THE ADVERTISER, Edgefield, S. C.

S. C. C. I. 1900-1901.

Edgefield has always been a great town, has always been favored. The county of Edgefield has always held up her head proudly among her fellows, as if to say "I am one of the best of you."

A Fair View About the B. & O. Convention.

All the interested workers in the state in connection with the Baptist Young People's Union are delighted at the selection of Prof. F. N. K. Bailey as President of the state works, and it is predicted confidently that he will make a fine leader, and give renewed vigor to the good work.

The people of Charleston have been landed to the skies for the hospitality and extreme kindness and courtesy which they bestowed upon their stranger guests.

Rev. P. P. Bialock did honor to the Edgefield delegation and to the visitors at the convention, by his beautiful reply to the welcome address.

Mr. George Scott of the Institute was one of the speakers for the Friday evening program. Favorable comments were made upon his talk on "how the Edgefield Union was conducted."

Miss Effie Allen was one of the committee on awarding the banner to the Senior Union receiving most diplomas.

B. D. Thames took part with his usual energy in several of the discussions on the floor of the convention.

They Can't Help It.

"It seems to me," said the lovely Mrs. Kaffipie, "that society isn't what it was when I began going out."

"No," her gentle friend replied, "I suppose it isn't, but then you must remember that nearly everything else has changed along with society during the past 40 or 50 years."—Chicago Times-Herald.

The position of Resident Manager of the Equitable Life Assurance Society for Edgefield and vicinity is open to a man of character and ability. A valuable contract carrying renewals will be given to the right man. W. J. ROBBER, Manager, Rock Hill, S. C.

JOHN G. CAPERS LANDS.

Appointed District Attorney for South Carolina.

Washington, April 15.—President McKinley today appointed Mr. John Capers district attorney of South Carolina to succeed Abial Lathrop, of Orangeburg. Mr. Capers is well known in Columbia, where he lived a number of years practicing law. He was editor of the Journal, an afternoon paper published in Columbia several years ago by Mr. H. P. Clarke. Mr. Capers is a son of Gen. Ellison Capers, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of South Carolina. He was raised in Greenville and first entered politics in that county, holding the office of school commissioner. He is a very popular young lawyer. His appointment will be taken as marking a change in the Republican policy as to federal appointments in the South. There has been much gossip to the effect that such a change was impending and the appointment made today was predicted as part of the change.

The old line Republican politicians, who have had a monopoly of federal offices in the South, will fight Mr. Capers' appointment, it is said. They will base their opposition to confirmation of Mr. Capers, it is said, on an allegation that as an attorney he violated the pension laws regulating the amount of fees an attorney may collect for services in securing a pension. While it is true that Mr. Capers did technically violate the pension law, it was from ignorance as to its nature. After investigation of the case, United States District Judge Simonton and District Attorney Murphy recommended that the case be not pressed and it was not pressed by direction of Attorney General Olney, who afterward brought Mr. Capers to Washington and appointed him one of the United States attorneys in the department of justice, a position he has held for seven years. There could have been no clear vindication of Mr. Capers than that disclosed by the records and old line Republican politicians will probably fail in their fight upon confirmation of his appointment, just as they have failed in their endeavor to prevent the appointment being made.

Death of a Noted Scout.

Edgefield, April 14.—Special: Mr. C. M. Gray, familiarly known as "Scout" Gray, on account of brilliant and daring services as a Confederate scout, died at his home in town last night, having attained his 57th year. He received a wound in the head, part of the skull having been taken out, at the Wilderness, from which he never recovered, and which was the inciting cause of death. He was a native of Edgefield.—S. Mc G. S., in News and Courier.

On Friendship.

Sweet words will multiply a man's friends, and a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies. Let those that are at peace with thee be many; but thy counsellors one of a thousand. If thou wouldst get a friend, get him by proving, and be not in haste to trust him. For there is a friend that is so for his own occasion, and he will not continue the day of thy affliction. And there is a friend that turneth to emity, and he will discover strife at thy reproach. And there is a companion at the table, and he will not continue to sit at thy side.

A unique battle took place in North Bergen, N. J., a few days ago. John Petrie, a wealthy resident, recently added Spaniard, a handsome black stallion; to his stable, and the acquisition was received with anger by Dewey, another black stallion of great beauty. They fought whenever opportunity offered, and one morning broke their halters and dashed out into the yard, coming together with such force that it went both to the ground. Quickly picking themselves up they resumed hostilities, kicking and biting savagely. Dewey finally fastened his teeth in Spaniard's throat at did not release his hold until the black was dead. Dewey was covered with blood and was badly cut and torn.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a clear proof that the kidneys are also deranged out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.
