TOUR SOUTH GREAT EVENT

Presidential Party Received a Rousing Ovation
WELCOME WAS BOUNDLESS
Everywhere the Nation's Chief Executive Was the Recipient of Typical Southern Hospitality—Happy in His Speeches—Well Up on Local History—Greeted With Enthusiasm by Enormous Crowds.

The splendid Southern tour of President Roosevelt began with his visit to Richmond on Wednesday. Thousands upon thousands of patriotic citizens poured out at the capital city of the Old Dominion to do homage by their presence to the nation's first citizen. No printed account can do justice to the enthusiastic reception accorded the distinguished guests of the city and the State. Addressing the tremendous throng present, Mr. Roosevelt, among many tactful, patriotic and thrilling things, said:
"I trust I need hardly say how great is my pleasure at speaking in this historic capital of your historic State; the State than which no other has contributed a larger proportion to the leadership of the nation; for on the honor roll of those American worthies whose greatness is not only for the age, but for all time, not only for one nation for all the world, on this honor roll Virginia's name stands above all others. And in greeting all of you, I know that no one will grudge my saying a special word of acknowledgment to the veterans of the civil war. A man would, indeed, be but a poor American who could without a thrill witness the way in which, in city after city, in the North as well as in the South, on every public occasion, the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray now march and stand shoulder to shoulder giving tangible proof that we are all now in fact as well as in name a reunited people, a people infinitely richer because of the priceless memories left to all Americans by you men who fought in the great war. Last Memorial Day I spoke in Brooklyn at the unveiling of the statue of a Northern general, under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic, and that great audience cheered every allusion to the valor and self-devotion of the men who followed Lee as heartily as they cheered every allusion to the valor and self-devotion of the men who followed Grant.

Roosevelt in Raleigh.
Raleigh, N. C., Special.—It was Roosevelt Day in Raleigh and what is said to be the greatest number of people ever brought together in North Carolina did the President honor with true Tar Heel heartiness. This city had to face a situation brought about by the sudden death of Governor Glenn's brother, but did it cleverly and well. The features of the day were the wonderful weather, the intense interest, good order and patriotism of the crowds, the President's personality, his attentions to Confederate soldiers, and the boldness of his speech, in which he declared for complete governmental control of railways. His character and his talk were such as to appeal to North Carolinians as much as to any people on earth, for they dearly love a man who does things and they were swift and sure to recognize in the President one of their own kind of men.

Here Mr. Roosevelt dwelt at length on the great problems of the day. He spoke of the Appalachian Park, and discussed railway rate legislation in a conservative, but vigorous way. In a way, in fact, to show that he means to push some definite measure.
Great Crowds Everywhere.
Leaving Raleigh, the Presidential party made short stops at Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Salisbury, Concord and other places, where the people were out in great numbers to greet them. At Charlotte the party was taken to Yancey Park, where twenty thousand people had assembled to see and hear Mr. Roosevelt. On being introduced he said in part:
Spoke at Charlotte.
"Mr. Mayor, Mr. President, and you, my fellow-citizens, men and women of North Carolina:
"I have enjoyed more than I can say passing through the great State today. I entered your borders a pretty good American, and I leave them a better American, and I have rejoiced in the symptoms of your abounding material prosperity. I am here in a great center of cotton manufacture. Within a radius of a hundred miles of this city, perhaps half of the cotton manufacturing in the United States is done. I realize to the full, as does every good citizen, that there must be a foundation of material prosperity upon which to build the welfare of State or nation; but I realize also, as does every good citizen, that material prosperity—material well-being—can never be anything but the foundation. It is the indispensable foundation, but if we do not raise upon it the superstructure of a higher citizenship, then we fail in bringing this to the level to which it shall and will be brought. (Applause). And so, though I congratulate you upon what you have done in the way of material growth, I congratulate you even more upon the great historic memories of your State. It is not so very far from here that the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was made (applause)—the declaration that pointed out the path on which the thirteen United Colonies trod a few months later.

