The four walls of the Senate and House should be emblazoned with the word "Economy", as a constant reminder to the lawmakers who provide for the disbursement of the public funds.

During the past year forty-three millions of dollars worth of diamonds were imported by the people of this country. That portion of this enormous amount which came to Edgefield would about equal the widow's mite, as compared with this large sum.

It is true that the salaries of the state officers are low and that the cost of living is high, but the legislature should bear in mind that taxes are also high, probably higher than at any time since the dark days of radical rule. Just why a bronze statue will be erected to the memory of this "illustrious" agnostic, we are unable to say. Certainly, a city should not feel honored by having it grace one of its streets or parks.

It is not a race issue, and Senator Tillman will make a great mistake if he attempts to inject race prejudice into the effair. If he does so his own position will be the more inconsistent.
