Residence, No. 17.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1913

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

After spending the holidays with the home folks, Miss Mamie Cheat-ham has returned to Pleasant Lane.

Messrs. Rives Bros. announce in their advertisement this week that they have secured the agency for the celebrated McCall patterns.

Misses Ellee Swearingen of Trenton and Annie Mae Atkinson of Augusta spent several days last week with Miss Mamie Cheat-ham.

Married, Sunday afternoon, January 5, Miss Mattie Bell Casey and Mr. Joe C. Adams, at Fruit Hill by Rev. H. B. White.

There will be a called meeting of the Odd Fellows to-night (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Better secure your tickets early for the lyceum entertainment, as there will be a large demand for seats. The first selections will be the best.

The students have all returned to the S. C. C. I. and everything is moving along as systematically as if there had been no interruption of the routine work by the holidays.

Everybody is talking parcel post but The Advertiser is of the opinion that an old-fashioned registered letter is preferable to a bundle, bale or box a la parcel post.

Mr. Horace Cogburn is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cogburn. He is now an engineer on the Southern railroad and makes Columbia his headquarters.

Some of the merchants have been spending the past week taking stock and closing up the old year's business. In spite of the many adverse conditions Edgefield merchants had a very satisfactory year.

Newt. Broadwater says he and several of the other neighbors will soon initiate Wiley Ozuts and have promised to invite The Advertiser man out to witness the conferring of the third degree by the Knights of Agriculture.

Mrs. L. C. Bailey has closed her sixth millinery season with Messrs. Rives Bros and has returned to her home in Lynchburg, Va. She will come to Edgefield in the early spring to again take charge of the millinery department of Rives Bros.

Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Jeffries spent Monday in Ridge Spring as guests of Col. and Mrs. R. B. Watson. If we mistake not they joined in welcoming the new Baptist pastor who hails from the state of Tennessee.

The most valuable and the most highly prized New Year gift that was bestowed anywhere in the county was that which the Stork left at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smyley Stevens last Wednesday—a fine boy.

Mr. B. B. Wilson arrived Monday morning from Lexington, Ky., bringing with him the second car of horses and mules for Messrs. Wilson & Cantelou. They purchase their stock from the farmers around Lexington.

The governor has appointed Col. W. Jasper Talbert of Edgefield as representative from South Carolina on the Gettysburg battle commission to take the place made vacant by the death of Gen. James W. Moore.

While very few farmers will now be benefitted by a rise, it is probable that cotton seed will go still higher. Cotton seed meal is selling for $29 per ton and hulls at $12 per ton. These prices are unusually high for the season, and it is probable that meal will advance still more.

The Knights of Pythias will give their annual banquet in the college dining room on Monday night, January 16. Each Knight will have the privilege of taking his wife, sister or sweetheart. It is probable that some prominent Knight will be invited to deliver an address at the banquet.

The western side of the county has an opportunity of a life time to secure first-class merchandise at a very low price. Dr. W. E. Prescott has reduced the prices on practically all lines for the great sale that he is advertising. There will be only nine days in which the goods can be bought at the low prices.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Horn, of Columbia, returned home Tuesday after a short visit to their cousin, Mrs. Joseph H. Cantelou.

The county board of commissioners surpass the National Democratic convention in balloting. Yesterday 38 ballots were taken and 30 this morning without electing a clerk for 1913.

Mr. B. L. Holston has just received a lot of horses and mules which he advertises in this issue. Mr. Holston has been dealing in stock for a number of years and is a good judge of horses. His stock can be seen in western Edgefield at the Marsh place where he resides.

Quarles-Strom.

One of the many happy holiday marriages escaped The Advertiser last week. We refer to the marriage of our young friends, Miss America Quarles and Mr. Milledge Strom, which occurred Sunday afternoon, December 29, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. T. B. Quarles. Only the immediate families and a few friends were present to witness the impressive ceremony which was performed by Dr. M. D. Jeffries. The Advertiser joins their host of friends in extending sincere congratulations and hearty good wishes.

Letter From Long Cane School.

We have seen many letters from other schools, and we have decided to represent dear old Long Cane. We have about 45 scholars, and they are all doing thorough work. We are one of the best teachers in the world we think. We are having some warm weather for January. Miss Mattie Belle Casey and Mr. J. C. Adams were united in the bonds of matrimony Sunday afternoon, January 5. A crowd of young people serenaded this happy couple Monday about 10 p. m. We will close for this time. If this letter escapes the waste basket we will come again.

