

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Miss Mary Buford—Millinery. E. J. Norris—Reapers, mowers. J. Willie Levy—Clothing, etc.

Advertised Letters.

List of letters remaining in the Post Office at Edgefield C. H., April 7th, 1902: W. H. Dar, Jasper N Booth, Peter Baskin, Caesar Ronnie, J. L. Bow, Alice M Kerr, Sarah Drisby, Ellen Hafner, L. A. Repley.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our profoundest thanks and grateful appreciation to our kind and thoughtful neighbors and the people of Edgefield for their many acts of kindness to us and to our beloved daughter, Mabel, during her long illness.

Here is the Ticket.

The following named gentlemen are nominated and will be supported at the Municipal election for the town of Edgefield on Monday next, 14th inst.:

- FOR MAYOR: W. W. ADAMS. FOR WARDENS: J. L. CAUGHMAN, B. J. CROCKER, E. H. FOLK, C. E. MAY, E. J. MIMS, J. P. OUZTS.

Biscuit and Forage.

McCormick Binders, Mowers and Rakes are called "the best on earth." Their 1902 harvesters, with half a dozen improvements, it seems has reached perfection.

The Village Cemetery.

For years the neglected condition of the village cemetery was a reproach to this community. With the exception of a few well kept squares it was given up to briars, weeds and bushes.

For Missions.

On next Sunday morning at the Edgefield Methodist church the usual spring collection for Missions will be taken. This collection will be taken at McKendree on the third Sunday and at Trenton on the fourth Sunday.

The Little Pienchers.

The pupils of the primary school at the academy were given half holiday on last Friday. Various sweet-meats had been prepared by the mothers and were carried to school by the children as the regular lunch is carried and at noon all were spread on a common table in the academy grove.

Vote! - Vote!! - Vote!!! Read the nominations by "Voters."

Rev. Mr. Hay preached in the Episcopal church on last Sunday morning.

There will be services in the Methodist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Attend!

Miss Ida Covar is opening up a very attractive and stylish stock of millinery goods at her old stand.

Mr. W. W. Hicks has given up his place at the mill and has returned to his former home in North Carolina.

We salute the new judge of this circuit, Judge L. G. Bell. For further information read our Cold Springs letter.

EYE GLASSES accurately fitted and guaranteed, for all defects of eyes. GEO. F. MIMS, Optician.

Bear in mind the performance to be given in the opera house by the Boone-Yaki company on the night of April 15th and 16th.

Dr. Ernest C. Smith added melody and volume to the singing in the Methodist church last Sunday morning by his skilled performance on the cornet.

Col. W. P. Calhoun's book on the "Caucasian and the Negro" has just been issued and has been favorably received by the press.—Abbeville Medium.

Mr. J. M. Cobb tells you in his new advertisement of the latest arrivals just added to his already tremendous stock. Keep your eye on his space. He is agent for Butterick's patterns.

The only property sold at public sale on Monday was one lot and store thereon at Plum Branch. It was bought by Mr. F. M. Parks for $200.

All the late syrups are on tap at Penn's soda fountain, which has been renovated and rejuvenated. Come ye and drink. You can get anything you call for—except the X's.

Complying with the law the Supervisor and Clerk of the board of County Commissioners have prepared a detailed quarterly report. We received it from the clerk on Monday and will publish the report in full next week.

Cabbage plants are as scarce as gold dollars. Two letters have been shown stating that the cold had killed all the plants on the islands of the coast and also at Jessamine Garden, Florida.

On next Monday we will continue Ribbons and Embroideries as specials and add umbrellas and shirts to the list also. The Racket store cannot be undersold.

Col. F. N. K. Bailey attended the B.Y.P.U. Convention at Gaffney last week. He was unanimously re-elected president of the convention and is to serve for the ensuing year. A great compliment to Col. Bailey.

When you have any news call up the Advertiser office, No. 802, on the phone and give it to us. We shall be glad to get it and our many readers will be glad to get it through our columns.

The beautifully arranged windows of the Hart dry goods emporium show Mr. Claude Hart's skill and taste as window-dresser. These beautiful goods are an index to the contents of the store.

J. W. DeVore, Esq., attended the United States court in Charleston last week and, of course, visited the Ivory City. He says the Exposition is very good. Emphasizing the "very."

Since Mr. Ramsey purchased the Burnett stores Mr. B. B. Jones is having the blinds, sash, in fact, all the wood of the structure painted in very attractive colors. Paint preserves and beautifies.

Mr. B. J. Harrison, whose home was burned on Mar. 25th, carried a policy in one of the companies of Griffin & Mims. The loss was adjusted on April 3d, within less than ten days from the date of the fire.

Mr. C. E. May's new Spring advertisement appears in another column. Winter does not linger at Mr. May's store. At every turn your eye is greeted with bright, brand new Spring goods that make one wish they had millions to spend. Look up his advertisement and ponder it. You can bank upon every word Mr. May tells you about his goods, they are dependable.

