The Senate gave third reading to a similar till but it did not reach aches, dizziness the House in time for first reading This was the only third reading bill.

Under the head of second reading four received favorable action and two were rejected. The four which were given second reading and were ordered to be read the third time were: Mr. Prince's to provide an appropriation for the Confederate Home college in Charleston. Mr. Saye's relating to game law.

Mr. Laney's to provide for Christmas holidays at State colleges. The Aiken delegation's bill to provide for a county court for Aiken.

The two bills which were killed were: Mr. Ford's to classify magistrates and to increase their jurisdiction; and Mr. Verner's to require the use of the "blue back speller" where the trustees demand it. Dispensary Bills.

The dispensary committee reported Col. Morgan's bill with four members in its favor and four opposed to it. Messrs. Bass, Fishburne, Gause and Massey favored the bill, Messrs. Gaston, Richards, Green and Dukes opposed the bill.

· There was an unfavorable report on Mr. Laban Mauldin's bill to make drunkenness a crime to be punished by forfeiture of citizenship.

There was an unfavorable report on Mr. DesCham, 's bill to provide that members of the State board of directors cannot receive "extra packages, bottles, demijohns or rebates prisonment not less than six monthsand other packages than those prescribed by law."

Mr. Laban Mauldin received an unfavorable report from the committee on public schools on his bill to give to school trustees the right to seize contraband liquor and apply the proceeds to the school fund.

As to Immigration. The following concurrent resolution by Mr. Ashley was adopted:

"Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That Congress is hereby earnestly requested and urged to restrict immigration by the educational test, physical examination and an increase of the head tax, so as to preserve and maintain our free institutions." Tuesday in the Senate.

On Tuesday in the Senate there was much discussion, at times of a breezy nature.

During the day the celebrated Raysor-Manning bill in a remodeled shape was introduced by Senator Raysor. Thursday's Session. On Thursday both house and Senate were busy with second and third reading bills. Also quite a lot of gers," said Mr. Humphreys, obtain new measures were up for first reading. The work was, however, largely devoted to local measures. The bulk of really important business will come from the committees and be dis-

The dispensary committee submitted a substitute bill for the Raysor bill containing these provisions:

The board of directors is to be elected by the legislature as at present and are to receive a salary of $1,500 annually. The board shall meet once every two weeks and stay in session as long as necessary. The commissioner shall be elected by the legislature for two years. The governor has the power of suspension He shall advertise for bids in two or more daily papers in the State, and in one in Louisville, Ky.; Cincinnati, Baltimore and Pittsburg, such bids to be for furnishing goods during the year. Bids shall be sealed with nothing to show who is making them and bidders must give bond in an amount to be fixed by the board. Bids must be sent by express to the State treasurer, who shall permit no inspection of them until March 31, when such bids shall be opened in public, in conjunction with three citizens to be appointed by the governor. Judging from the report of the grand jury; to the court there is a state of immorality existing in Lexington county that the good citizens of the county are determined to correct, and to purify the surrounding atmosphere even if it takes the strong right arm of the court to do so. The presentment of the grand jury arraigns for immorality four cases, and recommends that the parties be indicted on the crimical side of the court. All of the parties are whites. It is charged that two single men and two married women, and one married man and an unmarried woman are living in adultery and that an unmarried man and an unmarried woman are openly living in violation of the law of decency and morality. The names of the witnesses who will prove this state of affairs have been furnished Solicitor Timmerman and he will hand out bills of indictment at the next term of court against the parties named.

"Why." said the agent, "whenever you go to the post-office, bank, or store everybody will stop and stare at Farmer Wilson, and pretty soon you'll be the most-talked-of-man in the whole county." "That may be so," replied the farmer, "but I tell you I'm a-needin'

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in page A MAMMOTH SAWDUST PILE.

It Forms a Hill That Covers About Twelve Acres. Probably the largest sawdust pile in the world is the one at Cheboygan, Mich. This is the product of one mill operated by the W. & A. McArthur Company. The mill being run by water power had no way of disposing of its sawdust. The company was not permitted to dump it into the river and for a few years an attempt was made to burn it. There was so much smoke that the village passed an ordinance prohibiting that form of destruction. As a consequence it was simply hauled out into a vacant field and during the thirty years of its growth has acquired monstrous proportions. It is a hill 1,080 feet long, 875 feet wide, and ranges from 20 to 50 feet in height. The hill covers some twelve acres. It is almost entirely white and Norway pine sawdust, because this mill did not cut hemlock except for the last two or three years before it was closed down. The pile is undoubtedly rotting a little at the bottom, but it is well preserved and bright when it is dug into, the top and sides having crusted over form a protection for the sawdust underneath. In its present state it contains rather too much moisture to admit of being used for fuel without treatment by some process of drving.

A number of chemists have examined it with a view to extracting the chemicals which it contains, but as yet nothing has been done in this direction. There is no question but that it has a considerable chemical value and probably the time will come when some one will find a way of working it up profitably.

"In the year 1895 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. At last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. 1 suffered untold agonies for four years, and tried different physicians and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day, and kept it up for seven meaths when my limb was healed up just the same as if I never had trouble. It is eight moaths now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, the best on God's earth. I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only $6, out the doctors' bills were more like $600. John M. Lloyd, 718 S. Arch Ave, Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1905."

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name-" Syrup of Figs"-or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company-California Fig Syrup Co.-printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company-California Fig Sy up Co .- printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.
