LOCAL BREVITIES.

They're trottin' out the candidates—
they're fallin' into line;
The fight is to the finish, an' the boys are feelin' fine;
There's fifty-five from Billville, and sixty-seven from Brown;
They're after the persimmons, an'
they're shakin' of 'em down!

It's early in the battle, but the mules are out for bray;
The drums strike up a rattle, an' the bands begin to play!
The candidates are shoutin' an' a keepin' up the din,
An' its "glory hallelula!" an' the fastest horse'll win!

Easter Sunday falls on the 25th of March this year.

Mr. Sheppard Yeldell of Liberty Hill was in town on monday.

It will not be lopg before the old fashioned over-skirts will be the rage.

Don't spend too much money for fertilizers. Make your own compost.

Silver Back Mackerel, N. O. Syrup, etc,, etc. Come and see.
W. W. ADAMS.

Major S. S. Tompkins and wife of Columbia were in Edgefield a few days this week, Dispensary Inspector Yeldell was at Newberry last week, and in Edgefield to-day, Tuesday.

Auditor Haltiwanger has completed his rounds in the county and may now be found in his office.

Cotton Seed Meal, Acid Phosphate, and Kainit, get my prices before buying. W. W. ADAMS.

The Sumter Freeman has discovered that Alfred Tennyson was both a freetrader and an Allianceman.

Married, Jan. 23, 1894, by Rev. J. P. Mealing, Mr. Kyle, of Alabama, and Miss Lizzie Ryan, of Edgefield.

Dr. J. R. Beall has moved to Johnson with his family for the purpose of educating his children.

General John B. Gordon will deliver his famous lecture on the "last days of the Confederacy" in Augusta on next Friday night.

Henry Watterson says the Wilson bill is free trade powders in protection capsules. Ah, but Henri, the powders do the work.

Bishop Capers will preach in the Episcopal Church at this place on Sunday next. He will remain in Edgefield several days of next week.

Senator Butler, as promised in January, was to have been in Bennettsville, Marlboro county, on the first Monday in this month to speak on national politics. This was probably the first gun of the campaign.

There will be a public meeting of the Sunbeam band on Sunday afternoon next in the Baptist church at 3 o'clock, at which W. S. Jacobs and S. McGowan Simkins will deliver short addresses to the children. All denominations are invited to be present.

So far as we have been able to learn a less quantity of fertilizers has been bought by the farmers of Edgefield county this spring than for many years. It may be a case of necessity with them, that they are not able to buy, but we believe this necessity will be a blessing in the end for we are sure the indiscriminate use of commercial fertilizers has been a curse.

Lexington county has brought forward the name of J. Walter Mitchell, Esq., for Congress, to fill Judge Brawley's place. Mr. Mitchell is an Edgefield county man, and Edgefield county would like to see him win. The Lexington Dispatch thus speaks of him: "Judge Mitchell is an honest, courteous, and clever gentleman, a red hot reformer, in thorough sympathy with the Alliance demands, of broad and liberal views, and if elected would do credit to himself and his constituents in Congress, and we would be pleased to hear of his nomination."

We heard a Methodist preacher of this county in speaking of the dispensary law recently say this: "I prefer prohibition, but if the present dispensary law could remain on the statute book twenty-five years, there will not be a young man in South Carolina then who would have ever been in a barroom or a gambling saloon in all his life, unless he learned these things, and did these thing out of the State. This makes the law one of incalculable promise, and will bring down blessings from heaven on the people that uphoid and sustain it.

The Confederate veterans who met here on last monday were very few in number, in fact it was a very small affair. The impression has gone abroad throughout Edgefield county that this organization is to be used for political purposes and this impression, whether true or false has kept many very many from joining. We are assured by members that there is no political scheme or purpose involved by the old soldiers themselves, and any attempt to turn it in that direction will be promptly and sharply rebuked. We hope therefore, this thing won't drag any longer, and that every old soldier in the county will unite himself with this organization. It is a duty he owes to himself and posterity.

