THIRD TERMER'S JOKE ON LABOR

Brandeis Shows Right to Organize Is Not Recognized.

THE PLATFORM IS SILENT

Noted Lawyer Exposes the Filmsiness of Promises Made to Workingmen by Perkins and His Candidate, Who Stands for Private Monopoly.

"The new party pledges itself to social and industrial justice and specifically to 'work unceasingly for effective legislation looking to the prevention of occupational diseases, overwork, involuntary unemployment and other injurious effects incident to modern industry,' . . . but nowhere in that long and comprehensive platform . . . can there be found one word approving the fundamental right of labor to organize or even recognizing this right without which all other grants and concessions for improvement of the condition of the workingmen are futile. The platform promises social and industrial justice, but does not promise industrial democracy. The justice which it offers is that which the benevolent and wise corporation is prone to administer through its welfare department. There is no promise of that justice which free American workingmen are striving to secure for themselves through organization. Indeed, the industrial policy advocated by the new party would result in the denial of labor's right to organize.

"The new party stands for the perpetuation and extension of private monopoly from which the few have ever profited at the expense of the many and for the dethronement of which the people have, in the past, fought so many valiant battles. That cursed product of despotism, the new party, proposes to domesticate in our republic, proclaiming, 'We do not fear commercial power.' Certainly organized labor has had experience with the great trusts which should teach all men that commercial power may be so great that it is the part of wisdom to fear it."

The above declaration was made by Louis D. Brandeis before the convention of the American Federation of Labor, Massachusetts state branch, at Fitchburg, Sept. 18.

Of Supreme Importance.

He urges a careful study of the new party platform, particularly its effect upon labor, noting not only WHAT IT CONTAINS, but WHAT IT OMITTS, adding, "When you make that examination you will find that there is a significant omission and that this skillfully devised platform TAKES FROM LABOR MORE THAN IT GIVES."

Labor Record of Trusts.

Mr. Brandeis then lays bare the labor record of the trusts, declaring that "great trusts—the steel trust, the sugar trust, the beef trust, the tobacco trust, the smelter trust and a whole troop of lesser trusts—have made the extermination of organized labor from their factories the very foundation stone of their labor policy. The ability to defeat labor's right to combine seems to have been regarded by the trust magnates as a proper test of the efficiency of their capitalistic combination."

Mr. Brandeis shows that in 1899, during the Colorado smelters' strike, the American Smelting and Refining company closed its mills where the strikers had been employed and transferred the work to other mills, thus breaking the strike. The United States Steel corporation had similar success in 1901 with the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers. Had the association been dealing with competing employers the result would have been different. The United States Steel trust was prompt in introducing this plan. June 17, 1901, six weeks after it began its operations, its executive committee passed this vote, which was offered by Charles Steele, a partner of George W. Perkins in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.:

"That we are unalterably opposed to any extension of union labor and advise subsidiary companies to take firm position when these questions come up and say that they are not going to recognize it—that is, any extension of union in mills where they do not now exist."

Union Men Not Wanted.

The result was that the bulk of American union laboring men in the iron and steel industry were made to understand that they were not wanted at the works of the United States Steel corporation. Places once filled by American laborers loyal to their union were given to others, and, as the Stanley committee found, "Hordes of laborers from southern Europe poured into the United States."

Hence about 80 per cent. of the unskilled laborers in the iron and steel business are foreigners of these classes, the profits going to the steel corporation. Mr. Brandeis declared that "the immediate and continuing result of the steel trust's triumph over organized labor has been an extensive system of espionage and repression."

There has been no disturbance of business interests during this presidential campaign. Why? Confidence in the integrity of the Democratic nominees and right purposes of the party.

A SLAVE TO DUTY

Well, no, suh, I can't come dess now Ter he'p clean house—I can't, nohow! Yo' see, de 'lection's moughty close En so dey's sent fo' me, o' course, En I got lots o' wuk ter do Ter he'p dem candidates git thoo. Hit's 'portant dat I's 'roun, yo' see, Fo' 'lection day 'uhpends on me.

Um—yassah! Yes, I knows yo's right. Mos' any yutheh day I might Come 'roun' en take down all yo' screens But yo' knows whut dese campaigns means! Hit's runnin' hyeah en runnin' dah En lay'n' plans bofe neah en fah. Dey dess can't spah me—fo', yo' see, Dis 'lection day 'uhpends on me.