The Logomachy club was entertained by Miss Virginia Addison on last Thursday evening. The lady's first prize, a silk collar, and the first gentleman's prize, a silk handkerchief, were won by Miss Effie Allen and Mr. James Kernerly, respectively. The consolation prize, a bottle of shoe polish, was borne off by Jimmie Byrd.

We direct attention to the new Millinery establishment of Miss Mary Buford, whose announcement will be found in another column. This splendid array of Spring hats and trimmings gives evidence of much skill and taste on the part of the one who made the selections. All shapes and styles of trimmed and untrimmed hats can be seen and admired by those who call to see the many beautiful things in ladies headwear which Miss Buford is now showing. By all means see them.

We have the only First-Class Barber Shop in Edgefield. Skilled and courteous barbers always on hand to serve you. Fresh towels for every customer. Razors, scissors and clippers in first-class condition. Come to us for your shaving, shampooing and hair cutting. Satisfaction guaranteed. PARLOR BARBER SHOP, Next door to post-office.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

It is the duty of every citizen to vote.

Lee surrendered 37 years ago today.

The municipal election will be held next Monday.

Read J. W. Peak's locals about his next Monday's special sales.

This is emancipation proclamation celebration day—April 9th.

Mrs. Lizzie Folk left yesterday for Atlanta, carrying little Julia to Dr Calhoun to have her eyes treated.

Miss L. S. Sossaman returned from the hospital in Atlanta on Thursday very much improved in health.

Mr. Winchester McDaniel, of Modoc, says the farmers in his section are greatly behind with their work.

"You'll laugh, you'll roar, you'll scream," if you attend the mind reading and oriental mysteries on April 15th and 16th at the opera.

The members of "The Critic" held their Shakespearean feast at the home of Miss Grace Tompkins on Monday evening last.

Send or telephone us your orders for envelopes, note, bill and letter heads, etc. We guarantee satisfaction and prompt service.

The condition of Sheriff Ouzts is unchanged. He is yet seriously ill. We are saddened because we cannot report more hopeful tidings.

The renowned and far-famed John Temple Graves will lecture in Edgefield on the night of April 28th. Be sure to hear him.

Do not forget the fun that is in store for you if you attend the performance in the opera house on the 15th and 16th—next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. W. H. Turner says some days with him have been regular Christmas-eve days of Spring business. His windows are beautiful.

The weekly crop bulletin for the South Carolina section, issued by the U. S. Department of agriculture says that about two-thirds of the fall sown oats were killed.

A thing of beauty and joy forever to those who thirst for cold drinks is the Lynch soda fountain. Mr. Holstein has arranged a very "Cozy Corner" for the comfort of his patrons. Mr. B. Timmons is in command.

Mr. W. B. Penn has promised the young people a free well dance when Jimmie Byrd learns to dance the Highland fling. It is up to the lovers of the Terpsichorean art to see that Jimmie learns.

Married, at the Methodist parsonage, Wednesday morning, April 2nd, by Rev. George W. Davis, Mr. Charles Powell, of Warrenville, to Miss Ollie Ouzts, of Edgefield. Mr. and Mrs. Powell left immediately for Warrenville.

Our Monday special sales have been hummers and we take this opportunity to thank our customers and friends for their liberal patronage. We will continue our special sales on Mondays and ask you to come to the New York Racket store for special bargains. Our special prices are for spot cash. J. W. PEAK.

Treasurer Williams informs us that about $3,000 taxes are yet unpaid, which is a very small percent of the total amount levied for all purposes. This is a very creditable showing considering the many vicissitudes and reverses of fortune which our people have passed through. There is life in the old land yet.

The Ninety-Six correspondent to the Greenwood Index says that Rev. Jno. A. Holland is "certainly a hustler, that he hauls in and out 10 or 12 organs and pianos every week." Mr. Holland is known as the reliable dealer in musical instruments. Watch his advertisement in our columns.

Miss Eloise Jones, of Ridge Spring, who has many friends in Edgefield, is spending some time with her uncle, Mr. B. B. Jones. Miss Jones has recently graduated in typewriting and stenography and is for the present engaged by the progressive firm of Ramsey & Jones as typewriter.

Rev. G. W. Davis requests us to say to our Methodist readers that the publishers of the Southern Christian Advocate are for a few weeks offering to send the paper to new subscribers from May 1st to July 24th—three months—for only 25 cents. Will not every Methodist, not now a subscriber, give the dear old Advocate a trial?

For the small sum of $2.20 one can now visit the Exposition. This pays the railroad fare both ways while the usual rate is four or five times as great. Every man, woman and child in Edgefield should take advantage of this opportunity to see the South's greatest show. Go, it will benefit you and help make the Exposition that success which its promoters hope for it.