Married, Feb. 4th, 1894, by the Rev. J. P. Mealing, Mr. Abner Corley and Miss Dorma Reynolds, all of Edgefield county.

Mr. J. C. Whitlock, of the Vaucluse section, says that 1894 will, in his judgment, prove to be the hardest year ever known in this country.

Edgefield Boys at Furman.

W. D. Holland, an Edgefield student at Furman University, has been elected vice-president of the Adelphian Society, H. M. Garrett, Censor, and W. E. Lott, Sergeant-at-arms.

The Edgefield Rifles.

The Edgefield Rifles has been re-organized by the election of Maj. R. S. Anderson captain, and on next Thursday night there will be another meeting for the purpose of electing the other officers. It is confidently hoped that Capt. Anderson will soon restore its old time strength and efficiency. Let all the young men in our community put their shoulders to the wheel and help Capt. Anderson to build this old company up again.

Globe Acid.

The following will explain itself:

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 2.

DEAR SIR: We to-day received the Clemson College report of our Acid Phosphate for season of 1894:

	I.P. Acid.	A. P. Acid.	Pot-ash.	R. C. Val.
	1.46	13.47	2,58	16.05
1800 lbs. Globe Acid,		12.12	2.32	14.44
1600 " " "		10.77	2.06	13,77

So that 9 sacks of Globe Acid is worth more than 10 sacks of any other Acid which has a commercial value of less than 14.44.

And 8 sacks of Globe is worth more than 10 sacks of any other Acid which has a commercial value of less than 12.77.

These are our reasons for asking more for our Acid Phosphate than many companies.

Clemson gave us the highest analyses last season of any Acid made in the State, this season our analysis goes still higher.

JOHN H. HUIET,
Gen'l Agent.

Mr. Rainsford Cantelou.

Mr. Rainsford Cantelou died at his home in the suburbs of Edgefield on Saturday night last, aged about sixty-one years. For many weary months he had languished upon a bed of extreme illness, and no words can express the anguish of his dear ones as they witnessed sufferings which their tender ministrations could not relieve. After long and patient waiting for release his tired soul entered into rest. In the early dawn of an earthly Sabbath he passed into the joys of the eternal Sabbath with its calm and peace and full fruition of earthly hopes and longings. Mr. Cantelou was one of our most estimable citizens, a man of high, unblemished character, generous, hospitable, upright in heart and life, blameless in his relations as husband, father, friend, and citizen. He was a successful and prosperous man, a most influential member of our community, whose influence for good will long be felt. Years ago he joined our village Baptist Church and was a working Christian, frequently giving testimony in the congregation of his faith in, and love for Christ.

He leaves a widow, three sons, Messrs. James, Joseph H., and Bettis Cantelou, and one daughter, Miss Mary Cantelou. To these bereaved ones we tender our deepest sympathy in their heavy affliction.

"Down Went McGinty."

The following account of a little "scrap" Constable Tom Whittle got into in Charleston, we clip from the News and Courier:

The participants in the encounter were Constables Thomas Whittle, of Edgefield, and John Stroebel, of Barnwell. Constable Whittle is a man who is well known throughout the State, having been doorkeeper of the Senate for four years. Like the most of his fellow countrymen he is not slow to anger, and when he resents an insult he does so in a prompt and vigorous manner. Constable Streebel is a large man of a dark complexion, and physically looks like he ought to be more than a match for his opponent, but Counstable Whittle while not so tall, has a powerful frame and looks like he was capable of taking care of himself in any kind of a crowd.

The scrap happened about in this way: Constables Stroebel and Whittle were to go down to th wharf yesterday afternoon to seee the Clyde boat come in. Constable Whittle asked Constable Stroebel to wait for him, while he went up to his room in the Commercial House. When he came back he found Constable Stroeble had gone off and left him. It seems that Constable Whittle then went down to the wharf and there the music was not slow to begin. Constable Whittle went up to Constable Stroebel and asked him why he had not waited for him. Stroebel replied that he could not be waiting all day on Whittle.

