

Edgefield Advertiser.
Established 1835.

J. L. MIMS, Editor

Published every Wednesday in The Advertiser Building at $1.50 per year in advance.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Edgefield, S. C.

No communications will be published unless accompanied by the writer's name.

Cards of Thanks, Obituaries, Resolutions and Political Notices published at advertising rates.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN EDGEFIELD COUNTY.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER, 16, 1912.

The man who lives in vain, lives worse than in vain. He who lives to no purpose lives to a bad purpose.—NEVINS.

"When Greeks joined Greeks, then was the tug of war," and the Turks fled before them.

Only 20 days left in which contributions can be made to the Woodrow Wilson fund. Do not wait till the last day to send in your dollar.

Governor Blease has extended executive clemency to 393 cases since he has been in office, 226 of this number receiving pardons and 197 paroles.

Not a single dollar of corporation money has been used in conducting the national Democratic campaign. That is why it is so necessary that you contribute as an individual.

Since the football season has opened the airship casualties will not be so conspicuous. This very brutal game does its part in swelling the mortality list.

If the Democrats were only one-tenth part as loyal to their party as the Greeks are to their mother country, the coffers of the national treasury would be constantly overflowing.

The Socialist who shot Col. Roosevelt, seriously wounding him as he left his hotel in Milwaukee Monday night, deserves a seat in an electric chair. We have no place in America for such vicious wretches.

Governor Blease acted wisely and well when he refused to pardon John J. Jones, the young lawyer who killed Abe Pearlstone at Branchville a year ago. This was a very atrocious murder and no reasonable ground can be found upon which to base executive clemency. The governor has stated that he may reduce the ten-year sentence later.

According to a recent estimate prepared at the request of the governor by the department of commerce and agriculture the population of South Carolina has increased 35,000 since the 1910 census was taken. Wonder if Edgefield has contributed her quota of this increase? The figures of the last census were not very creditable to her. The estimated population of South Carolina at present is 1,551,430.

Give Them the Protection of the Law.

The strike breakers seem to be giving much trouble over in Augusta. Better send them home.—Orangeburg Times and Democrat.

Why? When one set of men refuse to work for a company why hasn't that company a right to send elsewhere for men who will work. Suppose a farmer's cotton pickers walk out of his field, positively refuse to work for him. Hasn't this farmer the right to employ others to work for him? Certainly he has. Then, why hasn't a company the same right?

The County Fair.

The managers feel greatly encouraged over the outlook for the fair. Besides the splendid exhibits of stock, poultry, field crops, merchandise, art, fancy work and household department, a first-class aggregation of shows will afford pleasant diversion for the great throng that will attend. The amusement company has an excellent band that will furnish music throughout each day of the fair. There is no doubt about it, unless the weather man frowns upon us, the Edgefield county fair will be one of the very best to be held in the state this fall.

Bear in mind though that every additional exhibit contributes to the success of the fair. Will you not have an exhibit in every department? Look about the farm, take stock, so to speak, and you will be surprised at how many very creditable exhibits you can make. Farmers generally are taking more interest in the fair than in the past. Can you afford to be left out?

Should Reject Fraudulent Advertisements.

Just as an honest merchant will refuse to offer for sale articles for food that are known to be unsound and therefore injurious; just as an honest lawyer will refuse to accept a case in which sharp practice and manufactured-testimony must be employed in order for his client to win, so should a reputable newspaper refuse to place before its readers advertisements that bear fraud, deception and positive injury on their very face.

A few days ago we were surprised to see in a leading Piedmont newspaper an advertisement occupying prime position with a prominent headline something like this: "Liquors Can Now be Made at Home For Twenty-five Cents a Quart." The advertisement was attractively worded and was calculated to catch the unwary, such sentences as these being used: "With a concentrated extract a smooth and mellow whiskey, liquor or cordial can be made, saving the liquor dealers' enormous profit." "With this new method a quart of delicious and healthful liquor can be made for 25 cents, equal if not better than that sold for four times that amount."

The individual who offers this liquid "gold brick" for sale should be indicted by the postal authorities for using the mail for fraudulent purposes, and the publisher who will exploit the so-called merits of such an article of merchandise deserves to be severely reprimanded by the thoughtful readers of his paper.

