GOV. GLENN'S ADDRESS.

Blind tigers are easily discovered. It is only necessary to watch where the "old soaks" go when they seek their haunts. Catch the drunken men and make them tell where they got it.

Prohibition prohibits where the officials do their duty. That is how it was made effective in North Carolina.

With relation to the taxes, Gov. Glenn said that last year we spent $3,044,214 in payment of our liquor bill—a per capita tax of $2.74; and we made $934,000 profit out of it which amounted to a per capita reduction in taxes of 81 cents. The speaker then asked if any person were willing to barter the risk of his boy's or his daughter's future against a few cents of tax.

In Chicago the tax on the traffic produced a revenue of $50, 000,000; but to take care of the results of the traffic in the crime produced the cost $52,000,000. And this does not consider the misery brought and the destruction of bodies and souls of victims.

The figures quoted by the government were appalling as they relate to the conditions growing out of the traffic in this country.

The vice mill is the only kind of mill that destroys what goes through it. Why not destroy this mill? Fifty per cent. of all the fallen women started on the downward road by strong drink; 90 per cent of the ruined men started through vice promoted by liquor.

This curse breeds insanity, poverty, cruelty, death. The drunkard is unkind to those who love him. Then how can you, by your vote, by your influence, ask your citizens to keep this curse here. This is the capital of the greatest State in the Union and in August it will rid itself of the curse.

They say it helps business. You drink up $1 and there goes a meal; you drink up $4 and there goes a coat; you drink up $2.50 and there goes a pair of pants, but I am going no further. (Laughter.) You can't put whiskey into your stomach and attend to business. You can't put whiskey into your stomach and make your wife and children happy.

When district attorney of North Carolina in 1893 to 1897, Gaston county had been an eye-sore to him. There were 38 distilleries, many blockade distilleries, innumerable blind tigers and saloons and only two cotton mills and scarcely a decent school house. The people got together, voted out liquor and today they have good schools, 43 large mills, employing 10,000 people, and a county filled with good roads, good schools, churches, peace and good will.

Eight years ago Mecklenburg county had declared her independence, greater than the declaration of 1775, and today this is one of the grandest counties in the State.

Is it opportune? That's the question to be met. God only requires us to do our duty. The legislature says you must vote. Then vote right. God will take care of the consequences. The wettest dry town is 100 times drier than a wide open town.

Is it opportune? Would the people of Columbia weigh a matter of a small per capita tax against the honor and purity of their women, the manhood of their boys? You got $131,000 in Richland, but that is offset by the added cost of crime, the loss time, the loss of virtue, the loss of manhood.

His class orator was a beautiful piece of oratory and it may be said conservatively that the ex-governor received quite an ovation.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. E. G. Quattlebaum, who in introducing Gov. Glenn, declared that he is sure of victory in August. The inspiring singing was led by Mr. F. F. Whildren.