"As I got off the train here, I was greeted by one citizen of North Carolina (and I know that still the Governor, the Mayor, nor the Senators will blame me for what I am going to say) whose greeting pleased and touched me more than the greeting of any man could have touched me. I was greeted by the widow of Stonewall Jackson (applause). And we of this united country have a right to challenge as a part of the heritage of honor and glory of each American the reunion of the people—Americans who fought in the Civil War—whether they wore the blue or whether they wore the gray. (Applause). The valor shown alike by the men of the North and the men of the South as they battled for the right, as God gave them to see the right, is now part of what we, all of us, keep with pride. It was my good fortune to appoint to West Point the grandson of Stonewall Jackson. (Applause).
"Here, as I came up your streets, I saw a monument raised to a fellow-soldier of mine who fell in the Spanish war at Santiago—to Shipp, of North Carolina. (Applause). The morning of the fight, he and I took breakfast together. It wasn't much of a breakfast, but it was the only breakfast that was going, and we were glad to get it. The night before, I had no supper and he had his comrades gave me out of the very small amount that they had a sandwich. In the morning they had no material for breakfast but by that time my things had come up and I shared my breakfast with them. That was at dawn. Before dawn, one of them was killed, and the other (as we then thought) fatally wounded.
"And now there are here men who fought in the great war. We who went in '98 had the opportunity to fight only in a small way, and all that we claim is that we have showed a spirit not entirely unworthy of men who faced the heavily and terrible days from '61 to '65." (Applause).
Crop of Children the Best Crop.
"And now, in saying good-bye, I want to say to you men and women that I have been immensely impressed with North Carolina—with her agriculture, with her industries, but that the crop that I like best is the crop of children. (Applause) and I congratulate North Carolina on the children seem to be all right in quality and quantity." (More applause).
At the conclusion of the President's speech he was driven rapidly in an automobile to the station.
At 7.45 the train departed for Greenville with the President's party. The Charlotte people gave President Roosevelt a royal reception, and he was delighted.
Friday the President paid a visit to his mother's old home at Roswell, Georgia, going from there to Atlanta, where he addressed a hundred thousand people, and received the greatest ovation of his Southern trip.
The President was received in a hearty manner at all points where stops were made. At Jacksonville, Fla., a splendid reception was tendered him, tremendous crowds being present. From Jacksonville he was taken to St. Augustine where he spent Sunday. The display of genuine Southern hospitality was responded to by fitting remarks at all points by the President.

Spartanburg's Tax Values.
Spartanburg, Special.—After considerable delay, occasioned by the shipment of the wrong kind of books last spring and the consequent correction, along with other matters, Spartanburg county's auditor has completed his abstracts and the statistics gleaned therefrom tell truthfully and eloquently the story of the city and county's growth and advancement. The increase in total valuations for the county for the year 1905 over 1904 was $328,245. The figures are: For 1904, $13,023,295; for 1905, $13,851,540. The total real estate value of the county for the present year is $5,975,203; personal property, $6,691,547; railroad property, $1,183,790. The number of dogs returned for taxes was 3,133 at 50 cents per head, making $1,566.50, which goes to the school fund. It is doubtful if any county in the State will show as many dogs taxed as that.

Three Children Left at Home to Die.
Rock Hill, Special.—Two colored children that had been left alone in the house were burned to death Sunday and the house and contents all destroyed in a fire that occurred on the farm of Mr. J. H. Miller at Ebenezer. The mother of the children had spread a quilt on the floor before the fire before leaving and had placed the children there. She had been absent about 15 minutes at her duties near Mr. Miller's home when the fire was discovered. The children's bodies were found in the bed in the room where they had been left and are thought to have taken refuge there. They were aged two and four years. The negroes are respected and according to Mr. Miller, bear good reputations. Another deplorable affair of the same kind occurred on Thursday on the plantation of Mr. B. F. Merritt. The child of Shaver McClure, having been left before the fire while the parents went to pick cotton, was so badly burned that it died after five hours of agony. Both cases are but repetitions of the old story that is told every year, that of carelessness.

Landrum Selected.
Spartanburg, Special.—At a recent session, the Spartanburg County Baptist Association decided to build a Baptist high school and since that time have been looking over the field for the town or place offering the best advantages for the institution. Landrum has been decided upon. That town has agreed to donate $5,000 cash and ten acres of land, valued at $1,000. There were several competitors for the school, Inman, Campobello and other points, but the advantages offered by Landrum were deemed superior by the committee.

No. 7 Enterprises.
The secretary of state has issued a commission to the incorporators of the Anderson Banking and Trust Company, which will have a capitalization of $200,000. The incorporators are W. F. Cox, E. P. Vandiver, R. E. Burriss, W. W. Sullivan, H. C. Townsend, J. M. Evans, N. C. Coleman, George M. Tolly, T. A. Ratliffe, Jr.

A commission was issued to the Sards High School Association, of Sards, Florence county, to be capitalized at $10,000. The incorporators are W. M. Timmons, W. H. McEwen, T. L. Belton, E. E. Hudson, J. C. Hudson, Edwin Langston.

