In announcing the S. C. C. I. graduates last week The Advertiser failed to give the names of Miss Sophie Mims and Ethel Bryan who completed the course in stenography.
Miss Ida Cogburn was called to her home above Meeting Street last Thursday on account of the illness of her sister's little child. The patrons of the Corner Store have greatly missed her during her absence.
Col. F. N. K. Bailey has been called to Bamberg but will return to-day or Thursday to remain the balance of the week. He and Mrs. Bailey will leave early next week to be away for more than a month. Any one desiring to see Col. Bailey on business had better call at his office at once.
Rev. Pierce Kinard received a telegram from his brother on Monday stating that the crops around Epworth, Greenwood county, were destroyed by hail Sunday night. A very disastrous hail storm visited the same section last year and damaged the crops very seriously.
Oats have "come out" wonderfully within the last few weeks, especially where a top dressing of manure or nitrate of soda was applied. At our time it appeared that the grain crop would be almost a total failure, but judging from the number of oracles the farmers are purchasing there is much grain to be harvested.

On Friday a fire in Geffney destroyed the offices of Dr. B. L. Allen, formerly of this county, being a son of the late Capt. W. S. Allen. Dr. Allen's office was well equipped with expensive modern appliances, among them being a large X-ray machine. His total loss is estimated at $2,500. He carried insurance to the amount of $1,500. The dispatch stated that Dr. Allen has nothing left with which to practice medicine except his diploma and medicine case.

Mr. Dr. James S. Byrd has as guests her aunt, Miss Mary Fitzmaurice, and little sister, Genevieve Fitzmaurice. They will be in Edgefield for a fortnight or longer.

Considerable painting has been done in Edgefield during this year, and Messrs. Timmons Bros. have sold a large portion of the paints, oils, etc., that have been used. They have ordered nearly two tons of lead since the first of January, and oil and turpentine in proportion.
A northwestern farmer has discovered that by planting onions and Irish potatoes in the same field, in alternate rows, the onions being strong will bring tears to the eyes of the potatoes in such great volume as to afford ample water supply during the droughts of summer. We pass the suggestion to our friend Neely Long.
What about our self-ripping Buckwheat? Have you tried it? May & Prescott.
Another good man, Mr. T. P. Morgan, announces his candidacy for the position of cotton weaver. Mr. Morgan is a son of the late Capt. T. C. Morgan and is a most excellent citizen. So conscientiously will he discharge the duties of cotton weaver, if elected, that no one will ever regret casting a ballot for him.

There has been much favorable comment upon the splendid drilling of the Cadets. Prior to the exhibition drills given during commencement week, the people of our town had no opportunity of knowing how well the cadets had been trained in the manual of arms and field movements. A large crowd gathered on the campus to witness the competitive drill on Wednesday afternoon last. Every member of the company did himself credit, but the prize for the best drilled cadet was won by Mr. Charles Fuller. The prize, a ten-dollar gold coin, was given by Col. J. H. Tillman.

Lieut. Wallace Tompkins went over to Columbia last Friday to confer with Adjutant and Inspector General Boyd with reference to receiving the Edgefield Rifles into the State militia. As a result of this visit, Maj. Brock, Gen. Boyd's assistant, is expected in Edgefield Thursday evening to inspect the company, which now numbers about seventy men. The soldier boys are anxious to take a trip to Jamestown and unless they are equipped at once it will be too late to go with the militia of the state.
The Tent Meeting.
Pursuant to the announcement of last week, Evangelist Kinard pitched his tent in Edgefield and began a revival meeting on Sunday afternoon. The appearance of this large gospel tent in Edgefield and the zeal, earnestness and enthusiasm of the evangelists cause one to recall the "tent meeting" that was conducted by Rev. Mr. Tillman soon after the earthquake in 1886. As a result of that great revival, many persons had their feet set upon a rock and a new song put in their mouths. The tent that is now spread in Edgefield is not a stone's throw from where the one stood in 1886; the workers are just as earnest and faithful as any who have ever labored in Edgefield; God is just as ready and willing to answer prayer now as he was in 1886; therefore, let us expect as great results and benefits from the Kinard meeting as were received from the Tillman meeting.
Two services are held each day: At 10 in the morning and at 8:30 in the evening. Rev. Mr. Kinard is assisted in preaching by Rev. Mr. Dunaway, of Atlanta, Mr. John Landrum, of Atlanta, accompanies the singing very beautifully upon a piano which Mr. Kinard carries with him. The attendance has been large and much real interest has been manifested in the meeting from the very outset. Already people who reside some distance in the country are coming in to the services. Go to hear the evangelists and urge your friends and neighbors to go also.

