Missing No Opportunity.

A large, good natured man was greatly attracted to a little girl in the dining room of an up-town hotel the other day. She was about two and a half years old, was beginning to run about and talk a good deal, and also appeared to be at home in the hotel. After smiling at him across the dining room and making friends with him at a distance he accosted her in the hall. He asked her the regulation questions put by strangers '> children. all of which she answered as promptly as her baby fashion would permit.

Finally the man shook hands with her and said: "You are a nice little girl. Shall I bring you a box of candy to-morrow?"

The little one looked puzzled a moment, then spoke up brightly: "No; 'oo better doe det it now!"

She got the candy that evening.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be permanently relieved by Lydia E.Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"DEAR MRS. PINEHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain, and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, - she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me: I now experience no pain, and only had to use a fev bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worm out." - MISS ALICE M. RAISING DAIRY COWS. If dairymen would depend upon raising their dairy animals themselves, the tory, as a rule, than to buy from stockmen or speculators in a haphazard subscription for a monument to be way any "pickups" that are offered. In order to begin right, calves should be selected whose grandams on both sides had a good record at the pail or churn; then there will be a reasonable hope that the calf will evolve into a profitable cow. If they are in the dairy business for milk, then the attention is drawn toward the animal which will turn her food and energies into furnishing an abundance of milk; but if the aim be cream or butter we do not care whether the amount of milk be large or small, so it yields a proper amount of tration of action necessary to a quick butter fat.

But if the dairyman deems the rearing of calves only a "side issue," and be raised this year. as a result gives only indifferent treatment, he might just as well buy his own cows; for a stunted calf is a pitiable object, and will never fulfill its destiny, no matter what its after treatment may be.

FATTENING CHICKENS IN COOPS. Although the cramming machine in the hands of an expert will probably give the best results in firished product, small coops for fattening chickens will be found the most profitable by most chicken raisers. These coops are used very largely in England and have been adopted successfully by the Canadian Government. The accompanying illustration shows a coop divided into three parts, which will hold a dozen chickens. These coops are built of lathe and one inch square pieces for the framework. Each part is two feet long, sixteen inches wide and twenty inches high, which experiments have shown to be the best size.

The coops are placed out of doors in the shade, either under trees or in an open shed, but in severe weather should be placed in a closed building. A small V-shaped trough is used to hold the feed, and water is supplied in a cup, which may be fastened to the slats. Young chickens from four to for fattening. little tallow is added to the feed, which at all times is mixed with skim milk. In a trial with 100 chickens, Professor James W. Robinson, of Canada, found that they almost doubled in weight in thirty-six days of feeding. For every pound of increase in live weight they consumed 5.44 pounds ground oats and 6.43 pounds skimnilk. At $1 per 100 pounds for ground oats and twenty cents per 100 pounds of skimmilk, the cost was nearly six and three-quarter cents per pound gain for feed only. While the increase in weight was nearly 100 per comin, this gain was mostly of flesh. Three chickens dressed before fattening weighed, with feathers off, eight pounds and eight ounces. After this period of fattening, three chickens, of the same quality at the start, weighed, with feathers off, sixteen pounds four ounces, their bones one pound eleven ounces, and the edible meat seven pounds six ounces. Not only was there a gain of about 200 per cent in edible meat, but it was of much a month in coops of this kind and fed in a similar manner, they will return

The question of the relative nutritive value of different kinds of bread is discussed, from the scientific point of view, in an article in the current Harper's Weekly by Harry Snyder, chemist of the United States Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Minnesota. Some recent trials made by the Department of Agriculture have shown some interesting results, says Mr. Snyder. A number of men in sound health-working men, students, athletes, thin and fat men-were chosen as subjects. In one set of tests the men were fed for several days on graham bread and milk, then white bread was substituted for the graham. The conclusion reached was that the graham flour contained the highest and the pafent flour the lowest percentage of total protein (glutinous matter), but that the proportions of digestible protein and available energy in the patent flour were larger than in either the entire wheat or the graham flour. FAMOUS MAN DEAD

George Francis Train Dies After a Varied Life

HE ACCOMPLISHED MANY THINGS

Starting in an Humble Capacity, He Forged Ahead to the Front Ranks in the World,

New York, Special.-George Francis Train, who died here Monday night, probably was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of America. Only a year ago, when he was then 74 years old, he dictated the reminiscences of his extraordinary ca. reer, and the result was published in book form. Summarized in his own curious fashion, this contained information about his life:/

"Shipping clerk, 16; manager, 18; partner in Train & Co., 20, with an income of $10,000; established the firm of George Francis Train & Co., Melbourne, Australia, 1853; agent White Star Line, income $90,000; started 40 clippers to California in 1849; built railroad connecting Erie with Ohio and Mississippi; pioneered the first street railway in Europe, America, Australia and England; built first Pacific railway, 1862-1869; owned 5,000 lots in Omaha, worth $3,000,000; been in 15 jails without a crime."

Mr. Train's parents, with several brothers and sisters, died at New Oreans from yellow fever, and his childhood home was on his grandmother's farm in Massachusetts. Not long after entering the Boston shipping house founded by his cousin, he went abroad and from that time on he wandered all over the globe.

