ITS MERIT IS PROVED

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

A Prominent Cincinnati Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cured Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About nine months ago I was a great sufferer with womb trouble, which caused me severe pain extreme nervousness and frequent headaches, from which the doctor failed to relieve me. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and within a short time felt better, and after taking five bottles of it I was entirely cured. I therefore heartily recommend your Compound as a splendid uterine tonic. It makes the monthly periods regular and without pain; and what a blessing it is to find such a remedy after so many doctors fail to help you. I am pleased to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. Sara Wilson, 31 East 3d Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

If you have suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, leucorrhœa, flooding, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, backache or the blues, these are sure indications of female weakness, some derangement of the uterus or ovarian trouble. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BALD MEN'S HAIR CUTS.

Less Hair a Man Has, the Often Does He Have It Trimmed.

The secretive, taciturn barber was finally induced to talk. He remarked: "I've noticed one peculiarity about my customers that I could never quite explain. The less hair a man has the more attention he pays to it.

"There's a real estate agent who comes in here nearly every week for a hair cut, and if I shave him clean from the back of his collar to his forehead you'd never know that I'd touched him.

He's got a short, light-colored fringe that plays around the rim of his hat, like the soft, fluffy fringe you see on those shawls the women wear over their shoulders, but you'd think to hear him, that he could braid it and do it up in coils. Wants me to be particular and trim it close on the neck and around the ears.

"I humor him, of course. I take a handful of somebody else's hair and sprinkle it on the cloth I put on him, and then I snip the air gently for 10 or 15 minutes and make a great ado when I whisk him off.

Nine out of every ten of the baldheads are that way, but men who've got plenty of hair will keep away from here until they look like the edges of an old-fashioned hayloft. It's curious, and, as I said, I never could account for it."—Providence Journal

THE SIMPLE LIFE

Ways That Are Pleasant and Paths That Are Peace.

It is the simple life that gives length of days, serenity of mind and body and tranquility of soul.

Simple hopes and ambitions, bounded by the desire to do good to one's neighbors, simple pleasures, habits, food and drink.

Men die long before their time because they try to crowd too much into their experiences—they climb too high and fall too hard. A wise woman writes of the good that a simple diet has done her:

"I have been using Grape-Nuts for about six months. I began rather sparingly, until I acquired such a liking for it that for the last three months I have depended upon it almost entirely for my diet, eating nothing else whatever but Grape-Nuts for breakfast and supper, and I believe I could eat it for dinner with fruit and be satisfied without other food, and feel much better and have more strength to do my housework.

"When I began the use of Grape-Nuts I was thin and weak, my muscles were so soft that I was not able to do any work. I weighed only 108 pounds. Nothing that I ate did me any good. I was going down hill rapidly, was nervous and miserable, with no ambition for anything. My condition improved rapidly after I began to eat Grape-Nuts food. It made me feel like a new woman; my muscles got solid, my figure rounded out, my weight increased to 126 pounds in a few weeks, my nerves grew steady and my mind better and clearer. My friends tell me they haven't seen me look so well for years.

"I consider Grape-Nuts the best food on the market, and shall never go back to meats and white bread again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SPOKE TO MOTHERS

President Roosevelt Made a Vigorous and Wholesome Address

THE GLORY OF TRUE MOTHERHOOD

In an Address Before a National Gathering the President Emphasizes the Prime Importance of a Wholesome Home Life to the Perpetuity of the Nation and the Happiness of the Individual.

Washington, Special.—An address by President Roosevelt was the feature of the evening session of the National Congress of Mothers, now holding its tri-ennial convention at the Metropolitan M. E. church. There was an immense attendance. The President was formally introduced to the audience by Mrs. Frederick Schoff, of Philadelphia, the president of the congress. He read his speech, but occasionally interjected some extemporaneous remarks to emphasize a point. The President spoke as follows:

"In our modern industrial civilization there are many and grave dangers to counterbalance the splendors and the triumphs. It is not a good thing to see cities grow at disproportionate speed relatively to the country; for the small land owners, the men who own their little homes, and therefore to a very large extent the men who till farms, the men of the soil, have hitherto made the foundation of lasting national life in every State; and if the foundation becomes either too weak or too narrow, the superstructure, no matter how attractive, is in imminent danger of falling.

