

Office No. 61.
Residence, No. 17.

Wednesday, October 29.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

At last, the frost is on the pumpkin.

Mr. Walter Hill is here visiting his mother, Mrs. Maggie T. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mays of Washington, D. C., are visiting Col. and Mrs. S. B. Mays.

The Colliers band will lead the annual parade at the fairs which will be formed at 11 o'clock.

Other valuable prizes besides the piano and diamond ring will be awarded in The Advertiser's voting contest.

Bring the children to Edgefield to see the fair and to visit the carnival. A day spent at Edgefield will be of real benefit as well as pleasure.

Mr. Willie Adams has completed the course in the leading business college in Atlanta and is at home again. He is now well equipped for a successful business career.

Miss Lula Quarles went to Garfield, Ga., last Friday to accept a school at that place. She was accompanied by her father, Mr. H. W. Quarles.

Mr. Charlie Roper has been spending several days here with his father, Mr. J. H. P. Roper. He is greatly pleased with the position which he holds in Macon, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Broadwater of Greenwood have been spending the past week in Edgefield and vicinity. They have been very cordially greeted by their friends.

Mr. J. J. Fox, a brother of Mrs. Mary J. Norris, died at his home in Lexington Wednesday last. Mrs. Norris attended the funeral which was held in Batesburg Thursday morning.

Miss Linnie Corley passed through Edgefield Friday enroute to Mullins to visit friends. After attending the state fair this week she will go to her school in Lexington county.

The intelligence of the death of Mrs. N. L. Brunson reached us just before the hour for closing our forms. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. A more lengthy notice will be published next week.

A meeting of the Choral class will be held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Mims Friday night at 8 o'clock, the place of meeting having been changed on account of repairs that are being made on the heating plant of the High school building.

Mrs. Milton Parker has moved to town in order to be near the school. She is occupying the residence of Mrs. Susan B. Hill on Main street that was formerly occupied by Mr. J. C. Hughes. He has rented the residence of Mrs. S. A. Morrill on Columbia street.

The shows of Mr. George Murphy will open at the fair grounds Monday morning and will remain in Edgefield throughout the week. It is the strongest aggregation of shows to be seen anywhere in the state. Our fair association has been very fortunate in engaging Mr. Murphy. He has made an enviable reputation as manager of attractions of this kind.

Dippy Dope Castle, the largest and newest portable amusement device ever constructed for a midway attraction arrived in Edgefield from the Virginia state fair at Richmond, Va., and a force of men are now erecting this show on the fair grounds. This particular show is one of the many features on the midway and has met with tremendous success wherever shown.

Despite the inclement weather of last Thursday night there was a good attendance at the Methodist prayermeeting service. For the past two weeks the mid-week congregations have enjoyed Mr. Walker's radiopticon views of his recent trip abroad. Next Thursday night he will board a large Atlantic greyhound, bid the homeland adieu, and start on his journey. He invites all to come next Thursday night and go with him.

Beautiful assortment of velvet, Axminster, Ingrain, Wilton and Brussels art squares 9x12. Smaller rugs to match.

Ramsey & Jones.

Mrs. A. Marsh, Mrs. J. E. H. and Mrs. C. E. May will represent the Edgefield chapter, U. D. C., at the state convention to be held in Edgefield early in December.

The handsome piano which The Advertiser is offering as first prize in the subscription contest will adorn the home of some lady in the county in a few short weeks. Wonder who will be the happy possessor?

Large supply of Appler and Red Rust Proof Oats for seed.

Edgefield Mercantile Co.

Mr. B. B. Wilson, of Lexington, Ky., is here with Mr. Bettis Cantelou. For many years he has been coming to Edgefield regularly bringing large shipments of thoroughbred horses from the Blue Grass region of Kentucky, and he has as many warm personal friends throughout the county as if he were a permanent dweller among our people.

5 oak, 2 mahogany and 1 walnut bed room suits to go at cost for cash. These are fine suits and are too high priced for this market is our reason for selling at cost. They can't be bought to-day from the factory at what you pay.

Ramsey & Jones.

The members of the Edgefield chapter of the U. D. C. will have a booth at the fair from which many useful as well as beautiful household articles, cake and home-made candy will be sold in order to increase the funds in the treasury, the money to be used in entertaining the state conventions. Patronize the U. D. C. booth liberally. Give the ladies substantial encouragement.

Notice, do not wait for the cut price Sale on Clothing, we have $15.00 Special Suits and Overcoats, all wool, nicely made, fit perfect, $25.00 values, write

F. G. Mertins, Augusta, Ga.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union Reception

On Friday evening last the handsome colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rainsford put on a gala appearance in honor of the reception which was given by the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union to the faculty of the High School and graded school as well as to the other teachers of our town.

From the colonial columns hung Japanese lanterns of unique design most daintily arranged. These outer signals of welcome always add greatly to the anticipation of guests, and aid the hostess in expressing her welcome, for it is said that "a good beginning is half the battle;" so that Friday evening every one who entered was already assured that they were being anxiously and affectionately awaited.

The guests were arriving from 8 to 8:30 and being received by Mr. and Mrs. Rainsford, the officers of the W. C. T. U. and the teachers. About sixty-five guests were in attendance.

The program was chiefly of a musical nature, the first number being a quartette, "Fly your banners" by Misses Lura, Sophie and Sadie Mims and Maria Hill. Mrs. J. R. Tompkins sang "The child outside the door," as a solo and Dr. A. T. King, the new pastor of the Baptist church at Johnston made a very instructive talk on "Alcohol and its effects on the human body." This was a very able address from the physician's standpoint, and was listened to with a great deal of interest by all present.

At the close of the talk by Dr. King, a very much appreciated vocal quartette was given by Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Shannonhouse, Miss Polly Shannonhouse and Mr. Geo. F. Mims. Later in the evening Miss Shannonhouse sang a solo "Out from the Hearthstone." All these selections were taken from the collection of songs prepared for such occasions by the national Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The souvenirs of the evening were cards tied with the white ribbon, and containing a quotation from Frances Willard the former great teacher-president of this world-wide organization.

At the close of the program an elaborate salad course, with coffee, was served, followed by ice cream and cake. The decorations were all in white, and very daintily and artistically arranged. Before the guests reluctantly made their departure for their respective homes, a set of valuable charts suggestive to teachers in their instruction in regard to the effects of alcohol and narcotics as laid down in the physiology text books, was presented to Maj. Lyon for the W. C. T. U. by Mr. J. L. Mims. Major Lyon made a very happy response to the presentation and manifested great interest in this important subject.
