

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

"You shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of thorns. You shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

DEMOCRATIC TICKET,
FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
ARTHUR SEWALL, OF MAINE.

Bryan's course through the West was one grand triumph.
A Free-silver daily newspaper will shortly be started in Chicago.

Bryan and McKinley are both remarkable fine looking men so that whether Democracy or Republicanism triumph we shall have a handsome president in the White House.

According to the New York Times Bryan made as big a "bust" in New York as Tillman did in Chicago, and Tillman was there to enjoy it, too. But you can't put any dependence in the statements of anti papers. If you want the truth you must go to a reform paper like the ADVERTISER.

The Spartanburg Herald editorially says: "A citizen of this State in New York recently floating some bonds. There in a broker's office he chanced to meet Mr. Colin Rhind, of Augusta, Ga. At the risk of seeming impertinent the South Carolinian asked Mr. Rhind how much Tillman and Evans did get. Rhind replied promptly that 'Tillman didn't get a cent. John Gary Evans has already gotten TWELVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.' He has not gotten all that he expects, but the exact amount yet to come has not been determined."

The meeting of the State candidates at Union Monday was a tame affair with one exception. Duncan was more severe and aggressive in his attacks on the pure and immaculate Evans, the man without any sense of shame and without indignation when reproached. Duncan wrote on a slip of paper words to this effect: "If Nixon says that I told him that Tillman lined his pockets with rebate money, he is a liar." This paper he read to Evans and flaunted in his face and dared him to sign his name to it. Evans had been denying it and saying he was a lie, but he was afraid to sign his name to the statement.—EX.

Mr. Mixson Should Explain.
Editor Register: I have always been a Reformer and I am ready to do my duty in this line now. I am ready to vote for the man I think would represent my party best, but I am not willing to vote for any man who has the least stain upon him, or the appearance of it. I owe to my family and my country first duty, and a duty that calls for my best manhood. We have plenty of men in the Reform party who are the best men in the State, and who would lose their right arm before they would vote for a man who has a hurtful charge against him, and will not press parties who are in possession of facts to come out with them. I am ready to vote to-day for Governor Evans if he would force Mr. Mixson to say if all of the charges made by Mr. Duncan are false—he owes his to us. Mr. Mixson, who is from our country, owes us more. He is from among us; he has no more right to hold evidence that belongs to the people than he has to hold money in public trust; neither has he any right to hold to his office and hide crime if there is any crime. He should either turn over to the people the office that belongs to them or the evidence. I call upon him to set us right, and say if any of the charges made by Mr. Duncan in reference to rebates are true. Mr. Mixson must come down with the facts.

A Startling Disclosure.
A CHARGE MADE AGAINST GOV. EVANS WHICH HE DENIES.
BUT INCIDENTALLY FURNISHES OTHER GROUND FOR BELIEVING THAT CHARLESTON'S VOTE IS FOR SALE TO A RESPONSIBLE BIDDER FILTHY POLITICS.

Since the campaign began, newspaper correspondents who have been going around with the aggregation have heard a variety of more or less startling reports. In many instances they have been assured that some competent witness would present himself at an opportune moment to present facts in such shape as to exclude the possibility of successful denial or evasion. But this evidence, whether it did not exist, or because a disrag was doing the part of a backbone for the witnesses, or that the disease known as moral cowardice has become alarmingly epidemic in South Carolina, these confirmations have failed to materialize.

The newspaper correspondents have been furnished with the following statement of alleged facts. For one of the three causes given above I do not expect a confirmation from the witnesses named—it would be against precedent. Here is the statement:

A DEAL ALLEGED.
"On Saturday night of the Marion meeting, Governor Evans returned home, arriving in Columbia about 10, and went directly to the mansion, where, at 11 o'clock, he was joined by a delegation of five German citizens of Charleston, viz: Wehman, Kroeg, Roesler, and Stelling—the fifth, don't know. This committee remained with him till 2 o'clock and took the early morning train back to Charleston. They went to Columbia on a written invitation from the governor, who made this proposition: 'You organize a German club in the city of Charleston of 500 members who will vote for me for the United States Senate. I will guarantee the Germans of Charleston private dispensaries. In evidence of this Stelling has been canvassing the city in that interest, and none of these gentlemen will deny these facts, as it is too well known in the city to admit of a denial. Wehman, particularly, will admit it all.'

GOV. EVANS' DENIAL.
Gov. Evans was given an opportunity to affirm or deny this report simultaneously with its publication. He said: "That is a lie. I have not seen those men since the opening of the campaign. They did come to see me some days before the campaign opened and met me at my office—they never were at my house. They asked me what I was going to do about Charleston. I told them—as I said at the time of putting off the metropolitan police—that if by that method I was unable to enforce the law, I would take it off and recommend to the legislature some special law for Charleston. It would be foolish to continue attempting to enforce the law with tempting machinery if it is impossible to do so."

If he had desired to trade for Charleston's votes, said the governor, he would have done so long ago, with men who offered to deliver the goods and were able to do so—and the governor named two old line Charleston ringsters who had made him a proposition to deal.