The officers of the Bishopville Light and Power Company, chartered last week, are: A. C. Baskins, president; George M. Stueckey, vice president; and R. W. McLendon, secretary and treasurer. Capital stock, $17,500.

An eleemosynary charter was issued to the Wofford College Sigma Alpha Epsilon Association.

Anderson's Hospital.
Anderson, Special.—Willow camp floodmen of the World, has donated to the hospital association the sum of $500 for the establishment of a hospital in Anderson. Other liberal donations have been recently made, notably a gift of $1,000 by Mr. Walton Hall of Boston and the ladies, who have worked so faithfully for the success of the enterprise, are much encouraged with the outlook.

Palmetto Briefs.
A special from Columbia says: An attempted assault upon a young lady, a daughter of one of the well known families of the county, led to the arrest of Dan Slocum, a white man, who has recently come to Columbia to engage in the feather renovating business with the National Cleaning Company.

BAN IS LIFTED

Quarantine Against the Yellow Fever Only a Memory

REJOICING VERY GENERAL
New Orleans, Special.—Report to 6 p. m. Sunday:
New cases, 2; total, 3,361.
Deaths, none; total, 435.
New focus, 1.
Under treatment, 73; discharged, 2,853.
While Sunday was the fifth consecutive day on which no deaths were reported, which in itself was a cause for much general satisfaction, the most gratifying information came in the shape of a telegram from the State health officer of Mississippi that at 6 p. m. all Mississippi quarantine would be raised. Another source of congratulation was a telegram from Dr. Tabor, of Texas, to Dr. White, to the effect that Texas would admit people from Louisiana who would make an affidavit that they had not been near an infected point for six days previously. It is believed that the Texas restrictions will be entirely removed in a short time, and that Alabama will also remove all restrictions in a short time. The removal of the Mississippi quarantine is the cause of the greatest satisfaction, because of the close relation between this city and the Gulf Coast, which is regarded as practically a suburb of New Orleans.
There were no reports of new cases or deaths from the country parishes. Those places which did report had no new cases.

Wheat Crop Short.
Mexico City, Special.—The shortness of the wheat crop in greater than was estimated a few weeks ago, and millers are looking for the entire removal of the duty on American and Canadian wheat by the first of next year. The city bakers have reduced the size of their loaves, asserting that it is impossible to give the same weight as formerly. There are some stocks of wheat in the hands of large farmers here, but not sufficient to bring down the price, which is steadily rising. The price of corn is also rising, the advance being over fifty per cent, as compared with the prices of August. This causes hardship among the poor. There is a probability of the duty on corn being abated.

Five Drowned Off Yonkers, N. Y.
Yonkers, N. Y., Special.—Five persons, the body of one having been recovered, are believed to have been drowned by the running down of a cat boat by a tug off South Yonkers. When assistance reached the boat there was found aboard it a list of the party who had gone sailing. There were: Edward Nelson, his son Edward, Benjamin Benson, Edward Simpson and Carl Thompson, all of South Yonkers. Later the body of Benson was found.

Holding to Hang.
Asheville, Special.—A special from Sylva says: Judge Neill has sentenced John Holden, convicted at this term of Jackson county court, in session at Walston, to be hanged between the hours of 11 and 12, December 6, for the murder of his wife, Rebecca Holden, last August. Will Holden, son of the murdered woman, was acquitted. The evidence was circumstantial. The condemned man claims that he is innocent.

Riis Supporting McClellan.
New York, Special.—Jacob A. Riis, friend of President Roosevelt, and worker for reform in the poor districts of the East Side, declared that he should support Mayor McClellan if he is elected, because he has made a good, an honest, an efficient and a dignified mayor; because he is George B. McClellan and deserves and will get the thanks of the people of New York and their votes.

Stockholders Sue Land Company.
Jasper, Ala., Special.—A bill was filed in the Chancery Court here by J. H. Hayes, a minority stockholder, against the Jasper Land Company and L. B. Musgrove, seeking to have a receiver appointed for the land company and a general accounting of its affairs. The company has an authorized capital stock of $500,000, divided into 5,000 shares of a par value of $100.

$60,000 Fire in Ridgeway, Pa.
Ridgeway, Pa., Special.—Incendiary fires in the central part of the borough late Sunday night destroyed several buildings, an opera house, the finest in this section, being burned with $60,000 loss on the building; insurance $14,000. Reports of supposed house breakings mounted in the calling out of the militia. No arrests have been made.

Miss Alice Roosevelt and her party sailed from Yokohama for San Francisco.
