Mr. Boldridge's effort was a maserful one in which he expounded the differences between the kingdom of Christ, established within the hearts and souls of men, and struggling for, and we hear there the mere human organization of the church with its varied denominations and its frequent failures and mistakes. In clear and forcible language the speaker portrayed the beauties of this spiritual kingdom to which all who love Christ belong, and the obligation resting upon all to labor and pray for its extension until the glorious day when the saved of all the ages-Jew and Gentile, Scythian, Greek,
