WEDNESDAY, MAR. 8, 1905.

His Honor, Judge R. W. Meminger, says that the small number of cases upon the criminal calendar reflects credit upon Edgefield county.

Those who need lime had better purchase now, even anticipating their needs. The committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the dispensary is soon to begin work and it is predicted that so much lime will be consumed in whitewashing the dispensary that the price will advance by leaps and bounds.

We do not exactly see why South Carolinians should fall over each other in their pell-mell rush to thank President Roosevelt for bestowing a belated honor upon South Carolina, that of naming one of his "dogs of war"—a battleship—for the Palmetto state.

The dispensary and its management are being roundly scored by many papers in the state. The following is what the Barnwell Sentinel says about the Hub of the institution:

"In Evansville, South Carolina with a salary of $400, when many a poor devil, with $600 or $700, has to scratch for hungry mouths? Ye economists, if ye will, tell us how a man can give box parties, draw around the streets of Rock Hill in a coach and pair on the pitiful sum of $400 per annum. There is something rotten in the State of South Carolina, and it seeks from Columbia to Barnwell."

Acres to be Reduced.

We confidently believe that the cotton acreage in this county will be considerably less than that of last year. The editor of the Advertiser, as secretary of the Edgefield Cotton Growers Association, recently wrote, as directed by the association, to a number of representative farmers in the townships that have not organized, urging them to organize.

Two Classes of Students.

And still the wonder grows why some parents will toil day and night, making every sacrifice possible in order to send their children to school, and then be so little concerned about the progress the children make in their studies, and the real benefit derived from going to school.

An Honor to the Race.

"I want to say for the honor of your race that in seven years' tenure of this office you are the first Israelite I have ever seen in the prisoner's dock." These words, uttered by Judge Gage in passing sentence upon a young Hebrew in Charleston, who pleaded guilty to an indictment for arson, are worthy of special notice.

While they have faults and shortcomings that are common to humanity, they are a modest, unobtrusive, loyal, law-abiding people. Probably ninety nine per cent of them are traders, and how well versed some are in the "tricks of trade" has almost become proverbial, but where is the man to cast the first stone?

Facts and Figures That Prove That Intensive Farming Pays

Mr. Editor: For some time I have thought that I would give my experience in making corn and cotton for the benefit of others.

In 1902 I purchased a small farm which was very poor indeed. I decided at once to see what I could make this land do by thorough preparation and surface cultivation.

I first sowed it in oats in the fall of 1902 with a grain drill, applying about 300 pounds of acid phosphate per acre. I made a very good grain crop.

In the fall of 1903 I broadcasted about 40 two-horse wagon loads of rough manure on this same field of ten acres. I then turned it with a two-horse plow, following in each furrow with an Oliver sub soil plow with four mules to it.

One word more about subsoiling. You get the best results by subsoiling in the fall, for at that season you are more apt to find the hard pan dry. It will not pay to subsoil when the hard pan is wet.

Mr. Editor, I have often read of other farmers making large crops of corn and cotton elsewhere, but this was made just outside the incorporated limits of the little town of Edgefield.

Cold Spring.

The rewards of great living are not external things, withheld until the crowning hour of success arrives; they come by the way—in the consciousness of growing power and worth of duties nobly met and work thoroughly done.

Got Off Cheap.

He may well think, he has got off cheap, who, after having contracted constipation or indigestion, is still able to perfectly restore his health.