In 1873 he began a career as lecturer and agitator, and held public debates with some of the ablest orators in the country. A few years ago he made a trip around the world in 60 days, saying afterwards that his psychic force enabled him to overcome all obstacles. When Mills' Hotel No. 1 was opened several years ago, Mr. Train went there to live, and since then made it his headquarters. One of the features of his eventful life was his admiration for children, and for years a familiar spec. tacle in Madison Square was "Citizen" Train on a bench surrounded by a group of little ones. Mr. Train's last adventure occurred last summer, when he was quarantined at Stamford, Conn., in a smallpox isolation camp and threatened that city with a suit for $50,000 damages. He was the author of at least 50 books and frequently asserted that his psychic power eventually would make him the most potent sovereign of the earth.

Coffin Factory Burned. Burlington, N. C., Special .- One of the most disastrous fires in the history of Burlington originated in the factory building of the Burlington Coffin Company of this place about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The plant consisted of three large buildings besides the engine and boiler house, dry kilns, storing sheds, etc., and was one of the largest business enterprises of Burlington, as well as one of the principal casket factories south of Baltimore, and has been doing a very prosperous business. Owing to the intensely cold weather this morning, work in the factory building was not resumed. The origin of the fire is unknown, for when the fire was discovered the entire second story of the factory building was in flames, which soon reached every part of the building and spread to the engine and boiler house, the dry kilns, and to an immense quantity of lumber on the yards. The factory was equipped with a very complete outfit of machinery, most of it being of the latest and most improved designs, all of which was lost together with the entire stock of patterns, coffin bits and machine room. An immense quantity of lumber was in stock, more than 250,000 feet of which were burned, together with a large stock of covered casket shells. The total loss is estimated at from $25,000 to $30,000, with about $10,000 insurance on the factory building and the machinery. It is understood that the company will rebuild, probably upon an enlarged plan, at as early a date as practicable.

A SOFT-HEARTED BAKER

Assumed Woes of Actress Too Much for His Composure. Recently a new play was performed in Prague, the principal characters in which are a beautiful your lady and a brilliant young officer but are unable to marry because they are as poor as church mice. True the young lady has a very rich uncle, from whom she and will not give her a farthing. The wees of the lovers touched the hearts of many in the audience, butonly one person proved really equal to the occasion. This was a worthy and wealthy baker, who had actually been moved to tears by the distressing scenes on the stage. At last his heart overflowed, and the moment the rich uncle vanished with a bitter sneer at his niece's folly on his lips, he rushed from his seat to the footlights and. taking a well-filled purse from his pocket, handed it to the astonished heroine, saying:

hopes to obtain aid, but she very soon

discovers that he is an arrant miser

"Here, take this-you'll find a good dowry in it-and have nothing more to do with that wretched miser." Every one in the theater roared at the good fellow's simplicity and generosity, but he could not see that he had done anything unusual, and, as he refused to take back the purse, the heroine, with a smile, laid it on a table, and the play went on.

Simplicity. One need not be a Buddhist to realize the folly of many human wishes. It is too evident that the desires of today are artificial desires. They are created on the one hand by those who have things to sell and on the other hand by those who have so much money that they must spend it foolishly to show that they have it. Someone's desire for profits or some one's desire for display are often at the bottom of the desire for this and that and the other desire which you feel for bric-a-brac and gewgaws of dress.

Beautiful things are not necessarily expensive, they are usually simple in line and color. Look about your room and pick out all the unnecessary. But you do not want ten beautiful pictures in one room nor ten beautiful vases.

Simplify your rooms! Then look at your clothes and notice the unnecessary trimming which adds only to the bill and to the labor of those who make them. The effective gowns on the stage, are always simple; they depend for their beauty, too, upon line and color.

Simplify your clothes! But if you do neither of these things in the right spirit if you do not simplify first of all-your dress.

PLANS THAT WENT WRONG.

Showing How Hard It Is to Drive Folks Into Matrimony. Once upon a time, before everybody had learned to attend strictly to his own affairs, a man and a maid were in love with each other, but, though this was patent to all their friends, neither of them knew it. However, their friends said unanimously: "We will demonstrate it to them and write a triumphant Q. E. D. upon their wedding morn." Therefore, the maid never was invited anywhere that she did not find the man invited also; nor was the man invited anywhere but that he found the maid likewise a guest. Furthermore, the man always was detailed to take the maid in to dinner, and they could not so much as glance at each other without everybody else having an errand out of the room, and society became a vast manufactory of oppor tunities for them to revel in each other's company alone and undisturbed. Now, before this had time to become a habit with them, both the man and the maid penetrated the dark

Whereupon the maid tossed her head, saying: "They needn't think I have only one chance," and immediately betrothed herself to an impeculious fortune hunter whose only recommendation was his title.

And thereupon the man hastily married himself to a grass widow from Chicago, whose reputation, they do say, was responsible for the big fire. Consequently all their friends nodded their heads sagely, and whispered to each other, "Didn't I tell you so?"-Alex Ricketts in Philadelphia Ledger.

and Endorse Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day. Catarrh, as every one will admit, is the cause of one-half the disease which afflicts mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.

................................ Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington. D. C., writes: "Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesttation in prescribing it to my patients." -- Robert R. Roberts. ****************

Dr. R. Robbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes: "Peruna is the best medicine I know o for coughs and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Besides prescrib ing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not had a patient but said it helped him. It is pressed nerve centres. This is what Pean excellent medicine and it fits so many runa does.