NEEDS OVERHAULING.
So it seems that whether or not Charleston has been recently bought or sold, her votes have been on the market—offered by her bosses for a stated consideration, just as the suffrage of ignorant laborers, who can hardly make their wishes intelligible in English, are disposed of by their foremen in the north, or as the votes of communities of negroes used to be sold by their leaders to the highest bidders in Radical days.

It is certainly time for a new deal in Charleston.

Mausen's Farthest North.
A MOST DARING OF EXPLOITS ENDS IN SAFETY.

Vardo, Norway, Aug. 13—Dr. Nansen, the Arctic explorer, arrived here to-day. He says that his expedition attained one of its objects in traversing the polar sea to a point northward of the New Siberian Islands, named to latitude 86 degrees 14 minutes north. No land was sighted north of latitude 82 degrees. After reaching the parallel of 86.14 the expedition went south to Franz Joseph land, where it spent the winter, the members subsisting on bears' flesh and blubbers. Dr. Nansen arrived here on the steamer Windward, which is conveying provisions to the Jackson-Harmworth expedition. The explorer is perfectly well. The farm is expected to arrive at Vardo or Bergen in a short time. A was well aboard of her when Dr. Nansen left her.

Cures Nervous Troubles and Indigestion.
Mr. W. T. Nelson, president of the Second National Bank, of Jackson, Tenn. says: "For indigestion and nervous trouble, I would rather give up any remedy than King's Royal Germaner. As a nerve tranquilizer and restorative, it is all that can be desired. It is not a narcotic in any sense, but produces the happiest effects upon the disordered nervous system. I consider it an invaluable remedy, and have for several years recommended it to my friends."

CORRESPONDENCE
Saluda County.
A Rich Rare and Rare Sketch of Saluda County Candidates, by one Whom Everybody Likes to Read After.

While we see in the prints, accounts of gyrations of our State campaigners from ex-school teacher, ex-farmer, ex-pelled representative Duncan to Walton Whitman, the kicked out divine, I will attempt to divert your readers' minds by telling the story of Saluda's campaign.

The Senatorial aspirants—Suddath, Edwards, and Allen—are having so far a low feast. They are all fine, capable men—men of principle—men whose reputations are already fixed and who can't afford to belittle and backbite. For the House, there is not such a community of feeling. We see several whose platforms are at wide variance. Joe Caughman talks of rotten dispensary liquor (with qualifications of course), of Confederate homes, of plenty gladdening the land like the "voices of birds in spring." Jack Edwards, the historian of Saluda county, tells of the good old days of yore, of our statesmen of years ago, of our warriors and heroes who have written Saluda's military history in their blood. He also gives his views on less sentimental questions, such as working convicts on roads and affairs of practical statecraft. Mr. Lester simply tells the people, he is a plain farmer and will serve his people with the same fidelity that has always characterized his life as a citizen.

Mr. Seigler, the finest looking man in the field, also claims no oratorical honors, but points to a substantial record as a citizen and business man. Well of course Banks Caughman is the same jolly good fellow he has always been and never fails to entertain his audience on issues, county, or national. As was prophesied in your columns some time ago by your humble servant, the fight for Superintendent of Education is the fight. Instead of Sherod Wightman and Sample being at loggerheads, it is bright, witty, entertaining Olin Sawyer and Sample. Olin is a little hustler—a young man that always comes to the point. Mr. Sample likes to tease ambitious young fellows, but the teasing would not work on Olin, not a bit of it. So Mr. Sample got a currycomb and attempted to curry but he soon found he was dealing with a "critter" that kicked like thunder. So they've been having it—Sample expatiating on the folly of youth and the "wisdom" of "forty year old men," and Olin has been meeting every thrust with a skillfulness of repartee that would do credit to a trained lawyer, of course, I don't know who started this horse-play but I do know the crowd always gather up to the stand when they are speaking. But I must leave out Mr. Wightman. He hasn't as yet hitched with a man, but his earnest eloquence is always heard and his good humor canvass is appreciated by all. Mr. Booser also is making speeches of a high order and his sound business views on affairs always impress the people. Mr. Bledsoe is a very fine young man and is making a campaign that no man can expect to.

Mr. Henry Hare of sunny Delmar, a young man of fine business capacity is the only one of the candidates for Auditor that I have seen on the stump. Messrs. Rush-ton, Crouch, Goff and others are on the alert for voters also, and are catching 'em.

For clerk, Mr. Henry Unger is making some fine speeches. He takes well with everybody. Without disrespect to any man, I say that Ben Crouch is the best orator in Saluda county, all things considered. Ben is also a sterner when it comes to getting votes. "Doc" Huiet is also putting in some solid work. Mr. Josh Edwards, Mr. Villard, and Judge Mobley are men hard to pass by.

This is a kind of rough and tumble sketch of the men who want office, as they have appeared before the people. Of course the men running for sheriff and coroner do not speak, although Scratch Whittle did make an hour's speech at Watson's store. May Minerva give us the wisdom to select wisely and well from our forty-five.

Col. John Terry on Pensions, Politics, and Lickskillet.