The latter then told him that recently he (Stroebel) had on numerous occasions misrepresented him and tried to place him in a bad light. Stroebel denied it, but Whittle told him he was a liar and at the same time struck him a stinging blow over the head with his walking stick. Strorebel's hat went flying. He stepped off to pick it up and started back at Constable Whittle in a threatenidg manner. As Stroebel came up to him Constable Whittle gave him a straight one from the shoulder striking him in the chest. This ended the conflict.

From the best imformation that could be obtained it does not seem that Constable Stroebel was hankering after a fight. The set-to was lively while it lasted, but it appears that it was the Edgefield man's fight from the minute time was called until the round ended.

News from Franklin.

MR. EDITOR: Farmers hereabouts are all trying again to get ready to make some more cotton and less corn. Hard times is the universal cry, and of all classes of men the farmer should be the last man to make such a cry, for they ought to be and could be the most independent people in the world. With hog and hominy no man can perish. But when a man makes a hard bed he ought to lie on it, and cotton makes a hard bed.

Grip has left this section, and as a consequence the gee-haw is heard again from the plow-boy, and the axe and maul are heard in every direction. A good sign; and even Cuffee has made up his mind to work a little better than ever before.

Miss Sallie Reel, from the Duntonville section, is visiting in this vale of tears, and some of the boys will shed tears when she leaves. Miss Sallie is a charming young lady, and blessed will be the man who shares the trials and joys of life with her.

Miss Agnes Morgan has a flourishing school at Barr's Chapel, and is well liked by both patrons and pupils, She will teach a Bible class at Barr's Chapel and we look for much improvement both in church and school.

We see your next door neighbor still gives the dispensary law "hail Columbia."

We do not believe a word as to a constable striking a lady in Charleston. Why? Because South Carolina has no such men. Even the lowest of the low have too much respect for women to strike one.

The Big Paper man reminds me of an occurrence in Alabama away back in the good old days. A feller by the name of Johnson fell in love with a gal by the name of Sal. One Sunday Johnson went to see Sal, and Sal persuaded him to stay till after supper that they might have a little love chat afterwards. Well at the supper table, ma being a little unwell, Sal had to pour out the coffee and she motioned Johnson to sit on her left that he might not get burnt with the coffee pot. It made him very happy to be so near Sal, and while looking all around to see if everybody was as happy as he was a big black cow bug dropped into his cup of coffee. Not seeing the bug when it fell in the cup he was puzzled to know how it got there, but concluded that Sal put it there to try his love, thinking that if he drank the coffee with the bug in it his love would be true. He would look at the bug and then look at Sal, and at last concluded that rather than hurt Sal's feelings he would shut his eyes and go it blind and drink coffee, bug and all, and so he did. This we suppose is the way with the Big Paper. Rather than lose the big pay received for harping on Tillman and the dispensary he shuts his eyes and swallows down the greatest curse ever known to man, the barrooms. We are still for Tillman and the dispensary.

Happenings at Parksville.

MR. EDITOR: At 10 o'clock Sunday morning we had, as usual, Sunday-school at the Baptist Church, with a large attendance and interest still increasing. At 11 o'clock Rev. G. W. Bussey preached an excellent sermon from 2nd Cor. 5-20:

"Now then we are ambassadors for Christ as though God did beseech you by us: We pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God."

He divided the text into four heads. First, what is an ambassador. Second, what is the duty of an ambassador. Third, the commission of an ambassador. Mr. Bussey is remarkable for his depth of thought and clearness.

In the afternoon we had our regular semi-monthly Bible society the subject Faith. Nothing is so improving to the young as these meetings.

Miss Molona Parks, daughter of Hon. W. R. Parks, worshiped at the Parksville Baptist Church last Sunday.

