

HOW TO KNOW PURE PAINT.

A Way in Which it May be Identified Before Using.

After a building has been painted long enough for a weather test, it is easy to tell if the paint used was made of pure White Lead or not. But such a common knowledge comes like locking the barn after the colt is stolen.

What one wants is a test that will tell the quality of the paint before it and the labor of putting it on are paid for.

Nature has provided a way in which genuine White Lead may be positively distinguished from adulterated or fake White Lead before you spend a cent on your painting.

Pure White Lead is made from metallic lead, and under intense heat, such as is produced by a blow-pipe, pure White Lead will renew itself back into metallic lead.

It is not genuine White Lead, or if it contains the slightest trace of adulteration, the change will not take place. Therefore the "blow-pipe" test is an absolute one.

The National Lead Company are urging every one interested in painting to make this test of paint before using it, and they guarantee that the pure White Lead sold under their "Dutch Boy Painter" trade-mark will always prove absolutely pure under the "blow-pipe" or any other test.

To make it easy for you to perform the experiment they will send you a booklet on request. A blow-pipe and everything necessary for you to make the test, together with a valuable booklet on paint. Address, National Lead Company, Woodbridge Building, New York City.

Farm Topics

RANGE FOR TURKEYS.

It is important that the turkeys have a wide range. The birds are natives of the wild forest and they have not been fully weaned from a desire to roam over a large section of country.

In growing turkeys on the farm, provision should be made to allow them to run at will over a place. Wide range insures a variety of food and that is important.

FARM JOTTINGS. Sod plowing in the fall will help kill out the white grubs.

SOFT SHELL EGGS. Experience with this trouble has been that when the laying of soft shelled eggs is confined to one or two hens in a flock of fifty to 100 birds, the difficulty is some inherent defect in the bird's constitution or structural formation.

A DOOR HOLDER. I have a few large barn doors that are hung on hinges and when I open them I have always had to get a stick or something to keep them open; so I thought of this little thing.

SHADE FOR POULTRY. Poultry, as well as other live creatures on the farm, delight in shady places during the heated portions of the summer days.

MANURE WITH CLOVER. While clover will help keep up soils, yet many go too far and expect a crop of clover to produce a heavy grain crop and at the same time keep the field in good state of fertility.

EGG-EATING HENS. A reader of The Epitomist asks how he can prevent his hens from eating eggs.

Foolish Particulars. An American speeding over the continent of Europe in his automobile asked his chauffeur: "Where are we?"

PERUNA EDITORIAL NO. 2.

Dr. Hartman has claimed for many years that Peruna is an EXCELLENT CATARRH REMEDY. Some of the doctor's critics have disputed the doctor's claim as to the efficacy of Peruna.

Since the ingredients of Peruna are no longer a secret, what do the medical authorities say concerning the remedies of which Peruna is composed? Take, for instance, the ingredient HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS, OR GOLDEN SEAL.

Another ingredient of Peruna, CORYDALIS FORMOSA, is classed in the United States Dispensary as a tonic.

OIL OF COPAIBA, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensary as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract.

Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

These opinions as to the ingredients of Peruna are held by all writers on the subject, including Bartholow and Scudder.

OF HYDRASTIS, BARTHOLOW SAYS it is applicable to stomatitis (catarrh of the mucous surface of the mouth), follicular pharyngitis (catarrh of the pharynx), chronic coryza (catarrh of the head).

BARTHOLOW REGARDS COPAIBA as an excellent remedy for chronic catarrh of the bladder, chronic bronchitis (catarrh of the bronchial tubes).

BARTHOLOW STATES THAT CUBEBA, an ingredient of Peruna, promotes the appetite and digestion, increases the circulation of the blood.

MILLSAUGH, MEDICINAL PLANTS, one of the most authoritative works on medicinal herbs in the English language, in commenting upon COLLINSONIA CANADENSIS, says that it acts on the pneumogastric and vaso motor nerves.
