

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Hettie Sheppard returned to Edgefield on Friday last.

Mrs Agnes Caldwell is expected in town this week.

Mrs S B Gibson and Miss Louise are at home again.

The Methodist conference meets at Columbia in November.

Mr. C. C. Fuller, of Longmires was in town on Monday last.

Mrs Day, of Trenton, visited her father, Mr D R Duriseo, last week.

Miss Marie Boykin leaves next Tuesday to join her sister, Mrs W P Calhoun, in Greenville.

Mrs O Sheppard, Jr, and little Burdell spent last week at Johnston with relatives.

Mrs Mamie Huiet, of Johnston, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs W B Cogburn.

The good women of Horn Creek church will give a lunch party at the church on Friday.

The Baptist State convention holds its annual meeting at Florence the early part of December.

Miss Rosa Strom, who has been very sick at the home of her father, Mr T C Strom, is, we are glad to state, much better.

WANTED—Ladies to do writing at home. Salary $20.00 per month. Address Miss Belle Turner, Lewis Turnout, S. C.

Mrs George Wise and little son, of Trenton, were the guests of Mrs W W Adams and Mrs J B Haliwanger last week.

A number of our citizens took advantage of the excursion to Augusta Monday night to attend the Minstrel show.

Dr T M Bailey, of Greenville, was in town on Sunday and made a stirring speech at the B Y P U meeting in the afternoon.

M P Wells, Esq, left on Monday for Columbus, Georgia, to attend a stockholders' meeting of the Interstate Building and Loan association.

Mr and Mrs W W Ramsey have returned to their home in Harlem, Georgia, after a week's stay in our town as the guests of Mr and Mrs Bragg Jones.

The Sunny South, the Atlanta Constitution, and the Edgefield Advertiser all one year for $2.50. Address or call at the Advertiser office with the money.

WANTED—Ladies to do work at home; salary $20.00 per month; pleasant work. For particulars address, with stamp, Miss T., 1218 Senate street, Columbia, S. C.

Mr W H Nicholson, of Edgefield, has been appointed one of the associate editors of the Carolina, the South Carolina college journal.

Mr Trapp McManus has a cow that gives three gallons of milk a day. This is not very remarkable. But from these three gallons of milk he gets every day two pounds of butter.

Mrs Jay, of Greenwood, was summoned to Edgefield last week on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs Mary Sullivan, who was quite sick for several days. She is much improved, we are rejoiced to say.

Mr Pearce Lowry, a young man of the Meeting Street neighborhood, from which locality so many of our noblest citizens have come, has entered the employ of the New York Racket store, arriving in town on Monday.

Improvements are being made on Mr M P Wells' house on Columbia street, recently vacated by Mr R L Dunnovan, to be occupied by Mrs V A Byrd, now a resident of West Edgefield.

Miss Mamie Curry, after a few months stay at her old home in the Wells neighborhood, has returned to the home of her grandmother, Mrs Sarah Covar, on Columbia street, and will resume her studies at the Institute.

There were services in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches on Sunday morning. Rev E M Stewart preached a strong missionary sermon at the Presbyterian church in the morning, also conducting services again in the evening in that church.

Miss Lucy Lorenz, of Aiken, a recent graduate of Converse college, who was a visitor this summer at the home of Mrs Bragg Jones, has been elected secretary of the Teachers' association of Colleton county, in which county she is now teaching.

There was no service at the Baptist church Sunday morning, on account of the absence of Rev Dr Gwaltney, who accompanied Mrs Gwaltney to Rome, Georgia, where she will spend the fall months with her daughters, Mrs Moultrie and Mrs Van Dyke.

At the Augusta City hospital last week six young ladies received diplomas, having completed the two years course, prescribed by the governing board, in a highly satisfactory manner. The first lady mentioned was one of Edgefield's young daughters, Miss Mary Julia Roper, who is to be highly commended for her perseverance and success in this noble profession.

Mrs White and Mrs Laura Duncan, formerly Miss Laura Thompson, of Apex, N. C., were the guests of Mrs A E Padgett last week, returning to their home in North Carolina on Monday last. These good people are well remembered here, Mr and Mrs White having had charge of the school in our town for two years during the time that Rev J N Booth was pastor of the Edgefield Baptist church.

A Word to the Farmers.

The highest prices are being paid for cotton at Edgefield. The merchants have a buyer here who will give you as much for your cotton as you can get anywhere, and more than at some places. The Edgefield merchants will sell your groceries, dry goods, hardware and anything a farmer needs, just as cheap as they can possibly be sold. Our merchants believe in "quick sales and small profits." Bring your cotton to Edgefield and get the highest market price and buy your supplies from our merchants. You will go home satisfied if you sell here.

The Corner Store.

Mr H W Turner, one of Edgefield's most genial, hospitable and popular merchants, has made his dry goods emporium, the corner store, quite a centre of trade. By the numbers who frequent this store, the public are manifesting their appreciation of Mr Turner's excellent taste and superior quality of goods. Some people never go into stores, but if they are at all inclined that way, they will certainly be tempted to do so when they behold the beautiful array of laces, ribbons, gingham, percale, flannel, and dress goods, which are to be found there in all styles and colors, from shades the richest, to the most delicate.

Grice & Watson.