Rev. W. A. Wilkes, pastor of the Methodist Church, organized a Sunday Sunday School at his Church on last Sunday. He is proving himself a most excellent man and model pastor.

Miss Laura Dorn, niece of our worthy townsman Mr. L. F. Dorn, has been on a visit here for sometime, but will return to her home in a few days. There will be weeping among the boys.

Rev. G. H. Burton, of McCormick, was in town on Monday last, the guest of Mr. Dorn.

Miss Alice Scott, one of Barnwell's brightest and loveliest daughters, is on a visit to relatives and friends of our town.

Our town is not slighted by agents and drummers. Not more than a hundred pass to and fro every day, and we are on a boom judging from the number of "grip-sacks" that go up and down our streets.

The interest in our literary society is wonderful, old and young attend. There have been several new features introduced of late, much to the amusement and edification of those who attend.

The sad news comes to our town of the death of Mrs. W. A. Cartledge, of Modoc. Our town extends deepest sympathies to the bereft husband and children.

Red Hill Items.

MR. EDITOR: The winters chilling breeze has changed our spring like weather into winter at last and we are once more reminded of the true situation, that we are in the midst of winter. Many of the little fruit buds were being decoyed from their hiding places, but we trust that the cold winds will again make them seek their winter quarters to come forth in due time with a bountiful supply of fruit to help lighten the burdens that are now so very oppressive. January, as is usually the case, was taken up in "trying to get straight." Very little plantation work has been done and the "hard times" keep the planters from making improvements in buildings, except from actual necessity.

The grain crops in this and other sections of the county, over which the writer has been, are not as flourishing as they should be, judging from the mildness of the winter, yet the stands are perfect, and with no further hindrance the promises are good for a bountiful yield.

The guano craze is not so great among the farmers of the west side as in years past, and some seem indifferent as to buying at all. Yet farmers are somewhat like sheep, when one jumps the fence they all follow, believing the pastures are greener on the other side.

The free schools are upon us and every one wants a school located at his spring, and it is generally allowed to keep down "hard feelings." The little pupil who learned to spell a little last year will learn about the same this term and be ready to begin at the same old place next term. Our representatives could build for themselves a monument as lasting as the rocks of Gibraltar by solving the school question and devising some plan by which the schools could be centralized and continued for five or six months or longer each year. Will not some of our prospective candidates give the ball a start? Charity begins at home and we should look to the welfare of those who are to rule us in the years to come, and no law could be a greater blessing than placing in reach of the masses of the people a good free school.

Death has again invaded the homes of the Cartledge family. This time claiming as its victim Mary Mathis, the beloved wife of Mr. W. A. Cartledge, of Modoc. Husband, four daughters, and two sons are left to mourn her departure.

Collcting Railroad Taxes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.

The absence of a law making the taxes due from railways a first lien on their earnings the propose of a bill to which some consideration was given this morning by the House Judiciary Committee. The bill provides a way by which State, county and municipal taxes due from railways in the hands or recivers may be paid. It was represented to the committee that a number of Southern railways are in the hands of receivers and that difficulties are experienced in collecting the taxes. The bill was discussed at some length but the committee adjourned before taking action upon it.

Sorry Spectacle.

Charleston is making a sorry spectacle of herself in going to war in support of the lawless character of the city, who would annul the satutes of the state. Charleston has so long ruled this state by a wise judicious cause that she may now think she can do the same thing by force, but when a great city like Charleston alline herself with the worst element of the town as against the legal and recognized civil authority of the state she will find the error of her way.

If Charleston is, however, seeking for Tillman's re-election for a third term, then she is pursuing the proper course. The law will be enforced even if it takes Tillman to enforce it. There is just no use of talking about the Charleston liquor mob ruling South Carolina.

This newspaper would sooner be ruled by any lawful authority than by a liquor mob, even if that mob was supported by the daily newspapers of the State.—Press and Banner.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.
A DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPER.

