

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

And now peace, beloved!

L. E. Jackson has soda in one pound packages at 5 cents.

A slight change in our railroad schedule gives us morning mail at 11.30.

Cover creation with peace!

The friends of Mrs. R. H. Covar will be pained to know that she is confined to her bed with fever.

Raven, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. McGowan Simkins, is getting well we are glad to state.

Sow some more peace!

Miss Katie Cumbar, a charming young lady of Grand Bay, Ala., is visiting her cousin, Mr. John A. Weir, of our town.

President A. E. Padgett of the Farmers Bank, we regret to learn, is confined to his house with a painful affliction of his feet.

Miss Bessie Walker, of Macon, Ga., a charming young lady, handsome and attractive, is on a most welcome visit to Mrs. D. R. Duriso.

From now on it is going to rain. So put in the pease and potatoes!

Fredrick's Ferrotype Gallery will be at Edgefield until Thursday, June 22nd. Tent on south side public square. Two nice sized pictures for 25c.

We are requested to announce that Father Gwynn will conduct services and celebrate high mass in our Catholic church on Sunday next at 10 o'clock A. M.

Mr. L. E. Jackson, although he has been at his place of business a few times since his attack, has had a relapse, and is again confined to his house.

For fancy and heavy groceries call on O. Sheppard, Jr., and examine his entire stock. He will take great pleasure in showing you around. All orders have prompt and careful attention.

Teachers expecting to attend the Summer School for Teachers must apply to the County Superintendent of Education for blanks. Session begins June 19th and ends July 18th, at Rock Hill.

Mrs. Orlando Sheppard, Sr., left for Greenville on Saturday last, whither she goes to attend the graduating exercises of her daughter, Miss Ellie, who will take the degree of Bachelor of English.

Mrs. Elizabeth Russell is still ill with fever we regret to say, but with the unremitting care and attention of her devoted son and daughter it is hoped this aged and esteemed lady will soon be up again.

Mr. Eppes Norris, of our northern suburbs, ordered potato slips from Florida in February last, and in March set out two acres. As a consequence friend Eppes will be eating new potatoes next Sunday.

The Beauregard Timmons mansion is beginning to look very much like a house, and it will be a very handsome and commodious one. The architects, Messrs. Timmons & Wright, certainly know what they are doing.

The "old field school" of the past is being derided and ridiculed by the apostles of new methods in teaching the young idea how to shoot. We call on our friends Russ Bodie, Milton Bell, and Hodge Stallworth to man the breach for the sake of lang syne.

The Charleston News and Courier of the 8th inst. paid a very high compliment to Solicitor Thurmond for his conduct and speech in the Crawford case recently heard at Camden. We regret that we cannot lay our hands on the copy named that we might reproduce it in these columns.

The case of Calliham against Wood, which came up before Judge Bell, was compromised by each party paying $145. Whereupon Judge Bell "squashed" the indictment. This was the peaceful outcome of the matter in which pistols were drawn and much bad temper shown.

We are under obligations to Mr. G. H. Bunch, son of John W. Bunch, of Columbia, for an invitation to the commencement exercises of the South Carolina College, June 19th inst. Among the graduates from Edgefield are John Eldred Swearingen, the blind son of Mrs. J. C. Swearingen, and George Henry Bunch aforesaid.

Mr. Harry Hill, who has given the matter some consideration, is opposed to the adoption of the round bale by Southern farmers. He thinks that, inasmuch as the round bale people refuse to sell their machinery, but only lease it temporarily, that in a few years they will have a monopoly, the square bale machinery being out of the way, and will grind the cotton grower more than he is ground at present.

A sensible husband said to his wife the other day, "Jane, don't spend a cent with merchants who don't advertise." The wife who is a business woman, replied: "You old goose, I learned better long ago than to go where I was not invited. You would be an old bachelor now if you had not invited me to be your wife. Catch me going to a store without an invitation. I guess not."

For three days last week the thermometer is said to have reached the unprecedented figure of 102 in our town. We do not remember ever to have seen the register so high. In the city of Columbia it went to 103, and Saturday last in Greenwood 105, but the delightful rains of Sunday p. m. relieve us of any apprehension that the mercury will be called upon to do any more such exploiting, for a while at least.

We understand that the county commissioners at their last meeting levied an extra tax of one-fourth of a mill on the taxable property of Edgefield county with which to buy a road machine and to work the roads. We also understand that County Attorney N. G. Evans advised against this extra tax, but they downed him it seems.

During the absence of Dr. J. Glover Tompkins in Philadelphia, which will be for several weeks, Dr. Marsh will be assisted in the Tompkins-Marsh practice by that old wheel horse, Dr. J. Walter Hill. Dr. Tompkins goes to Philadelphia to attend clinics in a private hospital, in that city, to get on to the latest and best methods of the treatment of diseases at the head and centre of medical knowledge and skill on this continent.

