You seldom hear of a girl giving a birth day party after she has "sweet sixteen" and never after she passes the twentieth anniversary of her earthly pilgrimage. Why is this? Maybe the old bachelors can tell us.

A little girl in Edgefield, whose mother had just returned from a drug store with a supply of recently-made medicines, recently said: "I can't afford to get any more. There is a fresh bottle of castor oil in the house."

Our leather seat Rockers are the talk of the town. If you want one, hurry. Edgefield Mercantile Company.

Should you copy great numbers of men strolling aimlessly and idly about the streets during the night time of next week, don't be alarmed. It will only be the men who have been crowded and given bodily from their homes, biting away the slowly passing hours as best they can.

On Sunday, October the 14th, v. P. P. Blalock was again called to Republican church as pastor another year, and on Sunday he was called to the pastorate of Giral church, with a voluntary increase of salary, which is the best evidence that the members of this church are greatly pleased with the service that he is rendering.

The leading citizens of Saluda have labored in season and out of season from the day the town was established to secure a railroad. And it seems now that their efforts will not be in vain. A road leading from Greenwood to Saluda, thence to Johnston, Wards or Ridge Spring, would mean more to the sections along the route than words can tell.

Yes, the good women are coming next week from every nook and corner of the county and state. And we are glad of it. The occasion will afford us (the people of the entire community) a splendid opportunity of showing to the outside world what real, genuine Edgefield hospitality is.

We have been put in possession of a never-failing remedy for malaria, one that will put the doctors out of business in short order. The newly discovered remedy is to swallow a live grass-hopper on going to bed, which is claimed, will eat all the malaria germs before morning. Try it and report the result to this office for publication.

Haudsome Lee Scott paid The Advertiser a pleasant visit on Monday. But he did not come all the way from Clark's Hill to visit The Advertiser man. Oh, no. There is to be found among the personnel of the college or graded school faculty a friend who is ten thousand times fairer and dearer. We don't blame you a bit, Lee. No, not at all. We've been all along there and can sympathize with you.

Not only will next week's convention enthrall, inspire, and arouse our people to greater activity along all mission lines, but will be a splendid opportunity to advertise Edgefield. Think of over two hundred women singing Edgefield's praises in almost every city, hamlet and country district of the state! That'll be advertising in the tell-a-woman method, which is the most effective way.

The inmates of the Edgefield County Home may not occupy as fine houses as do the poor of some other counties but it can be said that there are none who are provided with more wholesome food or who are treated more kindly than those who are committed to the keeping of Steward Scurry. The steward of the County Home in Pickens has been indicted for cruel treatment of the poor. The changing is the proper place for such a brute in human form.

Try a 10 cents package of our Buckwheat, fresh stock. G. L. Penn & Son.

If the Lord tempts the wind to the shorn lamb and is mindful of the falling sparrow, surely He will provide some sort of shelter for a homeless, breadless, bedless newspaper man. Ten delegates, God bless them all, have been assigned to The Advertiser's home, consequently the editor bath not where to lay his head. There is left but one thing, and that is for us to gird a quilt about our loins and stretch our tired limbs upon the cold, naked floor of the bath room. Go thou Col. Bailey, Dr. Burts, Ben Cogburn, Milton Jones (and scores of others) and do likewise.

Lonsdale Cambric 10c yard at The Corner Store.

Edgefield is greatly in need of dwelling houses. Why is it that a greater number of persons do not build homes through the local building and loan association? A gentleman told us a few days ago that he had just finished paying for his place, having purchased it through the building and loan association. His monthly payments were but little more than the amount of rent that he would have paid had he rented a place.

There will be "something doing" even in railroad circles next week. Capt. Rice will have to put on his best bib and tucker, and run a "Convention Special" to Trenton next Tuesday afternoon. About four cars will be required to accommodate the fair passengers and about seven baggage cars will be necessary to transport their accessories such as grips, hand bags, cases, hand boxes, saratogas, etc. The Advertiser earnestly notices on the general conductor in time.

