 15, 1892. For literature or further information regarding the Keeley Treatment, address THE KEELEY INSTITUTE OF S. C., AT COLUMBIA.

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE. Endorsed By The S Government.

The efficacy of Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Double Chloride of Gold Remedies has been so publicly acknowledged and thoroughly recognized throughout the civilized world, that the recent endorsement by the Government removes all questions of doubt as to their virtue and genuineness. On February 13, 1892, General Wm. B. Franklin, President of the Board of Managers of the National Military Homes for Disabled Soldiers and Sailors, authorized a contract with The Leslie E. Keeley Co for the use of Dr. Keeley's Remedies in the seven National and twenty-one State Homes in the United States.

General Franklin, in a letter regarding this contract and Dr. Keeley's Remedies, speaks emphatically of "the great good the future has in store for the unfortunate victims of Alcoholism," giving personal thanks to Dr. Keeley for enabling the Board of Managers to treat veterans under their charge.

SSS. CURES MALARIAL POISON. LIFE HAD NO CHANCE. For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try SSS. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine gave me a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever. J. A. RICE, Ottawa, Kan.
