

Office, No. 61.
Residence, No. 17.

Miss Mamie Seigler has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Cheatham, for several days.

Miss Lallie Hamilton spent Saturday in Edgefield with her sister, Miss Iris Hamilton.

President Bailey says every place in the S. C. C. I. will be filled by the opening of the session of 1911-12.

Mr. A. S. Tompkins and Misses Christine and May Tompkins are in Greenwood with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Cobb are enjoying a stay of ten days at Waynesville and Asheville.

Miss Ida Ryan of Trenton spent several days last week with Miss Edwardina Blalock.

Miss Mary Buford has been spending several days in Edgefield with friends. She is now making her home in Macon, Ga.

Mr. J. W. Tutt, of Thompson, Ga., spent several days last week as a guest at the home of Mr. James T. Mims.

One thousand bushels of corn from 30 acres. How is that for a corn crop in the clay? That's what Mr. W. D. Padgett will make.

Mr. J. T. McMann has a very fine two-year-old colt that he expects to exhibit at the county fair. Wonder if you can't make yours win the first prize over his?

If you don't believe it pays to sow rye for a winter cover crop, ask our friend Jack Reel, whose opinion or judgment on all business matters is worth a full hundred cents on the dollar any day in the year.

New goods arriving daily. We have lately received a line of ladies silk petticoats which we can offer you at $2.75, the same quality and in extra sizes at $3.25.

C. H. Schneider, Next to Edgefield Mercantile Co.

In response to the call of the state bank examiner, the Bank of Trenton publishes its quarterly statement in this issue. A careful study of the statement shows that this institution, which is justly the pride of Trenton, steadily grows.

Every farmer in the county, particularly those who reside in the clay, should read the excellent letter of "W. D. O." in this issue. It will not only inspire them but give them a new vision of agricultural possibilities.

Large assortment of iron and enameled beds to select from.
Ramsey & Jones.

Rev. T. D. Latimer, of Charleston, Mo., will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday. As Rev. Mr. Latimer ranks among the foremost preachers of the Presbyterian church, an unusual treat is in store for those who attend the services next Sunday.

The Advertiser job office guarantees satisfaction on every job sent out. What more could be asked. We use only the best quality of material.

Trzevant Timmons who has almost become a strong, broad-shouldered young man has been in Edgefield for a few days. He is delighted with life in the county. Trzevant's friends hope he can tarry longer among us when he comes again.

Every housewife should read the new advertisement of W. E. Lynch & Co., in which a number of delicacies for the table are announced. Surely at this season when so little can be had, the new things to eat at the Lynch store should be in great demand.

Land For Sale: A tract of 100 acres known as the Arthur place, a part of the B. F. Mays estate, within one and a half miles of the corporate limits of town of Edgefield. Price $1,250. Apply to Calhoun A. Mays, or to S. B. Mays, Edgefield, S. C.

The young people of the missionary society of the Methodist church realized $10 from the sale of ice cream at the parsonage Thursday afternoon. A much larger sum could have been made had more cream been provided. The social feature of the occasion was very pleasant for the young people.

Mrs. J. T. Solomons of Troy and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Solomons, with little Francis Louise of Greenville, visited Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Ozuts at Elmwood last week. Mr. Solomons holds a lucrative and responsible position with the Mountain City Milling Co., of Greenville.

This is a very exacting age. As the writer hurriedly passed Dunovant's corner Monday morning, he saw a colored man, who had just purchased a hame-string from our friend Brooks Dunovant, insist on a guarantee that it would last two years. That was only a straw that indicates the spirit of the age. People generally expect too much for their money.

Saturday, September the 30th, will be Work Day for the orphan-ages.

Mr. N. D. Robertson's sister, Mrs. Margaret Bartley, will reside with him.

Mr. E. S. Rives returned Saturday from New York and many of his new purchases are already being displayed at Rives Bros.

Mrs. Lucy D. Tillman and her little daughters have returned after an absence of several months.

Col. U. R. Brooks and Mr. U. R. Brooks, Jr., of Columbia spent Sunday in Edgefield with the former's sister, Mrs. F. F. Mosely.

Mr. O. Sheppard, Jr., of Atlanta, spent Monday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sheppard, Sr.

