

ADAPTED FOR GENERAL WEAR

Smart Coats of Covert Cloth Service-able for Any Occasion During the Winter.

Every winter outfit should be supplied with one of the smart coats of covert cloth for rough-and-ready wear. These hang very full and straight from the raglan shoulders, and are belted about the hips.

Large, coin-shaped bone buttons are used to fasten the coats and to trim the cuffs.

One notices in the exclusive shops which specialize in topcoats, whose well-tailored lines lift them far above the ordinary coat, exceptionally smart models of Irish blanket cloth. They are to be had in all colors, including navy blue, tobacco brown, tan, hunter's green, beige and tete de negre.

One of the best models has a full lower portion attached to a yoke which is extended over the shoulders to form the sleeves. About the waist line, at the back, are box plaits, from which the coat hangs in full godets. A wide stitched belt across the front starts from under the arms and fastens at the side front. The high collar and cuffs are of beaver.

The straight hip-length coat continues to retain the popularity gained earlier in the season. Some models are single-breasted, and fasten with frogs of braid, while others are fastened at the side with bullet buttons covered with the material.

A stunning model of black velvet has a short, loose jacket bordered with white fox. The collar buttons close about the neck, and the long sleeves are tightly fitted, coming well over the hands. The skirt is circular and has a border of the fur at the extreme edge of the hem. This is a practical suit, which would do service on many occasions.—Washington Star.

LINGERIE ALL IN TAFFETA

Popular Material Has Come Into Fashion for Every Sort of Use in the Boudoir.

The newest ideas in lingerie in its real meaning of the word are now being shown in taffeta. When you rest, if you would rest in approved fashion, it must be in taffeta from head to toe. The boudoir cap that is exquisite and new is of taffeta. The negligee and the little mules of boudoir slippers are of the same material and are trimmed with the attractive hand-made roses, lace or silk embroidery that we have come to love in the rest hour. These sets are excellent ideas for gifts that you can make from short pieces of taffeta, and if you do not care to give three pieces at once make one of a set of staple color in taffeta and finish it on other red letter days. A boudoir cap that is worthy of notice is in pale pink taffeta and has a border of small pink and blue roses around the edge. These are made in the wrapped style and have small leaves of pale green taffeta to fill out the garland. Around the bottom is a plaited net frill with a hand-embroidered garland of flowers.

EXQUISITE CAPE COAT

Charming in its simplicity is this cape coat of moritox babylamb. The rolling collar, silk braid agraffes and jaunty style of coat are borrowed from the military capes worn by officers. The sleeves are loose and baggy so as not to crush the delicate tulle sleeves of the frock. They show a flaring cuff. A tassel-weighted sash adds grace to the coat, and the corsage of blue flowers is a novel addition.

The Reign of Blue.

Dark blue is surely as fashionable as its staunchest admirers could wish to have it. Blue serge has been fashionable for several seasons, increasingly so, apparently. And it is as much worn now as ever. Of course, blue serge suits demand blue accessories, so there are blue net blouses, blue silk and lisle stockings, blue handbags and other blue things by the score. Then there are many blue velvet hats. Blue is one of the best colors in the lovely new brocades for evening wear, too. And blue velvet—even crimson velvet—is not more regal looking than rich and sumptuous velvet of king's blue.

One ship drives east, another west, While the selfsame breezes blow; 'Tis the set of the sails and not the gales, That bids them where to go.

Like the winds of the air, are the wars of the fates

As we journey along through life; 'Tis the set of the soul that decides the goal And not the storm or strife.

THE ECONOMICAL SALMON.

According to government analysis, canned salmon will furnish a pound of protein more cheaply than any other animal food except salt cod. The thrifty housewife will have a few cans of salmon on her shelves to use for occasions and also for emergencies. A most appetizing main dish for a dinner may be made by serving salmon loaf surrounded with peas. Salmon with peas and a salad dressing and a chopped pickle makes a most appetizing salad.

Another good dish which is especially nice for a supper dish is mashed potatoes put through a ricer heaped on a platter as a border around salmon which has been heated in the can. After opening, set it in hot water until well heated, then heap in the center of a hot platter, removing the skin and bones. Over the potatoes pour a thick well-seasoned white sauce and serve very hot.

Salmon Cups.—Chop finely a can of salmon, add a half cupful of bread crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two well-beaten eggs, salt, pepper, and half a cupful of rich milk. Mix well and pack in greased cups, set in a pan of water and bake until firm. Turn out and serve on hot individual plates with a white sauce.

Salmon Croquettes.—Mix a half cupful of bread crumbs with a can of salmon drained and minced. Season with salt, pepper, a little nutmeg, the juice of half a lemon and a tablespoonful of butter. If too dry add a little of the liquor from the can. Make in any desired shape, and when firm fry in deep fat.

Salmon Soup.—Grate an onion and cook in a quart of rich milk ten minutes. Cook two tablespoonfuls of flour with one of butter, season well, add half a canful of salmon chopped. Cook ten minutes all together, then put through a strainer and serve at once.

The law of a king is service, And the kindest serve the most. Then ye who are sons of promise And would royal lineage boast, Get under the common burden, Go, brother the brotherless sons And win the royal guerdon, The thanks of comforted ones. —Staley F. Davis.

CABBAGE COMBINATIONS.

Cabbage may be made quite another dish by cooking and combining with different seasonings and food. Creamed cabbage is an especially nice dish; shred the cabbage very fine and cook it until tender in boiling water, slightly salted, then drain in a colander and put it into a rich, well-seasoned white sauce. A few bits of finely chopped celery and a dash of onion improves the flavor.

Buttered cabbage is another appetizing dish. Cook finely shredded cabbage, until tender, in salted water, drain and put it back into the saucepan, add water, pepper and more salt and when well mixed a few tablespoonfuls of good vinegar to give it a zest. Serve hot.

Cabbage eaten raw is more digestible than when cooked. When serving it raw it should be very finely shredded or chopped and allowed to stand in cold water to crisp. Drain well, add salt, sugar, thick sweet cream and a very little vinegar. This makes a most delicious salad to serve at any meal.

Another cabbage salad which is such a favorite with the Germans especially, and is named German salad, is prepared by chopping fine a small head of cabbage and an onion and pouring over them the fat fried out from a good slice of salt pork cut in small cubes; when well mixed, season highly with salt and red pepper and pour over a half cupful of boiling hot vinegar. The cubes of fried pork may be added or used as a garnish, only be sure to add them, as they add greatly to the salad.

Spanish onion, cabbage and a green pepper chopped together, served individually with a hard-cooked half of egg chopped and sprinkled over each serving. Serve with French dressing. A rather unusual, but pretty way, of serving this vegetable is to boil a nice, solid head until tender and put it whole on a platter with pork sausage for a garnish. Serve wedge-shaped pieces, mashed potato and sausage.
