of Augusta-Ninety Six Road.

Mr. Editor: I would like to say something about the public road from Augusta via Edgefield to Ninety Six. From Augusta to Edgefield it should be clayed in the sandy places and re-surveyed a part of the way from Edgefield to Ninety Six. It should be graded and contents put at all water places, so that autos and such machines would not have such jolts. Mr. Gaines has suggested this movement after he made one trip. Then people that have to make merry should help to put this road so it will be a pleasure to travel inste d of being such a hardship on man and beast. Our ancestors pulled over these hills and through these sand beds for the past 100 years, so the only way to get this in shape is to go to work on it. Everybody would be benefitted and not any one hurt except other places which may be getgood road movement as it would going now. The masses of the people don't generally go ahead them- til they caught and killed it, or put comes trying to ride into office quor is just as really the cause of promising them that they will look especially after their interests, but devoured him. all such has been a failure. So we must go to work and have this thing done ourselves. The home was lighted with uncommon brilliancy and a fashionable and appreciative assemblage partook of the mental feast which was gratuitously offered in due time. In front of the pulpit a large platform was erected upon which two fine pianos rested. ## Making Law Mean Something.

Solicitor Hill of Spartanburg county, has issued a call to the foreman of the grand jury and all the magistrates in his office tomorrow to discuss methods of enforcing the criminal laws. Selling cocaine and carrying concealed weapons are two matters he proposes to go into particularly. This appears to be a very sensible thing to do, doesn't it? Yet have you heard of its ev-er being done before? Why shouldn't all officials and the people generally wake up and put some ginger into law en-forcement? Isn't it about time to sit up and take notice instead of shirking the enforcement of law against crime! the sweet babe of Mr. and Mrs. W. We refer to the attitude of our people