Blue Eyed Boys.

Third Lyceum Entertainment.

The first two entertainments of the present lyceum course were strictly high-class and were thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended. The third attraction will be given in the opera house next Wednesday evening and while differing in character it too will measure up to the high standard that the management has set. If you have not already secured seats you had better do so as soon as they are placed on sale. The demand for lyceum seats is greater than it was formerly. The Edgefield people have learned to appreciate entertainments of this class. You will regret it if you fail to hear Mr. Landon Wednesday night.

Interesting Ladies' Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary societies of the Southern Baptist Convention, from Maryland to Texas, are observing this as a week of prayer for foreign missions. The ladies society of the First Baptist church will hold their meetings on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoon. On Wednesday the Sunbeams will have charge of the program. On Thursday Mrs. J. L. Mims and Mrs. Jeffries will lead the meeting with a talk by the pastor. Subjects "Faith and work as exhibited in ancient and modern times." On Friday Mrs. Snuggs will be the leader; subject, "The women of China." The hour for these meetings will be three o'clock. The members of the society are urged to be present and all ladies are cordially invited. The members will bring Christmas offering on Friday.

Mrs. Ozuts Entertained The U. D. C.

The Daughters of the Confederacy were delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. P. Ozuts.

As the guests arrived they were received by the hostess and conducted into the parlor where Mrs. F. F. Moseley served them with delicious fruit nectar.

The meeting was held in the spacious dining room affording ample room for the score or more of ladies present.

The national convention recently held in Washington, D. C., was the main point of interest on the program and the readings and reports were echoes of that memorable occasion.

Plans were perfected for the observance of the nineteenth of January, Lee's birthday, with appropriate public exercises to be held in the Baptist church.

The refreshments consisted of chicken salad, sandwiches and coffee and were served by little Edith, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Ozuts.

Monthly Meeting of W. C. T. U.

One of the most interesting and enjoyable meetings of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the residence of Mrs. J. L. Mims on Monday afternoon. It was the first meeting of the New Year and each member told in a few words her resolutions for 1913. This exchange of thought and purpose was inspiring, serving to stimulate to higher ideals and nobler impulses.

Mrs. T. H. Rainsford led the devotional exercises using appropriate passages of scripture with prayer.

The president, Mrs. Mims, gave a resume of last year's progress and read a comprehensive and optimistic paper containing wise and helpful suggestions for the plan of work for the union during the coming year, pointing out many opportunities for effective work along temperance lines. Scientific temperance instruction in the schools and through medal contests was emphasized as a potent factor towards creating sentiment against the liquor evil.

In the report of what had been accomplished through the efforts of the W. C. T. U., was mentioned that nearly every church in Edgefield association, both white and colored, had adopted the use of fermented wine for the sacrament. It is a rare occurrence also that wine is served at private homes for social functions due to a change in public opinion from the antebellum custom when it was found in every household.

Mrs. Shannonhouse and Mrs. Tompkins sang a beautiful duet well suited to their voices that blended in sweet harmony.

Mrs. W. E. Lott read current events that were full of encouraging and surprising facts to those interested in temperance reform, which is fast becoming world-wide in its influence.

After a reading by Mrs. W. L. Duvovant, the hostess served orange blanc mange and fruit cake and presented each guest with New Year greetings, neatly printed on a small slip of paper and tied with the emblem of the W. C. T. U., a white ribbon.

FOR THE WINTER DAYS

METHODS OF PUTTING UP ALWAYS POPULAR APPLE.

Canned, They Are a Welcome Addition to the Cold Weather Menu—Preserved Crab Apple—Ingredients with Apple Butter.

Canned Apples—Peel one-half peck of tart apples, cut them in quarters and remove cores; as soon as prepared, put the apples into cold water to which the juice of one lemon has been added. Have ready five pints of syrup, put the apples into five quart jars, fill them up with the syrup, close tightly, and place the jars in a boiler with the water coming to within an inch of the top of them, and cook about twenty minutes.

For the syrup, put three and one-half pounds of sugar and two and one-half pints of water in a preserving kettle, stirring until nearly boiling and always removing the scum that rises. Use as directed.