"But far more important than the question of the occupation of our citizens is the question of how their family life is conducted. No matter what that occupation may be, as long as there is a real home and as long as those who make up that home do their duty to one another, to their neighbors and to the State, it is of minor consequence whether the man's trade is plied in the country or the city, whether it calls for the work of the hands or for the work of the head.

"But the nation is in a bad way if there is no real home, if the family is not of the right kind; if the man is not a good husband and father, if he is brutal or cowardly or selfish, if the woman has lost her sense of duty, if she is sunk in vapid self-indulgence or has let her nature be twisted so that she prefers a sterile pseudo-intellectuality to that great and beautiful development of character which comes only to those whose lives know the fullness of duty done, of effort made and self-sacrifice undergone.

HOME LIFE ALL-IMPORTANT.

"In the last analysis the welfare of the State depends absolutely upon whether or not the average family, the average man and woman and their children, represent the kind of citizenship fit for the foundation of a great nation; and if we fail to appreciate this we fail to appreciate the root morality upon which all healthy civilization is based.

"No piled-up wealth, no splendor of material growth, no brilliance of artistic development, will permanently avail any people unless its home life is healthy, unless the average man possesses honesty, courage, common sense, and decency, unless he works hard and is willing at need to fight hard; and unless the average woman is a good wife, a good mother, able and willing to perform the first and greatest duty of womanhood, able and willing to bear, and to bring up as they should be brought up, healthy children, sound in body, mind and character, and numerous enough so that the race will increase and not decrease.

DIVISION OF LABOR BY SEX.

"There are certain old truths which will be true as long as the world endures, and which no amount of progress can alter. One of these is the truth that the primary duty of the husband is to be the home maker, the bread-winner for his wife and children, and that the primary duty of the woman is to be the helpmeet, the housewife and mother. The woman should have ample educational advantages; but save in exceptional cases the man must be, and she need not be, and generally ought not to be trained for a life-long career as the family bread-winner; and, therefore, after a certain point the training of the two must normally be different because the duties of the two are normally different. This does not mean inequality of function, but it does mean that normally there must be dissimilarity of function. On the whole, I think the duty of the woman the more important, the more difficult, and the more honorable of the two; on the whole I respect the woman who does her duty even more than I respect the man who does his.

WOMAN'S WORK THE NOBLER.

"No ordinary work done by a man is either as hard or responsible as the work of a woman who is bringing up a family of small children; for upon her time and strength demands are made not only every hour of the day but often every hour of the night. She may have to get up night after night to take care of a sick child, and yet must by day continue to do all her household duties as well; and if the family means are scant she must usually enjoy even her rare holidays taking her whole brood of children with her. The birth pangs make all men the debtors of all women. Above all our sympathy and regard are due to the struggling wives among those whom Abraham Lincoln called the plain people, and whom he so loved and trusted; for the lives of these women are often led on the lonely heights of quiet, self-sacrificing heroism.

"Just as the happiest and most honorable and most useful task that can be set any man is to earn enough for the support of his wife and family, for the bringing up and starting in life of his children so the most important, the most honorable and desirable task which can be set any woman is to be a good wise mother in a home marked by self respect and mutual forbearance, by willingness to perform duty, and by refusal to sink into self-indulgence or avoid that which entails effort and self-sacrafice. Of course there are exceptional men and exceptional women who can do and ought to do much more than this, who can lead and ought to lead great careers of outside usefulness in addition to—not as substitutes for—their home work; but I am not speaking of exceptions; I am speaking of the primary duties, I am speaking of the primary citizen, the average men and women who make up the nation.

Treaty Likely to Fail.

Washington, Special.—The discussion of the Dominican treaty, in the legislative session of the Senate Tuesday, resulted in the drawing of party lines. The Democrats who have been reported as likely to support the treaty will return to the fold, it is said, and on both sides of the chamber it is admitted there is little prospect that the convention will be ratified. The Republicans have been depending on some Democratic support and have counted as certain the votes of Senators McEnery and Foster, of Louisiana, and Clarke, of Arkansas.

