Off For New York.

Mr. W. W. Peak will leave this afternoon upon his annual trip to the northern and eastern markets to purchase his fall stock of goods. Watch The Advertiser for his announcement of the new arrival of early fall merchandise.

Mr. Morgan Elected Cotton Weigher.

A large number of farmers came to town Monday to cast their ballots in the election that was held to select a cotton weigher for the town of Edgefield. After counting the ballots Mr. Morgan was declared elected. He received 196 votes and Mr. W. O. Holmes 125. Had not protracted meetings been in progress at Red Hill, Horns Creek, Edgefield and McKendree, a greater number of votes would have been cast.

The Annex Nearly Completed.

Before Mr. Turner returns from New York the Corner Store's annex will be ready to receive the large stock of new millinery and tailored suits for ladies. Now that he has ample room, Mr. Turner will give more attention to these departments, making the annex one of the most attractive places in town for ladies. The basement room which was formerly used for the millinery will be converted into a rest room for out-of-town shoppers. This will be an innovation that will be greatly appreciated.

Cogential Party off for New York.

Mr. W. H. Turner, the proprietor of the Corner Store, will leave today for New York to make his annual fall purchase of merchandise. He will be accompanied by Miss Samuel, Miss Madge Turner, Miss Eileen Ouzts, Miss Sophie Mims and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sanders. Miss Samuel will spend her time studying the new millinery styles and assisting Mr. Turner in purchasing his large stock of millinery. Misses Madge Turner, Eileen Ouzts and Sophie Mims are going purely for pleasure, and will spend the entire fortnight seeing the sights of New York. As the crops give promise of a large yield, Mr. Turner will make larger purchases than usual. In due season a full announcement will be made of the new purchases.

South Edgefield Bridge.

He met the girl on the bridge. And kissed her on the spot. The brook murmured down below. The girl she murmured not. De Nigger Got Away.

While the fishermen were preparing a coffin for delivery in the store of the Edgefield Mercantile Company, a few nights ago, the lining of a coffin caught fire from a lamp, burning out the interior. The charred coffin was placed out in the rear of a store, where it was spotted by a negro the following morning. Somewhat frightened by the ghastly sight, the negro said: "Dat coffin is, sho been to h. I, but de nigger got away."

New Company Formally Organized.

The stockholders of the Beaver Dam Mills, met Thursday last and elected the following officers: L. W. Parker, president; J. C. Sheppard, vice-president; B. F. Zimmerman, treasurer; B. E. Nicholson, secretary and attorney. The directors are L. W. Parker, B. F. Zimmerman, M. L. Marchant, W. C. Cleveland, B. F. Taylor, J. C. Sheppard, W. W. Adams, Thos. H. Rainford and A. E. Padgett.

The material is being placed upon the ground for enlarging the building. Mr. M. T. Toney has the contract for furnishing the lumber.

It Pays to Look Tidy.

Don't say that it doesn't matter how you look around the house for it does matter a good deal. It matters for the general credit of the establishment, of which the feminine head is the creditable or questionable representative; it matters in its example to the children and to the help; it matters to the husband and father, who usually, if he is half a man, feels a sense of pride in the appearance of his family. It encourages him to be neat, to be clean and to be careful in dress and waste and destruction running riot about his dwelling. It is one of the important duties of every woman to keep herself and house in as good condition as possible, considering her circumstances.

Prize Acre Disfigured.

Several days ago the wind blew down a portion of Mr. Trapp McManus' prize corn, breaking some entirely off. The next day he sent an old colored man to haul the corn to the house that had been broken down. Imagine Mr. McManus' great surprise when he learned that two loads of his prize corn had been cut down and hauled up. Instead of hauling only that which was broken entirely down, the old colored man cut the corn that had been bent over by the wind. This was sufficient to cause Brother Trapp to lose both his religion and the prize, but we trust that he hasn't yet lost either.

Communicate With Mrs. Dunovant at Once.

The ladies of the Aid and Mission Society of the Presbyterian church are arranging for a department at the County Fair to be known as the "Relic Room."

All those who have anything in the shape of an heirloom, which they value for its age or a bit of history or any other reason, are requested to write for particulars.

Full protection will be given to all the articles, and those of special value will be kept under glass. It will give us great pleasure to hear from you at once, as it is our aim to make this the feature of the fair, and of lasting value to the county historically.

SIXTEEN REASONS

Why You Should Send Your Sons and Daughters to the South Carolina Co-Educational Institute

S. C. C. I.

1. Because only a limited number of boarders is taken, thereby making possible for each student to receive the personal attention of the Faculty.
2. Edgefield is noted for its health—being situated in a high, dry, rolling country.
3. Handsome new brick buildings with modern improvements and up-to-date equipments.
4. Extensive grounds—beautiful oak grove—ideal surroundings.
5. High-toned, cultured, Christian men and women compose the Faculty; fourteen teachers, each a specialist.
6. Greatest care used in selecting teachers, whose personal influence over the students will be elevating.
7. The President and ten teachers live in the building with the students.
8. From the time students reach Edgefield until they take the train for their homes, they are under the watchful care and close personal attention of the President and Faculty.
9. Regular study hours morning, afternoon and night under the direct supervision of the teachers.
10. High standard—thorough course of study—our work bears close inspection.
11. In competitive examination for West Point, Annapolis and other scholarships, our students have always been eminently successful.
12. On account of our thorough literary course, excellent training in discipline and the general upbuilding of character, morally and religiously, our graduates are always in demand as teachers, stenographers, bookkeepers, etc.
13. Table supplied with good, wholesome and properly prepared food; eight teachers in dining-room with students.
14. Comfortable and home-like bedrooms. No crowding allowed in any of the departments of the institution.
15. Because for eighteen years our school has been in successful operation under the same management, thereby proving itself worthy to ask for your patronage.
16. Notwithstanding the expensive Faculty employed, the wholesome and abundant table fare and the other home comforts, the charges are moderate.

Next session begins Sept. 13, 1909. For catalog and application blank address F. N. K. BAILEY, President, B. F. ZIMMERMAN, EDGEFIELD, S. C.

THE FARRAND CECILIAN PIANO

The Musical Wonder of the Times.

This instrument plays accurately the most difficult musical compositions. The tone is sweet and sympathetic, the touch is light, elastic, and responsive. IT CAN BE OPERATED WITH EASE BY A SMALL CHILD. The possession of one of these instruments enables one to have rendered in the home the works of the masters and this with the power, or the tenderness of an artist.
