It is not the people who shine in society, but the people who brighten up the back parlor; not the people who are charming when they are out, but the people who are charming when they are in, that are good to live with.

The two little children of Mr. Horace Parker, who were playing around the hay press on their father's place, near Crockettville, were struck by the door of the press and severely hurt. Dr. S. F. Ray was immediately sent for, and as we go to press he is doing all that can be done for the dear little ones—Hampton Guardian.

Rev. M. M. Brabham and family will leave Edgefield next week for their home within half a mile of Ninety-Six. Mr. Brabham's continued ill health makes it necessary for him to rest from preaching for a time. Mr. Brabham and his family have many warm friends here who give them up with regret.

Mr. William E. Hart will be ordained as a Baptist preacher at Red Oak Grove next Sunday. Rev. P. P. Blalock and Dr. L. E. Gwaltney of our town, with other ministers that we know not of, will conduct the services on this interesting occasion.

Marshal S. T. Soury tells us that he himself killed the hog that had been bitten by a mad cat and with its assistance had two others buried him in a deep hole in the ground. Therefore, it is evident that nobody has eaten of the said swine supposed to have been on the high road to hydrophobia. Let us have peace.

The "Virginia House" corner of Washington and Broad Sts., is now under new management, and has been entirely refitted throughout and converted into one of the most comfortable homelike hotels that has ever been in Augusta. The table, rooms, and attention extended to guests cannot be surpassed by any hotel in the city and the rates are much more reasonable.

In another column will be found a notice from County Supervisor White, calling on all persons holding claims against the County of Edgefield as it stood before Saluda was cut off, to present their said claims "in" or "on" or "before" Monday the 2nd December. On the date above named a full settlement will also be made between Edgefield and Saluda counties. Those who will "swarm to herself" on that day and go to her own new gum.

B. P. Chatfield, of Aiken, the republican candidate against Col. Talbert in the second district, has filed a notice of protest, which protest may go up to the House of Representatives for final settlement. Of course, there is no merit in it on the side of Chatfield.

Cherry cider at L. E. Jackson's—no whiskey in it.

It is so easy now to give an official bond for the faithful discharge of duty through some one of the various Security and Fidelity assurance companies that no officer should think of anything. It is true such bonds cost something but when given they are worth the money they call for, unlike those signed by individuals which are not worth dollars, may be to-day and not a cent to-morrow. Besides, bonds signed by individuals are always contested in case of defaultation while those given by these companies are paid promptly. We are glad to know that all our newly elected county officers will give such bonds.

Apple cider at L. E. Jackson's, sweet and refreshing—no alcohol in it.

Outfoxes Fox. Jeweller Fox has this season surpassed himself or anything he has ever done in his line of goods he carries. See change in his advertisement and above all see his store and goods, a perfect Lalla Rookh bower of roses and bliss and enchantment to the every eye that gazes upon it. Besides, bonds signed by individuals are always contested in case of defaultation while those given by these companies are paid promptly. We are glad to know that all our newly elected county officers will give such bonds.

Go to Dr. W. B. Pann's for fresh turnip seed.

Read It All. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of Hanses & Hild in this week's issue of the Advertiser. These gentlemen have been doing business in our town and county for a long time, as time goes, and their reputation for straight dealing, good goods, and reasonable prices has extended far beyond the limits of Edgefield and Saluda counties. Newberry, Lexington, and Aiken people come to Edgefield or Johnston to buy of them, and day by day their patronage becomes more extensive and wide spread, a tribute not only to their own worth but to the merit of the articles they handle. If you need anything in their line, do not let advertisements of low priced stuff from Augusta or other places lead you from calling to see them. You will be astonished to find how much you can buy for so little right here in Edgefield.

IN MEMORY OF THOMAS THURMOND.

The following resolutions were offered and adopted in the Moore Road Sunday School, Nov. 15th, 1896:

WHEREAS, Almighty God has seen fit, in His wise providence, to remove from among us in the bloom of youth and young manhood, our much beloved and highly esteemed friend THOMAS THURMOND, proficient in business and a highly respected gentleman.

Resolved 1st, That we greatly deplore the loss to our Sunday School and community from which he will be sadly missed.

2nd, That we commend to the care of our heavenly father his bereaved mother, brother, and sisters.

3rd, That our united prayers be that his bereaved mother and other loved ones be comforted in the hope that he has entered a higher mission to fill with no less satisfaction than he brought with them here on earth.

4th, That a copy of these resolutions be handed to the family and another be sent to the county papers for publication, also that we inscribe a page in our minutes to his memory.

WEEKLY THE MONTHLY Outlook Published every Saturday 13 Astor Place New York.

The Outlook will be in 1897, as it has been during each of its twenty-seven years, a History of Our Own Times. In its various editorial departments The Outlook gives a compact review of the world's progress; it follows with care all the important philanthropic and industrial movements of the day; has a complete department of religious news; devotes much space to the interests of the home; reviews current literature; furnishes cheerful table-talk about men and things; and, in short, aims to give fresh information, original observation, and reasonable entertainment.

Beginning with the fifty-fifth volume, the paper will assume the regular magazine size, which will add greatly to its convenience and attractiveness. The Outlook is published every Saturday—fifty-two issues a year. The first issue in each month is an illustrated Magazine Number, containing about twice as many pages as the ordinary issues, together with a large number of pictures.

The price of the Outlook is three dollars a year in advance, or less than a cent a day.

Send for a specimen copy and illustrated prospectus to the Outlook, 13 Astor Place, New York City.

The Langley M'fr. Company, until further notice, will purchase cotton 1/2 cent under Augusta market quotations on day of delivery, at Langley, S. C. THOMAS BARRETT, JR., Nov. 10—4t.