DECISION IN LIBEL CASE

State Supreme Court Hands Down Important Opinion.

Columbia, Special.—An important decision was handed down in the Superior Court involving libel suits of $10,000 each against The Charleston News and Courier and The Charleston Post by Augustus M. Flood, who was referred to in both publications as a "colored man," in their mention of his suit against the Charleston Street Railway. The decision is against the newspapers and the cases go back to Charleston for the assessment of such damages as a jury may see fit. The reference to Flood as a colored man was an error which the one paper fell into by reason of the other's lack of diligence, and both papers promptly apologized when the mistake was called to their attention. In the complaint Mr. Flood alleges that the reference to him as a colored man damaged his social and business position to the extent of $10,000 in each case. The defendants demurred on the ground that under the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Federal constitution to refer to a man as a negro is not libelous per se and that to refer to a white man as a negro when he is not a negro is an apparent mistake which can do him no harm. The Supreme court reserves this position and holds that in spite of the Federal constitution it is libelous per se to refer to a white man as a negro, inasmuch as the laws of this State forbid social equality by its jim crow car laws, its laws against miscegenation and otherwise.

The decision in the newspaper case is written by Chief Justice Pope and it is very exhaustive. Among the parallel cases referred to is one in which a reporter referred to a white man as a "cultured gentleman," the "intelligent compositor "set it up" "colored gentleman," and the proofreader changed it to "negro." The Supreme Court says:

"The only question presented by this appeal is, 'Is it libelous per se to publish a white man as a negro?' To call a white man a negro affects the social status of any white man so referred to." Authorities are quoted on this point and the court continues: "When we stop to think of the racial distinction subsisting between the white man and the black man, it must be apparent that to impute the condition of a negro to a white man would affect his, the white man's, social status, and in case any one published a white man to be a negro, it would not only be galling to his pride, but would tend to interfere seriously with the social relation of the white man with his fellow white men; and to protect the white man from such publication it is necessary to bring such a charge to an issue quickly."

In Strauder vs. West Virginia, the court held that these amendments, twelfth, fourteenth and fifteenth, were designed to accord members of the negro race the same protection in life, liberty and property which was already enjoyed by the white race, and nowhere does the court in that state refer to the social relations of each race. The statute law of this State forbids the association of the two races, in such a way it excludes the negro from white society and vice versa. By the miscegenation statutes, the intermarriage of the two races is forbidden and made a crime. Railroads are required to furnish separate coaches for the two races. White children and colored children are forbidden to attend the same school. Various opinions are quoted to show that publishing a white man as a negro has been held to be libelous by various courts.

The court then quotes the language of the three amendments to the constitution of the United States referred to and argues that it must be apparent from consulting the texts that there is not the slightest reference to the social condition of the two races. "All take pleasure," it is stated in the opinion, "in bowing to the authority of the United States in regard to these amendments, but we would be very far from admitting that the social distinction subsisting between the two races has been in any wise affected." In concluding the court holds:

"We, therefore, hold that these three amendments to the Federal constitution have not destroyed the law of this State, which makes the publication of a white man as a negro anything but libel. The judgment of this court is that hte judgment of the Circuit Court be reversed when it sustained the demurrer in this case and the action is remanded to the Circuit Court for such other proceedings as may be in accordance with law."

Chester's Monument.

Chester, Special—The Chester Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at their meeting last week, arranged the programme for the exercises of laying the corner stone of the Confederate monument here on the 11th of April. Judge William H. Brawley, of Charleston, a native of Chester, will deliver the principal address. Rev. Dr. J. S. Clifton, of Orangeburg, also a Chester county man, has been invited to attend and make an address in the afternoon. Judge Brawley was a member of the Sixth Regiment, South Carolina Infantry; Dr. Clifton of the First Regiment of cavalry.

Street Railway in Operation.

