

Edgefield Advertiser.

Boys' Corn Club, Attention.

The members of the Boys' Corn Club are requested to meet in my office first Monday in December, bringing with them the best single ear, best ten ears, and certified statement of yield. Any boys who expect to join for next year are urged to come and hear what the government man has to say about requirements, and better prizes that are to be given.

W. W. Fuller,
Co. Supt. Education.

Exhibit of Majestic Ranges.

One of the most attractive exhibits at the county fair, one that always pleased the ladies as they passed, was that of the celebrated Majestic ranges which are sold by Messrs. Jones & Son. No kitchen is complete without a modern range and there are no ranges on the market that are superior to the Majestic. Dozens of ladies in Edgefield and vicinity are singing the praises of the Majestic ranges. The exhibit at the fair was very creditable and was generally admired.

A Tribute From Republican Missionary Society.

Mrs. D. E. Lanham a loyal mother and devoted wife has left us to be with us no more in this life but we bow in humble submission to God's holy will, knowing that he makes no mistakes.

Be it resolved that we, the members of Republican missionary society cherish our sister's sweet memory and reserve on our record a blank page and that we send a copy of these resolutions to the bereaved family and one to the Edgefield Advertiser.

Red Cross Stamps.

The season for purchasing Red Cross stamps for sealing Christmas packages is near at hand and plans are being perfected for having these stamps sold in all parts of the country. The proceeds from their sale, which in the aggregate will amount up into thousands of dollars, will be used to continue the fight against the great white plague. Mrs. John G. Edwards has accepted the agency for this vicinity will arrange with some of the merchants to place these stamps on sale. Give Mrs. Edwards your full co-operation in this work for suffering humanity. She will give largely of her time to it without compensation, except the consciousness that she has performed her duty in this labor of love. We trust that after Christmas Mrs. Edwards will have a considerable sum to forward as proceeds from the sale of the Red Cross stamps in Edgefield.

Masquerade and Musical.

Thursday evening of next week, Thanksgiving evening, the teachers of the graded and High Schools will give a musical and masquerade entertainment in the High School auditorium in order to raise funds for suitably observing arbor day. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged all who are masked and those who do not wear a mask of some kind will be charged 25 cents. The occasion will be a very pleasant one and all of the people of all ages are invited and urged to attend. The ladies, assisted by Maj. Lyon and Prof. Genes, will undertake the improvement of the school grounds and also the improvement of the interior of the class rooms. In order to do this they will need money. They are willing to give their time and efforts to planning an entertainment. Now surely the people of Edgefield will not fail to patronize the entertainment liberally. Remember, only 10 cents if you mask and a quarter if you are not masked.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the relatives and friends who were so kind and thoughtful of us during the sickness and in the death of my husband.
Mrs. Carrie Mays.

Corley-Parks.

In a quiet and very becoming manner Miss Lizzie Corley and Mr. R. H. Parks were married at Gilgal church last Sunday just before the usual morning service. The Rev. P. P. Blalock officiate. While some of Mr. Parks' friends had some intimation as to his plans, he surprised most of them by bringing in his bride Sunday afternoon after a day's journey in the country. Both Mr. and Mrs. Parks have a host of friends who wish them well. She possesses many admirable qualities which will cause her to soon make many warm friends in Edgefield. As for Mr. Parks, he is held in high esteem here and all over the county, being regarded as a man of sterling worth and unimpeachable character.

Bryan-Hammond.

A quiet but very beautiful wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Bryan Sunday afternoon when their beautiful daughter, Miss Marie Bryan, became the bride of Mr. Paul Hammond. The bride's pastor, Dr. M. D. Jeffries, performed the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the marriage. Miss Bryan is widely beloved, having made many friends in Edgefield among our young people while she was a student at the S. C. C. I. Mr. Hammond is a young farmer who is very popular among a large circle of friends. He is the son of the lamented Mr. Collier Hammond and was reared in the Antioch section. We extend hearty good wishes to our young friends.

An Appeal For The Orphanage.

I have just received a telegram from Dr. A. T. Jamison, the superintendent of the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, stating that only $439 of the $900 pledged by the Edgefield association for the support of the orphanage for the current year has been paid up to this time. The pastors in the association should take a collection at once for the orphanage and send it to Dr. Jamison in order that our association may meet its pledge. As the conventional year closes November 30, there are but ten days left. Prompt action should be taken by all of the churches. From the abundant harvest which our people have reaped let the orphans be generously supported.

O. Sheppard,
Moderator.

Bright, Sweet-Spirited Contestants.

Mrs. K. L. Norris, the lady from Jacksonville, Fla., who is managing The Advertiser's contest, says she has never in her experience of five years had brighter, more amiable or sweeter spirited contestants than those who have entered our contest. It is always a pleasure for her to greet them in the office. The contest which The Advertiser conducted so successfully three years ago was exceedingly pleasant from start to finish. The young ladies then, just as the contestants now, found much real pleasure in their work. When the end came there were no heart-aches or wounded feelings. They were then all rewarded in proportion to the work they did, and that will be the case in this contest. Every young lady who enters the contest and does active work to the close will receive a prize which she will value all along down through the years, being a pleasant reminder of The Advertiser's contest.

White Town School.

[Written for Last Week.]

Our school started last Monday. We have the same teachers. We have thirty-two pupils enrolled and are expecting more. The farmer's are busy sowing grain and picking cotton. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jennings have been quite sick for some time with fever, and also Miss Coreen Walls. We hope them a speedy recover. Mrs. W. B. White was the welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. Whites recently. Miss Pearl Riddlehoover spent the day with Miss Coreen Walls last Sunday. Mr. J. E. Talbert was the welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whites on Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Riddlehoover and family spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Whites. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Riddlehoover spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie White. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Long were welcome guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jennings last Saturday night. Well we will close. You shall hear from us again.

A HANDSOME GOLD BROOCH.

DONATED BY PENN & HOLSTEIN, DRUGGISTS

Is The Prize Offered This Week in The Advertiser's Contest.

This handsome solid gold brooch of filigree work with amethyst set, donated by Penn & Holstein, who have an up-to-date line of drugs and also an elegant stock of jewelry, is to be awarded to the contestant who brings or sends to The Advertiser office the greatest amount of money for NEW subscriptions for the week ending November 25. By new subscription is meant a subscription for any number of years from any person who does not now take The Advertiser.

Collections (now due and in advance) from old subscribers will not be counted in awarding the Penn and Holstein gold brooch but votes will be issued on them as per schedule.

It is an old saying and none the less a true axiom to the effect that "the early bird catches the worm," and it is applicable to this case. From now on until the close the voting will be very spirited. Already several of the contestants have developed wonderful strength, showing that their friends are working faithfully in their interest.

The list of handsome prizes should call forth an earnest effort on the part of the popular and energetic young ladies of this county. When one considers the handsome brooch from the Penn & Holstein store alone that is offered this week, they should not hesitate to enlist their friends in their behalf. Pitch right in with a firm determination to win, and if you are not the winner yourself give the one who does win a race they will always remember. To win the Penn & Holstein prize contestants must report by Tuesday, November 25, at 4 o'clock.

Out-of-town contestants may mail their reports from their postoffice by 4 o'clock if they are unable to come to The Advertiser office in person and they will get credit in this special offer.