The quarterly statement of the Bank of Edgefield appears in this issue. As shown by the statement, the bank is in a very flourishing condition.

Mr. Israel Mukashy tells about his new school shoes in his advertisement this week. Many other new things in fall merchandise can be found at his store.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Porter and their two little children, of Pendleton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Key, making the trip to Edgefield in their touring car.

Mr. Oscar LaBorde came over from Columbia in his automobile and spent Sunday here. When in Edgefield this young man shows a decided preference for Buncombe.

Mr. E. N. DeVore and Mr. W. O. Lipscomb came down from Ninety Six in their car yesterday. While here Mr. DeVore paid The Advertiser a pleasant call. He reported the crops as being fine in his section and the outlook for business good.

During the early hours of Monday evening, September 11th, the Stork left a little son, William Walton Mims, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mims. He has been named for Mr. William T. Walton, of Johnston, a truly faithful, life-long friend of the editor of The Advertiser.

For Sale: Feathers at 40 cents per pound. Orders can be left at this office.

C. H. Schneider, Next to Edgefield Mercantile Co.

One lot of imported China Covered Dishes for this week only at 85 cents.
W. E. Lynch & Co.

Miss Sophie Abney will open the mill school Friday morning at nine o'clock. A full attendance of pupils is desired the first day, so all can receive their books.

Rev. P. B. Lanham is conducting a revival meeting at South Hill Baptist church this week. Instead of having assistance he is doing all of the preaching himself.

All of ye little folks, get your books and book bags and lunch boxes together and be ready for the Edgefield Graded school next Monday morning, the 18th.

Miss Ethel Lanham, the daughter of Mr. Thomas B. Lanham, underwent an operation, for appendicitis in the hospital at Medina, Ohio, last Thursday. Her relatives and friends will be pleased to learn that the last information received in Edgefield from Miss Ethel was to the effect that she is steadily improving.

Just received a big Stock of Boy's Clothes the handsomest line ever shown in this section. Sizes 5 to 18. Prices ranging from $1.50 up to $8.50. We can sell you a up-to-date suit for your Boy for $5.50 the same you are paying elsewhere for $8.00. Don't fail to look at them even if you are not ready to buy them now. C. H. Schneider, next to Edgefield Mercantile Company.

Thirty-two Complete Stores.

J. B. White & Company announce through our columns that all of their 32 departments are now filled to overflowing with stylish fall goods. They are now prepared to fill every want whether for the home or for personal use. Their piano department is one of the most modern in the south and liberal terms will be quoted to responsible parties. This popular store has provided rest and dressing rooms for the convenience of ladies and children.

Judge DeVore indulgent
Judge DeVore is not only an excellent lawyer and dispenser of justice, but a kindhearted, unselfish gentleman. While he had to "sweat" it out in his official judicial robe while court was in session, he gave the jurors and newspaper reporters the privilege of laying aside their coats and make themselves as comfortable as they could when the heat in the court house was almost unendurable. It is needless to say that the recipients of Judge DeVore's consideration appreciated it and availed themselves of it with alacrity.—Orangeburg Press and Democrat.

"Follow Thou Me."

Rev. P. P. Blalock filled the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday morning last, selecting as his text these words of the Saviour, "Follow Thou me." Mr. Blalock developed his theme along helpful and practical lines, the scripture which he expounded and the truths to which he gave utterance being easily applicable to the lives of those who heard his very excellent discourse. He spoke throughout with his accustomed earnestness and fervor. Mr. Blalock's Edgefield friends were glad of this opportunity to hear him preach.

Mr. Ozuts Appointed.

Mr. J. P. Ozuts has been duly appointed as postmaster to succeed the late Capt. W. H. Brunson. He went to Washington Friday to file his bond and returned Saturday with his commission. Mr. Ozuts formally took charge of the office Tuesday morning, having appointed Capt. W. A. Collett assistant postmaster. Mr. Ozuts' appointment has met with very general satisfaction. He is a good business man and will manage the affairs in a manner that will be acceptable to both Uncle Sam and the patrons of the office.

Visited Paper Mill.