Anderson, Special.—The street railway system has been completed and cars are now running on all the lines. The work began several months ago and has been pushed forward steadily since then as well as conditions would permit. The system is an excellent one, and the traffic has been exceedingly encouraging to the company. The lines reach all the cotton mills with one exception. It is probable that new lines will be built during the summer.

Burned on Wagon.

Greenville, Special.—Five bales of cotton belonging to J. C. Roe, of Traveler's Rest, were burned on a wagon in the country road a few miles from the city. The staple was almost a complete loss. The theory is advanced that the cotton was set on fire from a cigar which was being smoked by one of the parties who helped load the cotton, or by matches being dropped in the wagon, which might have ignited by friction caused by the jolting of the wagon.

Passed Forged Check.

Newport News, Va., Special.—John Rodgers, alias John Roddey, who has been acting as stewart at the Newport Naval Hospital, was arrested on the charge of passing a forged check on the German Savings Bank, of Memphis, Tenn. The man was arrested on a minor warrant, and the police recognized him from a description sent out from Memphis.

The Copeland Lumber and Ginning Company, of Carter's Crossing, Darlington county, was given a commission. Capitalization, $3,000.

Rojestvensky Recalled.

Washington, Special.—There is high authority for the statement that the Russian Second Pacific squadron has been recalled by the Russian government. While not regarded as a sure sign of peace, the recall of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, in the opinion of European chancellors, is regarded as a hopeful sign that peace is at hand.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

Nineteen Charred Bodies Tell Grim Story of Death

ROASTED IN A TENEMENT HOUSE

More Than 40 Others Were Injured, and Only a Few of the Sleeping Inmates of the Building, Which is on the New York East Side, Escaped Unhurt.

New York, Special.—Nineteen persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the five-story house, 1,005 Allen street, early Friday. More than 40 were injured and only a few of the sleeping inmates escaped unhurt. Several of those who perished were roasted to death in plain view of thousands in the streets. Coroner Goldenkrane declared after an investigation that he had reason to believe the blaze was the work of an incendiary. He issued subpoenas for the fire marshal, tenement house and building inspector and health and police officials to appear before him at the inquest Thursday.

The fire started in the basement and spread with frightful rapidity to the roof. The victims were caught in traps of flames, the halls and exits being rendered impassable in a few minutes after the blaze started. The building was one of the usual tenement and the disaster was the worst in the history of the East Side. The district attorney's office has begun an investigation to place the blame for the great loss of life. Chief Croker, of the fire department, asserts that the police and the tenement house departments are to blame for the violations of the fire escape law. The tenement house department officials, however, say that the blame is on the shoulders of the fire commissioner.

Of the nineteen dead, three bodies, those of a boy and two girls remain unidentified.

Crowded fire escapes in the rear of the tenement house were largely responsible for so many deaths and injuries among its population, which approached 200 souls.

The scenes were heartrending. The fire started in the basement, occupied by Isaac Davis, his wife and three children. When Davis reached his home early this morning and went into his store on the same floor he saw a kerosene lamp in the rear explode. He awoke his wife and both tried to put out the flaming lamp but without success. A policeman who heard the cry of alarm rushed to the scene and every effort was made to arouse the sleeping people. Meantime the flames had spread with startling rapidity and the occupants of the upper floors awoke to find themselves confronted by a wall of flames on nearly every side. Panic-stricken people rushed to the fire escapes only to find them literred with rubbish. On some of the escapes the rubibsh was so closely packed that it became impossible to pass certain points and men, women and children stood literally roasting to death as the flames reared through windows around them. One of the escapes was manned by Policeman John J. Down, who had run a plank across to the window of an adjoining building. He rescued nearly a dozen persons, but finally fell 20 feet to the paved yard and shattered his shoulder. Dozens of people were taken from the crowded fire escapes and upper windows. By this time the building was a furnace and the rescues were effected in many cases only through heroic efforts of the firemen. Lieutenant Bonner, son of the former chief, descended the now red hot fire escapes five times. Four times he brought down a woman or a child in his arms. The fifth time he was descending with an unconscious woman but staggared and was barely saved from death. Once Bonner rescued a little girl from a window where she stood surrounded by flames. She pleaded with him to leave her on the escape and go in after her little brother whom she said had fallen unconscious. Bonner jumped into what looked like a furnace, found the boy and saved him.

