LOCAL NEWS.

We direct especial attention to the new advertisements of Miss Mary Buford and Mr. J. W. Peak.

Let not the emphasis of hospitality lie in bed or board, but let truth, love, honor, and courtesy flow in all thy deeds.—Emerson.

Mr. James B. Kennerly spent Monday and Tuesday at Cokesbury with his father, Mr. John Kennerly. He went primarily to see his aunt, Mrs. Julia Glass, who has been very ill for some time and is now at death's door.

Master Sterling Merriman, the second son of Mrs. M. E. Merriman, has headed the scriptural injunction by remembering his Creator in the days of his youth.

The best 10 cents Salmon on the market can be had at G. L. PENN & SON.

Some of the Edgefield farmers have cotton yet to burn. Only a few days ago—think of it, nearly the middle of April—a farmer came to town to purchase bagging and ties, saying that he had not ginned any of his cotton crop.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wright and Miss Leora Wright who represented the union of Johnston in the B. Y. P. U. convention in Charleston, added much to the pleasure of the convention and especially for the Edgefield delegation, being exceedingly congenial and delightful companions.

When you want the best smoke that the town affords try "Nathaniel Macon" or a Dan Emmett cigar.

A dear young girl who visits Edgefield quite frequently and who is a general favorite, has been bidding adieu to her Edgefield friends as they departed from Charleston on Saturday last.

Mr. J. H. P. Roper has had his farm in the suburbs of our town prepared as carefully as many gardens are prepared for planting. Already he has a perfect stand of corn that is looking beautifully.

Our embroideries are the talk of the town. Don't fail to see them before you purchase.

Since leaving Edgefield Dr. E. C. Smith has devoted much time and attention to building his hosiery plant which is located a few miles from Williston.

Our plant will be in operation, we trust that our merchants will become Dr. Smith's patrons. We want to wear some of the doctor's socks—we mean socks that be manufacture.

We congratulate the ladies of Horn's Creek church upon their success. After laboring in season and out of season for some months to raise money with which to purchase a carpet for their church they have at last reached the goal—raised sufficient food to make the purchase.

As is usually the case with all strangers who come within our gates, these visitors were perfectly charmed with Edgefield. Notwithstanding the fact that they had travelled extensively through out this country and Europe they declared that they had never visited any other place that approached so near their ideal of a place to reside as did Edgefield.

Let us fill your prescriptions. We use only the best drug.

Baptist Revival Services. For some months the pastor and members of our Baptist church have been contemplating holding a series of revival services.

FOR SALE: I have a choice lot of Florida Cotten seed that I desire to sell. I have given these seed special attention, handling them very carefully, and they are absolutely pure.

Our success in Edgefield has been far beyond our expectation. We have sold a great number of hats but still have many beautiful ones left.

Better give your premises a spring cleaning at once. The board of health will make a tour of inspection this week.

The members of historic old Gilgal church are up and doing. They have succeeded in raising sufficient funds to repaint and otherwise improve their house of worship.

Mr. James A. Dozier, who now occupies first place in the shoe department of the mammoth store of J. B. White, having been chosen buyer and manager, visited his sisters, Mrs. H. A. Smith and Miss Alleen Dozier on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Taylor believe in beautifying their home and making all of the surroundings attractive. Would that more home owners in Edgefield were of the same bent of mind.

If you would be relieved of that tired feeling take Penn's Bitters.

Of all the one hundred and twenty-five delegates to the B. Y. P. U. convention in Charleston, many of whom were young ladies, not one received more attention or was more generally admired than Miss Mattie Hill Wardlaw.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Latimer, of Augusta, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holstein several days last week. They were perfectly charmed with our little city.

Met After Twenty-Two Years. Dr. Frank E. Comstock, accompanied by his wife, was the guest of the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Latimer.

Though his mind was untutored—though his features lacked the softening influence of culture and training—though his poorly clad body bore the marks of exposure and arduous labor which lasted through a period of four score years, yet there was a heart within his breast that beat warm and tender for his friends of both races.

Two Marshals to be Elected.

On Friday afternoon the town council will elect two marshals to serve for the ensuing year. We understand that quite a number of applications have been filed, and we trust that these gentlemen into whose keeping has been committed the administration of the municipal government will act cautiously in this matter, weighing carefully the applications that are before them.

Mr. E. L. Stevens is Dead. Just before closing our forms for the press on Tuesday morning the sad intelligence of the death of Mr. E. L. Stevens, that gentle, amiable, sweet-spirited, universal beloved citizen of Meeting Street, reached us.

He will be greatly missed by his neighbors and friends, church and community, but where he will be missed most will be in the home whose inmates he loved so tenderly. However, these sorely bereaved hearts know in whom he trusted and can look forward to a reunited home circle in that better land where the cords of love will be severed no more.

Advertiser's Pressman Dead. Poor "Uncle" Randall! His mortal frame is now mouldering in the cold earth.