Read the card of J. Willie Levy, of Augusta, in this issue. They are the sole dealers in the High Art Clothing, the greatest line offered in Augusta. This popular firm makes a specialty of ladies tailor-made skirts and waists and ready-to-wear hats. This department is on the second floor where young ladies serve the customers. For the convenience of his lady patrons Mr. Levy has provided a reception room, etc., on the second floor where the ladies can eat their lunch without the expense of going to a hotel. Make his store headquarters while in Augusta, Edgefield readers.

But few merchants succeed who do not advertise. On the contrary, but few fail who do advertise.

The I. O. O. F. lodge of Edgefield celebrated the second anniversary of their organization on Monday evening of last week. Addresses were made by several members of the lodge. May this and all other fraternal orders that have for their watchword the "Brotherhood of man" continue to prosper and multiply throughout the land.

Edgefield can justly boast of her two banks. Both are veritable financial Gibraltar. No other interior town of equal wealth and size can measure up to us. Both of our institutions have grown in strength—proportion of liabilities to resources—and volume of business from year to year since their organization.

What are people to do for cabbage plants this year? No seed have been sown here-a-bouts and the plants were killed by the intense cold on many of the islands of the coast. Heretofore many have ordered plants from the coast so as to have them early. It is hard to find them even there now. The people will not have any pot-liquor to help them feed the candidates.

B. E. Nicholson, Esq., accompanied by Misses Sophie and Eleanor Nicholson, spent several days in Charleston last week "taking in" the beruties and sights of the Exposition. Miss Lizzie May Nicholson, a senior of Winthrop college, joined the party in Charleston. To hear Mr. Nicholson's description of his trip makes one feel like boarding the next train for the Exposition.

Every church member in Edgefield should have heard the very excellent sermon of the Rev. G. W. Davis in the Methodist church on Sunday morning last on the subject of foreign missions or our duty to our unevangelized neighbors, the heathen. By bearing this earnest appeal one was not only made to feel very sensibly the dereliction of duty in the past but made to resolve to do more in the future for those in benighted lands.

Mrs. Hattie Lanham returned on last Friday afternoon from Greenville, Ky., whither she accompanied Mr. T. L. Lanham to bring his little babe to Edgefield. The little one stood the long and fatiguing trip remarkably well. She is being lovingly and tenderly cared for by her grandmother. God watches over and provides for the motherless babes. May this little child live and become as zealous a laborer in the Master's vineyard as her parents have been.

Miss Mabel Burnett. On Wednesday morning, April 2nd, Miss Mabel Burnett, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Burnett, was taken by that grim reaper, Death, from her earthly home to that mansion in the skies prepared for those who love and serve the Lord.

Miss Burnett's death was a result of complications arising from a very severe attack of grip. She was not of robust form, consequently could not resist the ravages of the disease. Miss Mabel was a sweet Christian girl just entering womanhood. She made the Savior whom she served so lovingly her exemplar in life, consequently death to her had no sting, and the grave no victory. The world has been made better by her life and influence. She has gone to reap the reward of the faithful. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

A Deplorable Accident. On last Wednesday afternoon little Morrall and Sam Rice and Clifford King bought a toy pistol in which blank cartridges are fired. Clifford put a ball in the barrel and as he was making ready to fire the pistol accidentally discharged, the ball striking little Sam, the four-year-old son of Captain S. M. Rice, in the left eye. Capt. Rice, accompanied by Mrs. Rice, Mr. Sam Morrall and Dr. J. G. Tompkins, carried little Sam at once, by special train, to Augusta to Dr. Hull, the eye specialist. The eye was so badly lacerated that it had to be removed, but it was found that the bullet did not lodge. Little Sam was brought home Saturday afternoon and is doing as well as it is possible under the circumstances. Dr. Hull has assured Capt. and Mrs. Rice that the right eye will be strengthened rather than impaired by the unfortunate accident. Our heart goes out to the devoted parents in this their hour of great distress.

Mr. Wm. Warren. Mr. William D. Warren no longer suffers the pains that rack the mortal frame. His spirit took its flight to the great beyond at 12 o'clock Saturday night in the 54th year of his age. Mr. Warren's health had not been good for two or three years. For some months, however, he had improved so much that his family and friends cherished the hope that he would soon recover his former strength and vigor. Some weeks ago he contracted pneumonia from which, owing to his weak condition, he did not rally.

Mr. Warren was a gallant soldier in the Civil war and has always been a quiet unassuming man, yet a man of sterling worth and unimpeachable integrity. He has been a devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father, whose place in the affections can never be filled. Mr. Warren leaves a wife, two daughters, five sons and several sisters and brothers to mourn his sad demise.

His remains were laid to rest at Harmony on Sunday afternoon. May the "Man of Sorrows" comfort the hearts of the bereaved.