Help the Episcopal Ladies.
For the benefit of their church, the Episcopal Ladies will sell delicious ice-cream and cake tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon on the rectory lawn. The ladies will begin their sales as early as 6 o'clock. Let all hands help them in their good work. They will have some mighty good things on tap.
Death of Col. Holcombe.
On Friday afternoon Col. J. T. H. Holcombe passed away at "Edgewood," the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Tillman, Jr., the latter being his grandniece. His mortal body was laid to rest in the Pickens square in the village cemetery on Saturday, the Rev. T. P. Burgess officiating at the funeral.
Col. Holcombe was a native of Marshall, Texas, but came to Edgefield soon after the death of Gov. Pickens to reside with his sister, Mrs. Lucy Holcombe Pickens. He was about 75 years of age, and is survived by one brother, Mr. Phillip Holcombe, who spent some time in Edgefield about eight years ago.
A Band Next Session.
The announcement by President Bailey that it was his purpose to have a band in connection with the S. C. C. I. next year has met with a hearty response from the Edgefield people. Rev. P. P. Blalock who is not only a musical genius but is also wonderfully gifted in the art of instructing will have supervision of the band. It is the purpose of Col. Bailey to have the band composed of Edgefield boys as far as possible. If sufficient local talent can be developed and trained it will not be necessary to re-organize the band every year; whereas, if it is composed of boarding students some would drop out from year to year, making it necessary to train others to fill the vacancies. Parents, encourage your boy to take a place in the band. The musical training which will not cost them one cent will be of incalculable benefit to them.
The Alumni-Annuae Association.
At the business session of the Alumni-Annuae association of the S. C. C. I. which was held on Wednesday afternoon last, Mr. Cleveland Callison was elected president and Miss Jennie Pattison secretary. On Wednesday evening after the graduating exercises, the association held its annual banquet in the large dining hall of the college. The hall and long tables were beautifully decorated by the ladies of the Edgefield Literary Club who provided the delightful menu for the occasion. After the inner man had been regaled, the following toasts were announced by Mr. Cleveland Callison, master of ceremonies: "Welcome to class of 1907," by Miss Mattie Mims; "Response from class of 1907," Mr. Walter Black; "Edgefield and the S. C. C. I.," Mr. A. E. Padgett. In a very graceful manner and in well chosen words, Mr. Padgett dwelt upon the great benefits that this splendid institution has been to Edgefield, financially, intellectually and in other ways.
He Found a Quiet Place.
A nervous looking man went into a store the other day and sat down for a half hour, or so, when a clerk asked him if there was anything he could do for him. He said no, he didn't want anything. The clerk went away and he sat an hour longer, when the proprietor went to him and asked if he wanted to be shown anything. "No," said the nervous man, "I just want to sit around. My physician has recommended quiet for me, and above all things I should avoid being in a crowd. Noticing that you do not advertise in the newspapers, I thought this would be about as quiet a place as I could find, so I just dropped in for a few hours isolation.—Ex.

Stone-Holston.
For some time Mr. Walter E. Holston has stealthily made regular visits to the west-side but no one suspected that Cupid would consummate matters as early as this. So, when it became known in Edgefield that Mr. Holston and Miss Ella Stone, of Modoc, were married on Wednesday last, everybody wore a look of pleasant surprise. They were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone, the Rev. J. T. Littlejohn officiating. The bride is not only a very beautiful young woman but possesses the qualities of mind and heart that will make her an ideal life partner, and fortunate indeed is Mr. Holston in winning her. She is a full graduate of the Greenville Female College.
On the other hand, all who know Mr. Holston will feel that the Fates have dealt kindly with the bride in casting her lot for the future with so noble, so kind-hearted and so thoroughly unselfish a man as Walter Holston. His entire life has been spent in Edgefield and those who have known him best, most intimately, esteem and honor him most. Unlike many marriages, one can sincerely and conscientiously congratulate both parties to this union upon their good fortune.
Mr. and Mrs. Holston left immediately after their marriage for the Jamestown exposition. The Advertiser is not informed as to their plans but it is probable that they will make their home in Edgefield. Mr. Holston has for several years been the traveling representative of the Georgia Cotton Oil Company.
A Narrow Escape.
G. W. Cloyd, a merchant of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent.