Preserved Crab Apple—Remove cores from two quarts of sound crab apples, using a small apple corer; then immediately drop the apples into cold water to keep them from discoloring. Put into a preserving kettle two pounds of sugar and one pint of water; let the syrup boil a few minutes, removing scum the while, and then put in the apples, letting them boil until tender without losing shape. Put the apples carefully into jars, fill these up with the syrup, seal and set away.

Apple Butter—Wash and cut up without peeling one-half peck of tart apples; put them in a preserving kettle, adding one quart of cider; cover the kettle and boil the fruit until tender. When cooked, remove the fruit from the fire and rub it through a sieve; return the pulp to the kettle, place it over a slow fire and boil it thirty minutes, stirring all the while. Then measure the pulp, and to each quart put two cupfuls of sugar; also add one-half teaspoonful each of ground cloves and cinnamon and boil twenty minutes. Put the sauce into stone or glass jars and seal them tightly.

Apple Sweet—Peel and cut one-half peck of large sweet apples into halves or quarters and drop them at once into cold water; then place them in a preserving kettle, covering them only with water, and boil until tender. Then remove the apples from the kettle and lay the pieces so as not to break them up on a large flat platter.

In the meanwhile place two pounds of sugar and two pints of water over the fire, adding the juice and peel of two large lemons. When the syrup boils put in the apples and cook them five minutes more. Fill the jars with syrup after the apples are in them and seal.

Ginger Apples.—Peel one-half peck of medium-sized tart apples and cut them into quarters; remove cores and drop apples at once into cold water, adding the juice of one lemon. Pick over and wash two ounces of green ginger and then cut it up into small pieces.

Place the preserving kettle with three pounds of sugar and one quart of water over the fire, drop in the ginger and boil five minutes; then put in the apples and cook them until a straw will pierce them easily. Remove the apples with great care from the kettle and put them in the same manner into the jars, continuing to boil the syrup for ten minutes after the fruit has been taken out. Fill the jars to overflowing with the syrup, cover, and set them upside down until cold. Instead of green ginger, one-half ounce of tincture of ginger may be used.

Help in Peeling Onions.

The merest briefest from a Chicago coworker takes another pebble (and not a tiny bit) out of the path.

"Before beginning to peel onions, grease your finger tips liberally with butter or lard or dripping. Then grasp the knife and go on with the dreaded job! Not a trace of odor from the onion or garlic will cling to your hands, provided, of course, that you avoid handling the onion with any part of them except the fingers.

Banana Soup.

Mash six ripe bananas, then rub them through a sieve; add twice as much cold milk, sweeten to taste, add a pinch of salt and the grated rind of one lemon; bring to boiling point, then add one heaping teaspoonful of arrow-root or cornstarch mixed smooth with a little cold milk; stir till boiling, then allow to cook for eight minutes, stirring constantly; let cool, then add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and place on ice. Serve in bouillon cups.

Canned Pineapple Fritters.

Drain the slices of pineapple from the sirup in the can; sprinkle with kirsch and let stand an hour, then dry on a cloth. Dip the slices, one at a time, in fritter batter and fry in deep fat to a delicate amber tint. Drain on soft paper. Serve at once with a hot sauce made of the sirup from the can.

Baked Potatoes.

Thoroughly wash 12 good sized potatoes, make a few small slits in them, but do not peel. Place in a paper bag with one tablespoon of water; bag from 40 to 50 minutes, according to size.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

[From a series of elaborate chemical tests.]

Comparative digestibility of food made with different baking powders.

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of two kinds of baki g powder—cream of tartar and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

99 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 Per Cent. Digested

Royal Baking Powder raised food is shown to be of greatly superior digestibility and healthfulness.

Keep The Kidneys Well.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Edgefield People Know How to Save it.

Many Edgefield people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's kidney pills, a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. There is an Edgefield citizen's recommendation:

Mrs. Hattie Dunn, Edgefield, S. C., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for several years and my health was so badly run down that I could hardly get around. The kidney secretions were in bad shape and caused me no end of trouble. On various occasions I have used Doan's kidney pills and have received a world of good. They have made me feel like another person. Pains in my back and sides disappeared and my kidneys again did their work as they should. This remedy is without doubt the best one to be had for kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