The large-hearted, generous-natured, ever-thoughtful president of the S. C. C. I. will throw wide the college doors to the visiting ladies on Wednesday afternoon next and tender a reception to the entire convention. This will be the star feature, socially, of the convention.

Mr. W. B. Penn has returned from his thirtieth annual trip to New York to buy holiday goods. Just think of it, children, for thirty years Mr. Penn has been paying regular visits to "Santa Claus" at his home on Broadway New York. And this time he purchased a larger, more beautiful— at the same time, cheaper—stock of Christmas goods than ever before. By going direct to the large importers of these goods, Mr. Penn not only gets the newest and prettiest things on the market but he is thus enabled to buy them at very close prices. In due time The Advertiser will have more to say of the things that Santa Claus will send down to the Edgefield children and grownups.

When you want the best smoke in town try a "Franklin" or "Cinco" cigar. P. P. Blalock, Jr.

The writer has not seen anything in the papers about a twenty-five pound turnip or potato, or an ear of corn a full yard in length, but he has seen it stated that a farmer in Bamberg county has a cotton stalk 10 feet 3 inches high. What say you, Edgefield farmers, can't some of you beat this? Take a stalk to the Georgia-Carolina Fair that will measure twelve feet from tap-root to tip-top. And thereby show to the world that Edgefield can do more than hold primaries.

Try our "Coronation" or "Snowflake" Flour. None better. P. P. Blalock, Jr.

The ladies of the Chrysanthemum association are planning a very attractive feature for the approaching Fair in the form of a baby show, or rather a parade of baby carriages. Instead of awarding the prize to the finest and prettiest baby, the prize will be given to the one having the most beautifully decorated carriage. The decorations will not be restricted to chrysanthemums. Flowers of every variety may be used. All babies under three years will be allowed to enter. Wouldn't a procession of beautifully decorated baby carriages—with pretty babies as chuff-ers—reaching from the monument to the depot be a charming sight? Make preparations to have your baby enter the contest. We are not talking to the old bachelors. Misses Butler, Timmons and Master Edwards say they will have the prettiest carriage.

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD. In England and France the Sale of Alum Baking Powder is prohibited by law because of the injurious effects that follow its use. The law in the District of Columbia also prohibits Alum in food. You may live where as yet you have no protection against Alum. The only sure protection against Alum in your Baking Powder is to say plainly— ROYAL BAKING POWDER. ROYAL is made from Absolutely pure Cream of Tartar—a pure Grape product. Aids digestion—adds to the healthfulness of food.

Don't buy a grate or heater until you have seen ours. EDGEFIELD MERCANTILE CO.

The women will transact their business all to themselves during the day sessions of the convention, shutting the doors squarely and unceremoniously in the faces of the brethren. The good sisters will, however, have to elect several sergeants-at-arms to keep off the eaves-dropping brethren. The night sessions will be held with open doors. Then it is that the men can come, take a back seat and look on.

Dr. Broughton's Engagement Cancelled. Acting upon the request of a number of citizens, the managers of the opera house have very generously and kindly consented to cancel the engagement with Dr. Len G. Broughton, who was to have lectured on Tuesday evening next, the first evening of the convention. An attempt to hold the two at the same time would have given rise to much friction and confusion. Many of the delegates will not arrive until the late train of Tuesday, and would have had to go from the train to the church, then to the opera house before going to the homes to which they have been assigned. The managers of the opera house cannot be justly censured for calling off the engagement. They did what was best for the community at large, and our people should be grateful to them for the sacrifice which they have made. Further announcement as to the lecture course will be made later.

Wounds, Bruises and Burns. By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail. G. L. Penn & Son.

Nothing to Fear. Mothers need have no hesitation in continuing to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds, and croup and can always be relied upon. G. L. Penn & Son.

Human Blood Marks. A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky.