What THE TIMES is:

A high-class newspaper for the city reader and for the country home; for the merchant, the professional man, the financier, the politician, the teacher, the farmer, and the mechanic—for every American who would be promptly and truthfully told what the people of this world are doing; for women and for young folks, interested in household affairs, in new books and old, in art, science, religion, and education, in the rivalries of amateur sports, in society, and in all the lighter goings-on and wholesome gossip of the day. It is a full, clean, and complete newspaper, conducted with intelligence for intelligent people.

What THE TIMES believes in:

Federal taxation imposed in the interest of the Government and of the whole people, not for the restriction of trade and the benefit of the few; an honest dollar that the hand of toil may receive without loss and pay over without shame; a liberal expenditure for pensions to veterans who need and deserve them, and to no others; the Democratic party is a better instrumentality of popular government than the Republican; and in keeping that party true its alms under sound leadership.

The financial page of THE TIMES is a capital manual for investors, for bankers, and the officers and trustees of savings banks, trust companies, insurance companies, railway earnings, stock and bond quotations, interest and dividend notices, the organization of new companies, and all financial news reports are promptly and accurately printed.

Note the excellence of THE TIMES in these departments:

Shoes. Shoes. Shoes.

This is the season that tests the quality of Shoes. If they are made from GOOD material, solid inner soles, and well oiled uppers they will stand. If paper and "composition" go to "their make up" it is impossible to have satisfaction in the wear, and your money is worse than wasted in purchasing "shoddy" goods.

We are now well equipped to meet the demand

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY is beyond all question the leading journal in America, in its splendid illustrations, in its corps of distinguished contributors, and in its vast army of readers. In special lines, it draws on the highest order of talent, the men best fitted by position and training to treat the leading topics of the day. In fiction, the most popular story-writers contribute to its columns. Superb drawings by the foremast artists illustrate its special articles, its stories, and every notable event of public interest: it contains portraits of the distinguished men and women who are making the history of the time, while special attention is given to the Army and Navy, Amateur Sport, and Music and the Drama, by distinguished experts. In a word, HARPER'S WEEKLY combines the news features of the daily paper and the artistic and literary qualities of the magazine with the solid critical character of the review.

TOWN TOPICS,
The Journal of Society,
(32 PAGES.) NEW YORK. (THURSDAY.)

Is universally recognized as the most complete weekly journal in the world.

Its "Saunterings" columns are inimitable. Its society news, especially of the doings of the 400 of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and all over the world, is unequalled by any newspaper. Its Financial Department is authority with all bankers and brokers. Its "Literary Show"—notes on current literature—is by the cleverest of reviewers. Its "Field and Afloat" makes it the most interesting paper for all lovers of sport—yachting, football, rowing, shooting, fishing, etc. Its "On the Turf" excels all other racing notes. Its burlesques, poems and jokes are the cleverest. Its stories are by the best writers—among them Amélie Rives, F. Marion Crawford, Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Fawcett, Gilbert Parker, Mary E. Hawker ("Lanoo Valconer"), Barry Pain, Paul Bourget, Rudyard Kipling, Ambrose Bierce, etc., etc., and are, even if a trifle risqué, yet always clever, bright and pretty, without coarseness or anything to offend the most refined and moral woman. In addition to all this there is each week a supplement, portrait, in colors, of some man eminent in his walk of life.

Tales From Town Topics

Quarterly, first day of March, June, September, December; 256 pages; 12mo. Contains in each number, in addition to short stories, poems, burlesques, etc., from the old issues of TOWN TOPICS, a complete, original prize story of 120 to 150 pages.

No one who enjoys the highest class of fiction, and would be au courant with all that pertains to good society, can afford to be without TOWN TOPICS every week. There is so much interesting reading in it and in the "Tales," that a club subscription to both will supply any family with abundant reading of the most entertaining character all the year.

RATES:

Town Topics per annum, $4.00. A trial subscription for three months, $1.00, and a specimen copy of "Tales" Free.

Tales From Town Topics, per number, 50 cents. Per annum, $2.00.