Mr. Editor: In your issue of the 29th July the following appeared: "Col. John Terry, of Lickskillet, says that he believes that there has been roguishness also in the distribution of the pension money. Last year he received $22; this year he gets only $19.40, although the appropriation for this year is double that of last year. The colonel perhaps does not know that there are more than twice as many pensioners as ever before."

Although we have a Kingdom in Pan Handle, we have no King but every man totes his own skillet.
To return to Lickskillet, I would't live in that country for all the Kings horses and all the Kings men, I do not object to the name but to the inhabitants thereof.
A word as to politics: All the horses are silver horses now and until they get to their desks at Washington. These desks they will find full of gold and a note inside to this effect: "All this is for you! Vote as 'your conscience dictates.' Oh that Richard were himself again for a pair of minutes."
JOHN TERRY,
of the "Pan Handle."

OPPOSING GREENWOOD.
The New County Question Discussed in its Various Aspects.

Mr. Editor: However much the candidates may try to down the new county question it is a live issue to-day with our people. It is all bosh to attempt to stave it off by remarking that the constitution leaves the question with the voters of new counties when this very fact arouses those people who really see and need the convictions of smaller counties to be on guard against every effort that would disregard their convenience and a proper geographical division in making new counties in order to favor some city desiring to concentrate more of the wealth of the country sections. It is entirely against the farm communities to aid in building very large cities at a distance to the neglect of patronizing and building more towns in or near their own sections. Patriotism and common sense demand that all the people of old Edgefield county should aid in demanding that no favoritism be shown Greenwood or other city, but that such division of the old counties be made as will give convenience to the largest number of all their departing brethren and new county associates. These men do not regret leaving past county association, but they recognize the importance of curtailing all expenses made necessary by large counties, they appreciate the many advantages of smaller counties as giving greater convenience, greater exercise of sovereignty by the people, closer connection with their officials, more charitable administration of laws against delinquents, an opportunity for better operation of public school laws and general scrutiny of the operation of road laws without expense and other advantages not now necessary to mention.

Let any one take a good state map having the townships &c., well defined and it will be seen that to give Greenwood the county seat of a new county would be nothing but favoritism totally disregarding the convenience to the people of West side of Edgefield and lower portion of Abbeville county. It will be seen that McCormick and Ninety-Six are well located for county seats, of two new counties, being thirty miles apart and each twenty-five miles from Abbeville and thirty from Edgefield; while Greenwood is only thirteen or fourteen miles from Abbeville in a line from McCormick, Twenty miles located at the crossings of two railroads and favored with many resources for a fine city does not need the aid of taxpayers establishing a county government there. The motto of farmers in establishing new counties should be first the convenience of all, then the use of their taxes through county government where aid is to be given for aid to those towns nearest their homes, and leaving the old counties in the best possible shape relative to the lowest taxation &c. If Greenwood be given part of Edgefield instead of McCormick, the taxes in Edgefield will increase rather than diminish for the latter would divide the heavy bridge expense with Edgefield while Greenwood would take off a valuable section in which there is not much of such expenses.

Let the position on this question of equitable division instead of any favoritism towards city influence and personal desire be considered along with other merits the candidate may possess. Let no one who proclaims himself an enemy to monopoly presume to monopolize legislative honors, for the people would encourage at all times healthy ambitions and aspirations of the largest number of equally deserving men both young and old. If a man does not develop into some distinguished legislator why should he be asked for more than two terms in the same house of the State General Assembly, and thus be favored at the expense of other men's aspirations, especially as this preference gives him a greater standing in even business affairs. The argument that you must recede because he has experience is extremely fallacious in this free country, for that carried out would mean holding the same office for life. Those having experience admit that not much additional law-making is needed, then why not let others have an opportunity to try their metal.

Let those sections desiring to become parts of new counties have representation on the ticket this time but it is not good policy for Edgefield to permit them sending more legislators than consistent with the ambition an material interests of her remaining sons.

Again, let candidates above the horizon of selfishness and aid the people in shaping new counties to the very best interest of all.

SCOTT GRAY OF CO. "A."

Bryan and Silver.
The National Campaign now begun will be of more absorbing interest than any since 1876. The contest will extend to every State North and West, and Massachusetts will be as debatable ground as Michigan. The Democratic standard-bearer, William J. Bryan, will take the flag of Free Silver into the very citadels of Gold, and from first to last the struggle will be sensational. There will not be a dull week from now until November. The State is the leading South Carolina Newspaper supporting the National Democratic Ticket and the National Democratic Platform. It is the admitted champion of the great issue of Bimetallism, upon which the battle will be fought. It has always been a good newspaper, and will be better than ever during this struggle. It will keep the people of South Carolina closely informed of the progress and prospects of the campaign. No Democrat seeking Democratic news and doctrine can afford to be without it.

CAMPAIGN RATES.
To place it within the reach of everybody, the Daily State will be sent from this time until Nov. 10 to any address for $1.75, and The Semi-Weekly State for 40 cents. The reduction is great, and to get the full advantage of its subscriptions, with the cash, should be sent at once. Address,
