Many instances are recorded orchards and vineyards have failed to produce fruit until bees were brought into the neighborhood. All kinds of fruit will yield much larger crops of more perfect fruit in localities where there are bees than where there are no bees kept, and some kinds, such as strawberries, plums, and cherries, will hardly bear without the presence of bees.

Freedom of the City.

He'll do. So long as Jake stays with us, or any of his kith or kin, the Haltiwangers will have the freedom of the Citizens Meeting.

The citizens of our town are reuested to meet in the court house on Thursday of this week at 5 p. m., The object of this meeting is to discuss the matter of defending a suit against Pickens township for $13,000, the National Bank of Augusta being plaintiff and the holder of bonds said to have been voted by Pickens Township to aid in building the old man Susongs road, that was never built.

Nine Plus One.

Marion L. Wheeler of Saluda County as the happy father of nine boys and one ririal born in Edgefield county. Mr. Wheeler is yet a young man, only about forty years of age, find made this year nineteen hundred gallons of sugar cane syrup. Reader, go thou and do likewise. The conjunction of these two items, of children and sorghum. may not appear to be relevant, but it is, all the same.

Eating Mules and Horses.

If you do not learn to ride the bicycle this year, you never will, the why is that something else will supersede this vehicle in public favor, a horse-less three wheeled carriage for in-stance, tiny little things that will run five miles with a pint of kerosene as motive power. And when that time arrives what will we do with the horses and mules, eat em? Yes, eat 'em, in fact we have been eating 'em for the past twenty years as canned roast beef.

Wheat vs. Oats. The wheat crop is good in Edgefield county but the oat crop is very poor. This reminds us of the statement we have seen published that wheat as a forage crop has superseded oats and even timothy hay in some sections. A livery stable man from Kentucky, in our town last week, remarked, that in his country farmers had in many instances given up other kinds of forage and hay for wheat and that it, wheat, was considered even better than timothy, the king of hay crops. He said the wheat is cut when in the milk and cured and baled. Some of our best farmers agree in this estimate of wheat for bay and will try it as such the coming season. Mr. Chris, Williams of our suburbs, has experimented already in this line and is enthusiastic for wheat as against oats for a forage prop, and Chris. knows a good thing when he sees it and sees it as soon as any farmer in Ebgefield county.

If your best girl refuses you, don't be disheartened. Get a new Buggy and Harners of Ramsey & Bland, and try again—with some other girl.

The turning point in a man's career is somewhere near the moment of his deciding to deal thereafter with Ram-