Publishers of newspapers should draw the line by refusing to accept advertisements of this character, whether the article be represented as a beverage, drug or foodstuff. The Advertiser will never knowingly be used by conscienceless men who would thus play upon the credulity of people. Instead of tempting thoughtless persons to purchase fraudulent articles of this class, a newspaper should warn the unsuspecting against them.

Missionary Rally at Ebenezer Church, Trenton.

The missionary rally at the Baptist church was a very pleasant and inspiring meeting, all the denominations joining in heartily as is the characteristic of the community and made the day one long to be remembered amongst the church going people. Rev. John Lake spoke at the morning service. He made a very forceful presentation of his work in China. Mrs. Lake and Mrs. Snuggs spoke at the afternoon session, and in their gentle manner gave some interesting facts about their part of the work in the foreign field. A collection of about $125.00 was raised for the two schools of which Mrs. Lake and Mrs. Snuggs are the principals. The meeting as a whole was filled with the missionary spirit. The Snuggs children added much interest to the meeting by their songs and recitations.

Mr. W. W. Miller, our efficient agent at the Southern depot is now being assisted by his brother.

The cleverest device for working the railroad is a double scraper that is pushed along by a locomotive. This machine has been working around Trenton for the past few days.

Farmers have had ideal weather now for some time to get their cotton picked and if the work continues two weeks longer the greater part of the crop will be gathered.

Mrs. Ruby Swearingen Johnston of Vidalia, Ga., is visiting her parents.

Citation.

State of South Carolina, County of Edgefield. By W. T. Kinnaird, Probate Judge. Whereas, S. Cheatham made suit to me, to grant him Letters of Administration of the Estate of and effects of Major Watson.

These Are Therefore to cite and admonish all and singular the kindred and Creditors of the said Major Watson deceased, and they be and appear before me, in the Court of Probate, to be held at my office at Edgefield C. H., S. C., on November 1st, 1912, next, after publication thereof, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said Administration should not be granted.

Given under my Hand, this 16th day of October A. D., 1912. W. T. Kinnaird, P. J. E. C. S. C.

A man had been absent from home for some time, and during his absence had raised a luxuriant beard and mustache. Shortly after his return he paid a visit to his sister, who had a little daughter of whom he was especially fond.

The little girl made no effort to embrace him or offer him a kiss, but hung back reluctantly.

"Why, Eleanor," said the mother, "why don't you give Uncle Ed a kiss?"

"Well, Mother, returned the child, with the most perfect simplicity, "I don't see any place."—Harper's Bazaar.

Current Comment

Merely Samples.

Drygoods merchants give away samples—but butchers charge a quarter for a small sample of steak.—Greenville News.

Not so with Edgefield's butchers,

Reno's Successor.

There is no use in going to Reno. An Atlanta court granted eighty divorces in one week.—Spartanburg Journal.

Atlanta always leads.

A Sure Winner.

When New York gamblers are betting 4 to 1 on Wilson, it is hard to see how he can possibly lose.—Spartanburg Journal.

Don't bet, but vote on November 5.

Real Cause Not Known.

The real cause of the Augusta trolley strike doesn't seem to have been made public yet.—Greenwood Journal.

Apparently the issue is as to which shall rule, the officers of the company or its employees.

Lukewarm Democrats.

You can do more good in this state by contributing to the Wilson fund than by voting for him. But there is no reason for neglecting to do either.—Greenville News.

Some who call themselves good Democrats will do neither. If all Democrats were like them, Governor Wilson would be defeated.

No Woman Wants His Name.

"Mike Papatheodorekuwomdropolis sent in his name and announced a desire to make application for citizenship papers." We do not blame him for sending it in, but it was unfair to discharge the office boy for profanity.—News and Courier.

"Mike" has no kith or kin in Edgefield, at least we haven't heard the court crier call the name.

Small Consumers of Cotton.

The price of cotton is going to remain low just as long as the women insist on wearing one-legged pantaloons for skirts and thus diminishing the demand for cotton goods.—Newberry Observer.

One petticoat manufacturer has been forced into bankruptcy because of the skimpy dimensions of this article of feminine apparel.