Miss Sadie Furman, a matriculate of Hollins Institute, Va., is spending her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Charlotte Gueraud. Miss Furman is the daughter of Judge John C. Furman, of Texas, late of Edgefield, and is a most beautiful young lady of the brunette type, and is moreover a charming and vivacious conversationalist. Edgefield extends to her a hearty welcome, and it is to be hoped that she may be persuaded to make this her permanent home.

On Monday morning of this week Mr. Sam Gardner, of the Petra section, set out three acres in sweet potatoes. Of course this was not his first setting out. He had three or four acres already planted before the rain. And Uncle Dan McClelland, of the same section with Mr. Gardner, set out four acres in sweet potatoes, but then "Uncle Dan" is a sweet potato farmer. He bedded ten bushels in the early spring and set out a couple of acres from the first drawing. And if it don't rain he doesn't wait, but sets out and waters. "Uncle Dan" is an all round sure good farmer.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Mamie E., the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Chat ham to Mr. James G. Hilton. The marriage will take place next Wednesday, June 14th, at the residence of the bride's parents. Miss Mamie is an accomplished young lady and is very attractive socially and in every way. She is a conscientious Christian young lady worthy of the love and esteem of any man. The Journal extends congratulations to the bride and groom and wishes for them long life and great happiness. May their honey moon never have an end.—Greenwood Journal.

Edgefield makes a notable record this year in the various colleges of the State, for instance: Mr. John Eldred Swearingen graduates at the South Carolina College with first honors, receiving the highest marks ever given at that institution. Miss Kate Goode Carter and Miss Sallie Dantzier graduate at Winthrop with the degree of A. B. Miss Ellie Sheppard at Greenville Female College with degree of B. E. Miss Lizzie Teague, granddaughter of Dr. H. Parker, graduates at Converse College. To say nothing of one of our S. C. C. I. graduates who won the West Point cadetship in the competitive examination at Blackville a few weeks ago. And there are others no doubt whose names we have not seen.

The good natured controversy between Rev. R. W. Anderson, of our town, and the editor of the States as to whether "nigger" should be spelled with one "g" or two, reminds us of something Beast Butler said on one occasion before he died. Of course he said it before he died, if he said it at all, for he has not been heard from since. What he said was this: "That if you want to move in the best society in the South you must spell nigger with two 'g's'. Of course, and this was a slander on the South, for we invariably spell the word with one 'g' in writing, but in ordinary conversation it takes two 'g's' to do us.

Accident to Rev. J. C. Abney.

Rev. J. C. Abney was one of the party who started from here yesterday at noon to attend Governor Ellerbe's funeral at Sellers, but on account of a bad accident he was prevented from going. While the special was flying past Congaree station at the rate of 40 miles an hour Mr. Abney, who was sitting next to an open window on the right side of the car, was struck on the arm by some object which fractured the radius, the exterior bone of the forearm. The accident was rather mysterious. Mr. Abney was resting his right arm on the window sill when something struck it with such force as to break the bone. It is thought that a stick of wood fell from the tender, struck a box car on a side-track and rebounding, hit Mr. Abney. The marks of the lick were plainly visible on the window sill, and it was evident that the blow must have been accompanied by considerable force, so that one supposition is that the object was thrown at the train, but this seems improbable.—The State, June 9.

Robbed the Grave.

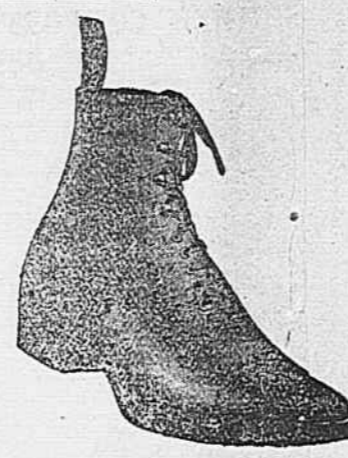

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow eyes sunken, jagged, coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters" and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know that I saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim. No one should fail to try them. Only 50c per bottle, guaranteed, at all Drug Stores.

Address From the Governor.

To the People of South Carolina:

In the providence of Almighty God, his Excellency, Wm. H. Ellerbe, late Governor of South Carolina, has passed to his reward. I regret the sad event which makes it necessary for me to assume the duties of Governor of South Carolina. The constitution, however, is mandatory. I have taken the oath of office and assumed formal control of the executive department to-day. I have thought it proper to address a word to the people of the State.

I realize fully the responsibility of the position. I shall endeavor to be faithful and conscientious in the discharge of duties which shall be mine.

In the wisdom which devised our system of government three distinct departments were made—the legislative, the executive, the judicial—to make the laws, to execute the laws, to interpret the laws. Under our own constitution they are to "be forever separate and distinct from each other," and no person exercising the duties of the one shall assume to discharge the duties of the other. It is a wise provision. My duty mainly is to see that the laws as placed on the statute books by the legislative department are enforced. This I shall attempt to do faithfully and impartially, and without fear or favor, following only where duty points.