Mr. S. T. Williams was in town Monday for the first time since his recent stay in the mountains, and it was exceedingly interesting to hear him speak of the paper mill which he visited near Asheville. It consumes 31 cords of wood each day in making a coarse heavy paper. The acid that is extracted from the wood as it is being converted into pulp is collected in tanks and shipped to western tanneries to be used in tanning hides. The entire plant covers 14 acres and represents an investment of $5,000,000.

Meeting of Rosebud Club.

The members of the Rosebud club held their regular weekly meeting at the home of Miss Helen Dorn Thursday afternoon. The little hostesses had arranged a miscellaneous programme which was thoroughly enjoyed by all of the members present. In a guessing contest the first prize was awarded to Miss Florence Mims and the second prize to Miss Willie Peak. At the close of the contest refreshments were served. Instead of holding the regular meeting next Thursday, the members of the club will give a picnic, this being the last of the season.

Seed Likely to Advance.

Mr. W. E. Holston, the oil mill man, spent Saturday and Sunday in Edgefield. Owing to Mr. Holston's experience, close observation and conservative judgment, what he says upon the oil and seed outlook for the season can be received and depended upon as expert testimony. He says the seed supply has been cut short considerably and that oil shows some advance, with the prospect of continued advance, which means that seed will likely command a higher price later.

Monthly Meeting of W. C. T. U.

On Monday afternoon September 11th, 1911, the ladies of the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Mary Norris.

Notwithstanding the fact, that we had thunder, lightning and rain at that hour, a goodly number of our ladies were present, and we had a very helpful meeting.

A nice program had been arranged by Mrs. Beauregard Timmons, who presided over the meeting with much ease.

Mrs. Greneker read a paper: "Do weak hearts need alcohol."

"Do alcoholic liquors aid digestion," was read by Mrs. Lott.

"Is coco-cola a harmless drink" was read by Mrs. Tillman.

A very interesting and instructive talk was made by Mrs. Tillman on the W. C. T. U. work at Chautauqua, New York, where she spent five weeks this summer.

Mrs. Mims, our president, not being able to be with us, had a very sweet and encouraging letter, read by Mrs. Lott. Her words are always "fitly spoken" and enjoyed by all, because she has the love and confidence of us all. If all our members worked as she does our Union would be much stronger.

It being the time for election of officers for another year, the following were elected, Mrs. J. L. Mims, President; Mrs. Greneker, Vice President; Mrs. Hugh Wates, Secretary; Mrs. W. L. Dunovant, Cor. Secretary, and Mrs. J. E. Hart, Treasurer.

Since our last meeting, Mrs. Burgess, a faithful member, who was also vice president has moved to another field. After the meeting delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Tillman, who in her sweet and winning ways made us all feel at home.

Mrs. P. R. Wates.

Just received, about 200 Ladies Skirts in all colors. Prices very low. Give us a trial before buying elsewhere. C. H. Schneider, next to Edgefield Mercantile Company.

Resolutions on Death of Mr. T. G. Smith.

Whereas God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our neighbor and brother T. G. Smith, therefore be it resolved,
1st. That T. G. Smith was a valuable and honored member of the Harmony Farmers Union. His interest was constant, and his services given cheerfully on all occasions when required by the union.
2nd. That the best interest of this union will be promoted by preserving the memory of such worthy members, and that for this purpose, a page of our permanent record be devoted to his memory.

3rd. That our secretary be directed to transmit a copy of this paper to his bereaved family with the assurance of our sincere sympathy in their irreparable loss and also in the assurance that we cherish for their loved one the strong and deep affection which his exemplary life merits.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each of the county papers for publication.

G. M. Smith,
L. G. Watson,
G. F. Long.

The Very Worst.

Clement J. Driscoll, at a dinner in New York, told a number of amusing stories about his strenuous life as a commissioner of weights and measures last year.
"A friend of mine," said Mr. Driscoll, "noticed one morning that his grocer looked very sad."
"What's the matter, old man?" my friend asked jokingly, "The weights and measure man hasn't been dropping in on you has he?"
"Yes, he has," snapped the grocer.
"But you don't really mean to say," exclaimed my friend, "that he caught you giving only 15 ounces to the pound?"
"Worse than that!" groaned the grocer, "I've been giving 17!"