Jails Empty in Kansas.

More than half the county jails in Kansas are without inmates. We might hope for such condition in South Carolina when we get a good compulsory education law, adequate public health laws and other measures conducive to general social betterment.—Greenville News.

Empty jails are the fruits of prohibition in Kansas. This "dry" state has made good in spite of the ridicule from press and liquor people.

Governor Unwilling.

If Governor Blease ever intends to do anything for the protection of the people against lawlessness or to show vested capital that their interests in this state are safe, or to show to the working people that their wrongs will be righted, now is his chance. The sheriff of Aiken sends in a C. Q. D. call, and it is time when such disorder, such wild Indian behavior as that which occurred in North Augusta on Sunday happens in the borders of the state of South Carolina. We know that Governor Blease has more influence with the people who are causing that trouble, than any one else in the state, and we would be so glad to make one entry to the credit of the governor.—Florence Times.

The Augusta-Aiken railway company pays its quota of taxes in South Carolina and is entitled to protection, but the governor fails to do his duty by not giving the needed protection.

Smile Provokers

Employe—I would like more money. I am going to get married. Employer—Sorry, but I'll have to reduce it. I am going to get married myself.—Sydney Post.

"Women are certainly progressing."

"That's what. I am looking to see Vassar challenge Yale at football any day now."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Does your husband object to your taking part in politics?" asked Mrs. Crossgrain.

"Certainly not," replied Mrs. Baring Banners.

"Then, where's the fun in doing so?"—Washington Star.

"Yes," said the conscientious dealer, "this hammock will hold two, but it will be a tight squeeze." "Oh that will be all right!" said the maiden, blushing: "just send it around to the nouse please."

"Do you love me, Charles?" inquired the beautiful girl.

"Of course I do."

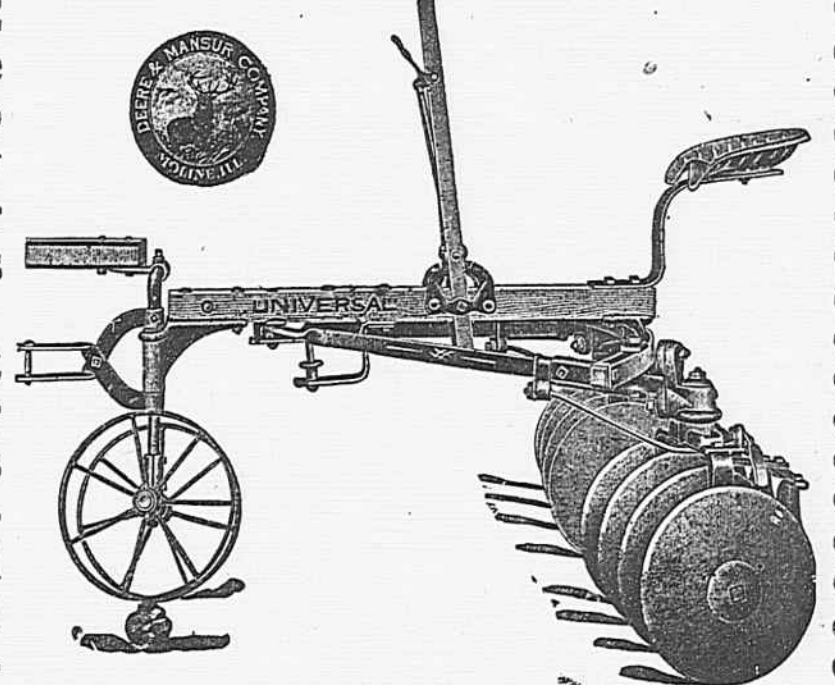

"Do you think only of me, by day and night?"

"Well, I'll be frank with you. Now and then I think of baseball."

Seasonable Implements

We invite the farmers of Edgefield county to call and inspect our 3-horse disc plows and our pony disk plows, the latter does excellent work and can be easily drawn by 2 horses. The season for deep plowing is now on. Better come to see us at once.