In doing so, however, I ask and shall expect the hearty cooperation of every officer in South Carolina, whether he holds a State office, a county office, or an office under a municipality. Not only so, but I ask the hearty support and encouragement of every citizen of South Carolina in the promotion and advancement and progress of our own commonwealth. I realize the impotency of any officer, however faithful he may be, who does not have this support.

We are on the eve of a great industrial advance—in manufacture, education, commerce, and agriculture—and I stand ready to contribute my part as citizen and officer to this forward industrial movement, and to do anything in my power for the welfare of my people. I have no political punishments to inflict and no political rewards to pay. It shall be my aim and steadfast purpose to give the people of the State a strictly business administration, and to be the Governor of all the people. To this end I seek their sympathy, their counsel, and their prayers, praying myself that peace and happiness and prosperity may come to every home in South Carolina.

Yours respectfully, M. B. McSweeney, Gov. of South Carolina.

Weather for May.

Weather Observer C. A. Long, of Prenton, sends us the following data of the weather for the month just ended: Max. Temp. 95; date 17th. Min. Temp. 53; date 25th. Mean Temp. 75.4. PRECIPITATION.—For May 1.26 inches which is 1.27 inches less than the 7 year average and 4.62 inches more than the 6 year average for the first 5 months of the year.

Superintendent of Education McMahan is daily overrun with inquiries from teachers all over the State interested in the summer school which he is planning. The following are a few of the many questions asked, and Mr. McMahan gives out the accompanying answers for the information of the teachers and the public generally.

Q. Will there be "institutes" in the various counties? If so, how long will they last? A. Yes, there will be "institutes" in each of the counties of the State. These institutes we are calling "summer normal schools" because they are to be regular schools of four weeks' duration with regular courses of instruction. Actual work will be done and the instructors will have written examinations at the end of the work over. These will be held after the state school.

Q. Will those who attend the State school at Winthrop be expected to attend the county schools? A. No. The work in the counties will be of a strictly lower grade and will be limited as to courses; the courses in the county schools will be limited because they will be thorough.

Q. Is it necessary to authorities at Winthrop hand in order to secure board of attendants? A. No, but notify the superintendent of your county to attend and of the county will probably want to take

Q. Will those who come bringing sheets, pillow cases, etc.? A. No, everything will be provided by the authorities board at Winthrop.

Q. Will the text be printed or will teach them? A. Teachers will be provided themselves with books, but they will be on Rock Hill.

Q. When will the school at Winthrop begin? A. Those who attend will be expected to be present on the morning of June 14th, when the school will be in session.

A Thousand Tongues. Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all Drug Stores; every bottle guaranteed.

A Magnificent Home. Aiken, June 6.—Judge George Beckwith, a New York millionaire banker, merchant and jurist, has just purchased Kalmia, a beautiful suburb of Aiken, S. C., upon which he will erect a residence which will be second in the South only to George W. Vanderbilt's palace, Baltimore, near Asheville, N. C. The residence will be situated in the midst of a park terraced on four sides throughout seventy-five acres of land. There will be thirty-seven rooms, above the average size, fronting a hall-way twenty-two feet wide and sixty-one feet long. The drawing room will be a dream of luxury and spaciousness. It will be nineteen by thirty-seven feet and adjoining a dining room nineteen by twenty-four feet and a conservatory eighteen by thirty-two feet. From Judge Beckwith's hospitable board may be viewed this conservatory filled with the choice plants of the world and lighted by electricity from an independent plant, which will supply lights not only for the park, but for 200 or more acres devoted to stables and amusement grounds, a race course and polo games. A road to Aiken will be graded 300 feet wide and finished with white sand and gravel.

"Ueber Die Sterne Ist Ruh."

Tis a weary world, dear heart, I know, There's many a cause for a sigh, But succor comes for the work and woe In the beautiful bye and bye; And the tired heart and the fevered brain Will find from the stern behest Relief from all the rack and pain, For 'over the stars is rest."

For the trial here is a triumph there, For a pain is a pain on high, And a laurel wreath for a thorn of care, Awaits in the bye and bye; And a jeweled crown for the cruel cross Is kept for the faithful best, A crown of gold—no earthly dress— And "over the stars is rest."

So the labor of love is never vain, Or the weary heart the sigh, And the purple blood from the heart of pain Is the pledge of the bye and bye; Then work away, dear heart, and know If ever we do our best, For all of the wealth of work and woe That "over the stars is rest."

The Sign Fooled Him. "I tuk two gals down street last night to git 'em some ice cream," said George Washington Snowball, "but when I got down I 'mos' had a fit of heart disease."

"What was the trouble? Did they ask for a second helping?" "Seco," hepin 'nother. Dey didn't eben git de first helpin'."

It is expected that all the members of the committee will be here promptly and to work along the plan recently outlined in the State. The committee expects to work about a week examining the witnesses and visiting the State farms. Then another recess will likely be taken and the committee will go to certain points in the up-country. It is expected at some prominent men will be named as witnesses before the committee has completed its work.
