WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7, 1905.

The steady increase in the number of inmates of the State Hospital for the Insane is appalling. At present there are 1258 of these unfortunate individuals, sixty of whom were admitted in May.

Corn has been advancing recently by leaps and bounds but so far as our observation extends the rise in price has not had the effect of increasing the acreage of late corn.

It augurs well for the future of society and the state to receive reports from almost every section to the effect that school buildings svil and one which involves the are being enlarged, improved and loss of his highest life. - Selected. better equipped for the next seseion. The fires of patriotism are burning low in Edgefield. In all of the large cities and in many of the smaller towns of the state, last Saturday, the anniversary of the birthday of Jefferson Davis, was "The New Century Woman", her sons upon the battle field as well as their achievements in the forum, takes little or no heed of the days and occasions that are set apart for the ng honor to the memories of whose lives country's serwere spent in the

Again the army officer, Major Wm. R. Hamilton, who recently inspected the Citadel, pronounced it be one of the foremost institutions of the kind in the countrysecond only to West Point. So high is the standard maintained at the Citadel that its graduates receive the appointment as second lieutenants in the regular army with equal rank and standing of the West Point graduates. This for "The Door of Hope". This distinguished honor is shown to the graduates of no other military school in the country. The inspecting officer viewed with wonder the high class of work that institution is doing on so small an appropriation, deploring the fact that it is not greater. Of all of South Carolina's institutions of learning of none should others received tickets. Many the people feel prouder than the went to hear the music an . see Citadel Academy.

"Do Your Utmost."

"The destiny of our empire deperds on this action. You are all expected to do your utmost.' These are said to have been the last words that Admiral Togo signalled to his fleet from his flagship when he sighted the enemy. Such a message at that crucial moment proved to be an inspiration to the men who carried to and arousing the patriotism that animated their breasts.