We also want you to see our disc harrows and stalk cutters. Every well equipped farm should be supplied with these implements. Quit worrying with wood when you can have grates put in your fireplaces for a small sum. Come in and see our big line of grates. We also carry a big assortment of heaters. Just the thing you need for your dining room. They give a quick fire and are altogether satisfactory.

It will be a pleasure for us to show you all of these goods.

A Horse is Not A Machine

A horse cannot give continuous service. It tires easily and sometimes must have rest in the middle of the day.

But the "Hupmobile" is Different.

Always in condition and fresh at the end of the run. It never tires and will take you anywhere, no matter what the distance. Sand and hills make no difference, nor do muddy roads for that matter. The perfect simplicity of the working parts means fewer repairs, less attention—eliminates the heavy expense bills. A truly economical and efficient car built for the purpose of giving uninterrupted service at low cost of upkeep.

THE DEEPER YOU GO INTO DETAIL THE GREATER WILL GROW YOUR REGARD

The inside, not the outward appearance of a car, establishes its true value. For this reason, we ask you not to let your first favorable impression end with your admiration for the graceful design, the low strong lines, the comfortable upholstery of the low-stroke Hupp "32." We prefer that you go deeper into the car and examine its motor, transmission and axle construction.

WHAT MAKES PULLING POWER?

- First—The relation of piston stroke to cylinder bore.
- Second—The design of the motor.
- Third—The efficiency of the carburetor.
- Fourth—Simplicity of the chassis construction.
- Fifth—The degree to which friction is reduced.
- Sixth—The weight of the car.

LET US SHOW YOU

How these essentials have been accomplished in the Hupp "32."

- First—The stroke is neither too long nor too short, but in ratio to the bore is as 1.7 is to 1.
- Second—The cylinders of the motor are cast en bloc; the valves at the side are protected from dust and dirt. Three liberal crank shaft bearings are provided to preclude the possibility of undue strain.

Third—The carburetion is absolutely automatic, insuring correct mixture at all speeds and under all loads without adjustment.

Fourth—The chassis is clean of every complication; the motor, clutch and transmission are a compact weight-saving unit, permanently aligned and dispensing with a shaft and universal joint between clutch and transmission.

Fifth—Friction is reduced to the limit by the finest ball and roller bearings; there is but one universal joint between transmission and full-floating rear axle, giving a practically straight line drive and the least possible lost motion in the transmission of power.

Sixth—The weight of the car is from two to three hundred pounds under that of equal size and grade.

Each of these points is of unusual advantage; collectively they enable the motor to give its maximum power and set the Hupp "32" apart and above cars of its size and price.

Long Stroke HUPP "32" Touring Car $900, F. O. B. Detroit, including windshield, gas lamps and generator, oil lamps, tools and horn. Three speeds forward and reverse, centre control, Bosch magneto, 105 inch wheelbase, 32x3 1/2 inch tires. Roadster, $800.

HUPP "20" Standard Runabout $750, F. O. B. Detroit. 4-cylinders, 20 H. P., equipped with Bosch magneto, top windshield, gas lamps and windshield, oil lamps, tools and horn, 110 inch wheelbase.

We have an attractive Agency proposition open in this territory, and will be glad to correspond with live, aggressive parties who may be interested in securing the Agency for this exceptional line of cars.

GIBBES MACHINERY COMPANY

Columbia, S. C.

Another Shipment.

Just received a shipment of cut-glass recently purchased in New York. All new patterns and designs, at remarkably low prices. Penn & Holstein.

Registered Jerseys.

I offer for sale two mature cows and half dozen or more heifers two years and under. Also one male calf. J. D. Kemp, Kirksey, S. C.

Notice of Auction Sale of Land.

I will have sold at public outcry, at Edgefield, South Carolina, on the first Monday in November A. D., 1912, during the legal hours of sale, all of that tract of land known as Mrs. S. E. Hardisty's place, containing 70 acres. This place is on the public road about one mile below Roper's Cross Roads and contains an abundant supply of wood and is well watered, having two running streams to pass through it. This land is well adapted to corn and cotton and would also make a fine dairy farm. Terms of sale cash. Papers extra. Mrs. S. E. Hardisty, Statesboro, Ga.

November Weddings.

A large assortment of sterling silver just received for November weddings. Penn & Holstein.