Total Dead 111.

Birmingham, Ala., Special:—With the removal of the last four bodies from the Virginia mine, the total fatalities from the awful explosion of February 20 was swelled to 111. The recovery of the bodies has been a slow and difficult task. The fund which was raised for the relief of the widows and orphans left by the disaster reached nearly $30,000, and this is being distributed among them in the form of semi-monthly allowance by a committee of prominent ministers in the Birmingham district.

BIRD INVESTS WITH POWER.

Superstition Connected with Jeweled Toy of England's King.

When as a girl Amelie de France, now Queen of Portugal, first visited Windsor Castle, the mystic jeweled bird which was taken from the throne of Tippoo Sahib and presented by the East India Company to George III., was the object of her profoundest admiration. In fact, it fascinated her romantic soul, and Queen Victoria, who had a strong strain of romance in her nature, quite understood her young guest's feeling, so she ordered the bird to be taken to the princess' apartment, in order that a sketch might be made of the treasure. The first thing the Queen of Portugal asked for the night she entered the banqueting hall on the King's arm and saw the blaze of the celebrated gold plate upon the buffet, was this jeweled bird! His majesty immediately ordered that it should be placed upon the table in front of the Queen, that she might gaze upon it at her leisure.

There are many legends woven about that bird. A London journal says the Hindoos call it "Uma," and they say that whoever owns Uma must reign over India. It is supposed to have the gift of locomotion, and it alights upon the head of whosoever it endows with royal power. It is about twelve inches long, and is shaped like a pigeon with an exaggerated tail. Rubies, brilliants, emeralds and pearls are sewn about the quivering feathers of filagree gold work; it holds a priceless ruby in its beak, and an emerald of great size and luster hangs from its breast. The bird shares with the Kohinoor the superstitious regard of the Hindoos. While the Uma folds its wings in the castle on the Thames, and while the Kohinoor blazes in the English crown, there is nothing else to do but be as good subjects of King Edward as may be. It is the will of the gods.

"Burned" by Cold.

Intense cold, as is well known, burns—if we may use the term—like heat. If a "drop" of air at a temperature of 180 degrees below zero were placed upon the hand it would have the same effect as would the same quantity of molten steel or lead. Every one who has the care of horses ought to know the pain inflicted by placing a frosted bit in a horse's mouth. It burns like hot iron.

Piso's Cure is the best medicine we ever used for all affections of throat and lungs.—WM. O. ENDSLEY, Vanburen, Ind., Feb. 10, 1900.

London bridge is crossed every day by 220,000 people.

Strict but fruitless search was made in the vaults under the Italian Chamber of Deputies recently, the Speaker having received an anonymous letter stating that the House would be blown up during a certain sitting.

A QUICK RECOVERY.

A Prominent Officer of the Rebeccas Writes to Thank Doan's Kidney Pills For It.

Mrs. C. E. Bumgardner, a local officer of the Rebeccas, of Topeka, Kans., Room 10, 812 Kansas avenue, writes: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills during the past year for kidney trouble and kindred ailments. I was suffering from pains in the back and headaches, but found after the use of one box of the remedy that the troubles gradually disappeared, so that before I had finished a second package I was well. I, therefore, heartily endorse your remedy."

Let Common Sense Decide

Do you honestly believe, that coffee sold loose (in bulk), exposed to dust, germs and insects, passing through many hands (some of them not over-clean), "blended," you don't know how or by whom, is fit for your use? Of course you don't. But is another story. The green berries, selected by keen judges at the plantation, are skillfully roasted at our factories, where precautions you would not dream of are taken to secure perfect cleanliness, flavor, strength and uniformity.

From the time the coffee leaves the factory no hand touches it till it is opened in your kitchen.

This has made LION COFFEE the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES.

Millions of American Homes welcome LION COFFEE daily. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity. "Quality survives all opposition."

(Sold only in 1 lb. packages. Lion-head on every package.)