The lively firm of Grice & Watson has all sorts of horses and vehicles, plenty of the stylish equipments which the young and gay are apt to admire, but among the number there is one carriage, and one horse and above all one driver, in the employ of this popular firm, all of which appeal especially to timid, "sober" and more matured people. Not that the driver does not look stylish, nor the horse well groomed, nor the carriage new and shining, but there is so much of steadiness and good sense displayed by the horse, so much of comfort about the carriage, and so much of reliability and dignity about the driver. He never risks anything and is always on the alert for bumps and holes. It is a delight and comfort to drive with this combination. If any of Edgefield's inhabitants wish to enjoy a drive which will be a satisfaction, let them send to Grice & Watson's stable for this team, driven by one of our esteemed colored friends, George Norris.

Library Opening.

The Edgefield Public Library was opened on Friday afternoon under extremely favorable circumstances. The general public manifested unusual interest in the occasion, not only by their presence, but by their description to the "borrower's card." These cards being only ten cents, and entitling the subscriber to five books, is such a generous arrangement that every body may take advantage of it. The ladies of the Ant Wiedersehen club displayed another "symptom" of hospitality in dispensing to the visitors refreshments, simple, but entirely appropriate to the occasion, for persons coming to attain the wherewith to feed the brain, are not supposed to be addicted to the gorging of the physical man, but merely "eat to live." These good women have succeeded wonderfully in this undertaking, which to most people would have been an impossibility, mountainous in its proportions. As faith in the spiritual world "can remove mountains," so perseverance and faith in one's own ability often dissipate obstacles, as the rising sun clears away the "morning cloud and the early dew."

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, in His mysterious providence, the Great Head of the Church has removed from our midst, by death, our sister, S M Smith, therefore be it resolved by the Sunday School of Harmony Church, 1st, That in the death of Sister Smith we have lost one of our oldest and best S. S. workers.

2d, That while we mourn for our sister and co-worker, we bow to the Divine will, believing that while God's ways are past finding out, this sad event and divine act is done in goodness and love.

3d, That we extend our deepest sympathy to the family and relatives and pray God's guidance and comfort for them.

4th, That we cherish the memory of our sister and shall strive to emulate her many Christian virtues.

5th, That a page in our Sunday School record be inscribed to her memory, showing important dates in her life and containing these resolutions.

6th, That the Secretary furnish a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased and the local newspapers for publication.

Attention, Edgefield Citizens.

We, the undersigned committee appointed to collect a county exhibit for the exposition in the city of Charleston, respectfully solicit any agricultural or other natural products from any one who desires to contribute by bringing the same to Edgefield, properly packed and boxed for shipment, not later than October 20th, 1901. Hon. P. B. Mayson will receive the same.

W. J. A. STROM, Chairman,
T. H. RAINSFORD,
P. B. MAYSON,
Committee.

Read the new advertisements in this issue—and old ones too.

Mrs Ras Youngblood and Miss Bessie Youngblood, of Winter Seat, are visiting Mrs Manly Timmons.

Colonel Robert Watson, of Ridge Spring, is to deliver an address on fruit culture at the Abbeville county fair, which convenes from the 15th to 20th of October.

Mrs Robert Easterling, who has been here several weeks on account of the illness of her father, Dr Horace Parker, has returned to her home in Barnwell.

Mr John R Blackwell, of Parkersville, was in town last Monday. The people are talking of running John for the legislature next year whether he wants to run or not.

The citizens of Johnston have erected a tombstone over the grave of Rev John Owen, the Methodist minister who was accidentally killed there several months ago.

Mrs Morgan Fulmer and family, former residents of Edgefield, left Augusta last week to join her husband in Morganton, North Carolina, where they will reside.

The Johnston correspondent of the Augusta Herald says: Miss Curran Hartley, of Edgefield, who is the beautiful guest of Miss Fannie Strother, has been the recipient of many honors while in our town.

At a Courtship party at the hospitable home of Mrs Peschman Miss Lillie LaGrose bore off the first prize as the decided belle of the evening, and coming closely behind her was Miss Curran Hartley, of Edgefield, winning the second prize.

I am carrying a complete line of spectacle goods, and am prepared to test your eyes by three different methods. Satisfaction in all cases guaranteed. I am right here all the time and can make good anything which does not suit you. New lenses put in your old frames. Geo. F. Mims, Optician. Office over Bank of Edgefield.

S. C. C. I. News.

Mr John Kemp, of Callison's, is a member of the student body at the Institute.

The boarding students of the Institute attended services Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church.

Miss Arlena Cartledge, of Johnston is boarding at Mr W B Cogburn's, and pursuing her studies at the Institute.

Mr Robert Black, who was a student at the Institute last year, is attending the Medical College of Charleston.

Mr Thomas Black, a son of Dr J B Black, has gone to Edgefield to attend the Co-Educational Institute.—Bamberg Herald.

Rev P P Blalock began last week with the practice of the band. He says the outlook is favorable for good music on the brass instruments. News about the band is always welcomed by the public.

The Music school of the Institute has been increased by the addition of another teacher, Miss Ellis, for several years a successful teacher at the Johnston Institute. Miss Ellis is a native of Due West, and a graduate of the Music school of the Greenville Female college, under the direction of Chevalier Ferrata, the famous musician and composer, and one of the most distinguished musicians in the United States. Miss Ellis is a lover of this divine art, and manifests it in her excellence and taste as a performer.

MOTHERHOOD

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead organs, but Wine of Cardui does regulate derangements that prevent conception; does prevent miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI

113 Market Street, Memphis, Tenn., April 14, 1901. In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one package of married women's pills. I had never given birth to a child until I took Wine of Cardui. I am now the mother of a fine baby girl which was born March 21, 1901. The baby weighs four teen pounds and I feel as well as ever. I would advise all women who are not happy and I never will do without Wine of Cardui in my home.
