"A few days ago i received a letter from a young man, who states he is 23 years of age, and has occupied saveral important positions, but owing to indigestion and inability to sleep he has been unable to concentrate his mind upon his work and has consequently been discharged on the ground of neglect of duty. He goes on to say that he is a young man of steady habits, but for years he has suffered from dyspepsia, which has so affected his nerves that he is unable to sleep, and that it is not neglect upon his part, nor lack of interest in the business, but simply physical weakness. He asks my advice in this matter.

"For the benefit of a large number of those similarly situated I propose to answer this letter publicly, hoping that it may be the means of helping many who may be affected in this way.

"In the first place, the stomach must be made strong. The nerves must be made strong before one can sleep well. No one is capable of doing his best who is in any way troubled with insomnia or any form of mervousness. The greatest generals have been men of iron nerve and indomitable will. They have had perfect digestion, being able to eat well, and digest all they ste.

"It is said that Napoleon lost the bat-digestion, being able to eat well, and digestion, being able to eat well, and digestion. It is said that Napoleon lost the battle of Waterloo because of a fit of indigestion. Crant's enormous reserve powerwas due to a well stomach. Abraham Lincoln said that 'he did not know that he had a stomach.' Grover Cleveland, it is said, could work 18 hours a day, eat a hearty meal at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, go to bed and sleep soundly until 9 o'clock and get up refreshed, ready for a new day's work.

till 9 o'clock and get up refreshed, ready for a new day's work.

"Pres. Taft is another type of healthy manhood. Who thinks for one moment that he would be the President of the United States today had he been a dyspeptic or affected with some nervous ailment? I claim that two-thirds of all the failures in professional and business life are due to weak and deranged stomachs.

achs. "No business house would care to employ a dyspeptic representative to sell goods for them on the road. One-half the men who stand behind counters to-day, earning from $12 to $15 a week, will never get beyond these figures, for the reason that they are physically weak. They lack the nerve power and commanding strength that come from a good, sound stomach.

manding strength that come from a good, sound stomach.

"No one cares to hear a dyspeptic preacher. No matter how plous he may be, he is bound to reflect his bilious and laundiced condition. He will unconsciously inoculate his hearers with his melancholy feelings.

"No one would think of entrusting an important legal case in the hands of a dyspeptic lawyer, any more than he would care to entrust his own lifte, or that of a dear one, in the hands of a physician who is nervous, irritable or a dyspeptic. Men must have good digestion, strong nerves and vital manhood in order to render a clean, clear-cut decision der to render a clean, clear-cut decision either in medicine, law or business.

VALLEY IS A CHARNEL HOUSE

The Property Loss From Flood and Fire is Estimated to be Around Six-Million Dollars-Many Stories of Thrilling Rescues.

Austin, Pa .- The curtain of night, which was rung down on the Austin flood scarcely before its victims had all been claimed and its surviving spectators fully realize how great a tragedy the elements of water and fire and enacted in the natural ampitheater of the Allegheny mountains here, was litted by dawn revealing a ghastly scene of death and devastation.

Austin, itst .! a busy mill town of three thousand people, many of whom were enjoying the fine autumn, is only a ghost of a town now. Torn to pieces by water and eaten by fire, the wet and charred remnants of its buildings, believed to hold the remains of three hundred or more persons, were strewn along the valley edge, piled in rows where the main street business section was or swept in scattered masses far down the ravine.

Spectators, many of whom barely escaped being victims of the disaster, and hundreds of persons from surrounding towns, looked down from the steep hillsides on Austin and Costello through a veil of fog to see the wreckage here of some four hundred houses, a score of business blocks, three churches and several large lumber mills, and three miles further down the river at Costello the ruins of more than fifty buildings. The flood did not spend its force until it raced for more than ten miles from the reservoir. Wharton, still farther on, suffered somewhat, but is practically intact. The loss of life at Costello, where the residents had more warning, is believed to be but three.

The property loss in the valley is estimated at upwards of $6,000,000.

Fraternal Orders, Labor Unions and Insurance Companies Erect Tuberculosis Sanitoria.

As an investment in the health of their members, four large fraternal orders, two international labor unions and one of the largest insurance companies in the United States have established sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis, according to a statement issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The Royal League, the first fraternal order to establish a sanatorium, conducts a hospital for its tuberculous members at Black Mountain. The Modern Woodmen of America conducts one at Colorado Springs; the Workmen's Circle, one at Liberty, N. Y., and the Independent Order of Foresters have one at Rainbow Lake, N. Y., and will soon open a second one at San Fernando, Cal. The International Typographical Union has since 1898 conducted a sanatorium at Colorado Springs, and the International Printing Pressmen and Assist-'ants' Union of America has recently opened a new institution at Rogersville, Tenn. A leading life insurance company is now erecting a sanatorium at Mt. McGregor, N. Y., which will be the first of its kind established by an "old line" insurance company.

"ECZEMA ITCHED SO BADLY I COULDN'T STAND IT."

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out. I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse, I couldn't sleep nights any more. It kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again, was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more.

"I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Remedies in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura Soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cutioura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of ttching so I could sleep all that might. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured.

"My brother got his face burned with gun-powder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face Eight Child en Burned to Death. Indiana, Pa.-Eight children of Mr. and Mrs. William Dias of Heshbou, near here, ranging in age from 13 years to 3 months, were burned to death when fire destroyed the family home. The parents, after discovering the flames, left the children in their beds and went to the first floor where they made an attempt to extinguish the fire. The blaze spread rapidly, however, and they were unable to rescue the little ones.

Enormous Exports of Cotton. Savannah, Ga:-Recent statements that the foreign demand for cotton was of a mere "hand-to-mouth" character were effectually refuted by the enormous foreign exports from Savannah. The official reports show that the day's exports counted to 95,756 bales, of which 34,240 went to Great Britain, 10,500 to France 46,680 to the continent and 4,372 coastwise. The foreign exports were 91,384 bales, representing a calue of over $5,000,000. This is one of the largest amounts ever exported from any port.