Um—yassah! Takes mah long-tall coat En high plug hat ter git de vote! En den, o' course, yo' got ter mix 'th-yassin' dees! I kin say Dat she'll come to yo' house dis day, But I can't come, 'because, yo' see, De 'lection day 'uhpends on me.

How dat mah wife—kin she come 'roun' En de wuk? Well, I be bou'n' De kin come! No, she ain't yet Got out ter be a sufferette! 'th-yassin' dees! I kin say Dat she'll come to yo' house dis day, But I can't come, 'because, yo' see, De 'lection day 'uhpends on me.

Willing to Help. "Ah, will I never be released?" wailed the imprisoned heroine, beating her fair white hands wildly against the bars of her window, while from behind the scenes could be heard the hoarse chuckle of the villain.

Many in the audience were seen to apply their handkerchiefs to their eyes.

Her prayers for release rose again upon the still air, and lost themselves in the echoing flies above.

"Either git a habbyus corpus, lady," shouted a friend from the gallery, "er walk out over de footlights!" And the curtain came down with a whizz.

Mr. Peck Again. "Dear me!" said Mrs. Peck, who was reading the paper while Henry waited patiently for a look at it. "Here is a case of a woman who packed up all the furniture and left home while her husband was away at work, and now he can find no trace of her."

And Henry's face lost its expression of patient resignation, taking on the light of a great buoyant hope. For he had read that women were sometimes influenced by what they saw in the papers.

Another Great Historian. "And so you have been reading 'Plutarch's Lives?'" we said to the Studious Person. "What impression do you form of Plutarch?"

"It seems to me," answered the Studious Person, with the air of one who has given great thought to a matter, "that he was the Murat Halstead of his time."

Possibly. "Get up, thou baldhead!" shouted the naughty children to Elijah. "It is bad enough," muttered Elijah, "to have those barbers soaking me all the time for hair tonics, but to have their children jeer at me because I don't grow any hair is too much."

The rest of the story is well known.

Said Adam. "Suppose," remarked Eve, while they were discussing the question of what to have for dinner, "suppose we have spare ribs and kraut."

"I," replied Adam, rather gloomily, "I have had about enough spare ribs to do me for a while."

Jim's Position. "They tell me that Jim Muggins is one of the directors in a big city corporation now," said the Grocer.

"Yes, I seen him las' time I was down to town," said Mr. Meddetrass. "He directs the envelopes f'r the firm."

A Log on The Track of the fast express means serious trouble ahead if not removed, so does loss of appetite. It means lack of vitality, loss of strength and nerve weakness. If appetite fails, take Electric Bitters quickly to overcome the cause by toning up the stomach and curing the indigestion. Michael Hessheimer of Lincoln, Neb., had been sick over three years, but six bottles of Electric Bitters put him right on his feet again. They have helped thousands. They give pure blood, strong nerves, good digestion. Only 50 cents at Penn & Holstein's, W E Lynch & Co.

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

Saved by His Wife.

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R J Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery, writes Mr. F. "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed by Penn & Holstein, W E Lynch & Co.

Saves Leg of Boy.

"It seemed that my 14-year old boy would have to lose his leg on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise, wrote D F Howard, Avuone, N. C. "All remedies and doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25c at Penn & Holstein's, W E Lynch & Co.

All male citizens between the ages of 21 years and 60 years except those exempt by law are liable to a poll tax of One Dollar each. A capitation tax of 50 cents each is to be paid on all dogs.

The law prescribes that all male citizens between the ages of 18 and 55 years must pay $2.00 commutation tax or work six days on the public roads. As this is optional with the individual, no commutation tax is included in the property tax. So ask for road tax receipt when you desire to pay road tax.

EYE TALK NO. 4 DETAILS

The difference between a penitentiary and a palace is largely a matter of detail.

Both are designed for human habitation and serve equally well to protect the inmates from the elements.

But one is a vastly more comfortable place of abode than the other.

SO IT IS WITH GLASSES

Crudely fitted glasses MAY help your vision, but great care in every detail of adjustment is essential to safety and comfort.

YOUR EYES ARE WORTH A CORRECTLY FITTED PAIR OF GLASSES.
