LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Orlando Sheppard spent Monday and Tuesday in Charleston on business.

By special invitation Rev. P. P. Block will preach at Berea church next Sunday morning.

Mr. E. J. Norris' "Insurance News" in this issue will be of interest to the insuring public.

Miss Jennie Pattison has been engaged to teach the Waycross school for the session of 1915-16.

Mrs. C. H. Key spent last week very pleasantly visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hal Beaman, in Augusta.

Please note change of hour at Edgefield Methodist church. Sunday school at 10:15. Preaching at 11:25.

The bargains that Mr. Turner announces in the advertisement of the Corner Store will continue for another week.

Do you need a typewriter? The Advertiser is offering a great bargain in Oliver typewriters. Nothing better on the market.

Presbyterian services this Sabbath at 11:15 in the Edgefield Presbyterian church and in Trenton at 8 o'clock.

The fall term of the court of general sessions will convene Monday, October 11, with Hon. T. S. Sease as presiding judge.

The first entertainment of the lyceum course will be given by the "American Girls" in the opera house Tuesday night, October 19.

Bargains in typewriters at The Advertiser office. Two brand new, $100-Oliver typewriters, latest model for $60. Call and inspect them.

At Trenton a Sunday school and church rally service will begin next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Methodist church. You are invited.

Sunday evening last after the sermon Dr. E. Pendleton Jones administered the ordinance of baptism to Brook Jones, Grace Tompkins and George Tompkins.

Quite a number of Edgefield people attended the funeral of Mr. T. R. Denny yesterday afternoon at Johnston. He had many warm personal friends in Edgefield.

Two brand new $100-Oliver Typewriters, latest model, can be had at The Advertiser office for $60. Call and take a look at them.

The impression prevails that a large acreage will be sown in oats this fall. Edgefield farmers can become independent of western corn and grain growers if they will.

The Methodist Sunday school observed orphanage day last Sunday and the special collection amounted to $35, which was considerably larger than the collection a year ago.

Mr. George W. Adams, the proprietor of the Edgefield Auto Repair Shop, has accepted the agency for the Hudson automobile. He will sell these in addition to the Ford cars.

It has been a long time since more hay and forage crops were made in Edgefield than have been harvested this fall. The weather has been ideal and farmers have taken advantage of it.

"Uncle Iv" Morgan raises his hat to Plum Branch for the splendid record made in the recent prohibition election. The fame of Plum Branch has gone abroad. All honor to a town with such a record.

Now that the lint and seed are commanding such good prices, wonder if we could not find some way of converting the cotton stalk into cash? Yankee ingenuity would find a way of utilizing the stalk.

The special collection at the Baptist Sunday school Sunday morning for the Connie Maxwell orphanage amounted to $73, which, we believe, is the largest collection ever sent from the Sunday school to the orphans.

Attention is directed to the following new advertisements this week: Rubenstein, Mukashy Bargain House, J. Willie Levy & Co., Augusta Bee Hive, James Velix, W. F. Rish & Co., Heistreet & Alexander.

All subscribers for lyceum tickets are requested to call at the store of Collett & Mitchell Friday, October 1, and select their seats for the season. Half ticket for the season is $2.00 and whole ticket is $4.00.

What about the fall garden? When it rains renew your determination to have a fall and winter garden! Besides reducing the cost of living, nothing you can buy is better for the table than tender, fresh vegetables in season.

Hon. B. E. Nicholson went to Greenville yesterday to argue the case before Judge Johnson involving the taxation of the Augusta dam across the Savannah at the locks. The city of Augusta is making a strenuous fight because it is liable, if for any amount at all, for taxes for the past 10 years, which will amount to something like $6,000.

County Superintendent of Education W. W. Fuller publishes this week the annual apportionment of public school funds. A careful examination of the tabulated statement will enable you to estimate what your school will receive for the ensuing year. The apportionment has been delayed on account of the action of the State tax commission in holding up some returns.

Edgefield County Float.

Mr. O. P. Bright, the president of the Edgefield Chamber of Commerce, has assumed the responsibility of arranging a float to represent Edgefield county in the state fair contest. This is a great undertaking and Mr. Bright should receive the moral and financial support of the people in his efforts to have Edgefield county represented.

Put "Tigers" to Route.

If your community is troubled with blind tigers, notify Sheriff Swearingen. Let's drive every "tiger" out of the county. If citizens will stand by the officer, it can be done. There is less liquor selling in the county than at any previous time in the history of the county, but let's stamp out illegal selling altogether.

A Special Election.

A special election will be held in Limestone school district next Saturday, October 2, for the purpose of voting on the question of an extra levy of four mills for school purposes. The election should be carried unanimously for the levy, which will mean a better equipped school and longer term. Parents can make no better investment than putting money in the education of their children.

Rally Day For Presbyterian Sunday School.

The Advertiser gladly gives space to the following received from Mrs. W. L. Dunovant: "Please say that the Presbyterian Sunday school will observe Rally Day on Sunday October 3 at 10 o'clock a. m. and that those interested in us will be warmly welcomed. Each member of the church is expected to be present."

D. A. R. Meeting.

The first fall meeting of the Edgefield chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Allen. The regent, Mrs. N. G. Evans, presided. The attendance was large and much interest was manifested in both the business routine and the literary program Mrs. D. B. Hollingsworth was elected a delegate to the state convention in Greenville in October and Mrs. Mamie N. Tillman was elected alternate. An original paper by Mrs. J. W. Peak entitled "The early settlers of Charleston" was greatly enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Grace Tompkins. The hostess served ice cream and cake.

JOHNSTON LETTER.

served," Mrs. James White; reading "The world's oldest story," Miss Gladys Sawyer. After the program was completed the hostess assisted by Mesdames J. A. Lott and A. P. Lewis and Miss Hayward served ices and cake.

On Saturday evening Mrs. J. A. Lott gave a most delightful surprise tea and several of the gentlemen friends of her husband were invited. The occasion was his birthday and she thoughtfully planned this pleasant evening for him.

Mrs. Frank Landrum and children are visiting in the home of Mrs. A. P. Lewis.

Cotton sold here on Saturday for 11.85.

Mesdames Alice Cox and W. W. Satcher visited at Saluda last week. Mrs. Elijah Rhoden died last Thursday evening at her home in the Philippi section, the interment being Friday afternoon at the family burying ground. She was a lovable christian woman and is mourned by a large family of children and grandchildren.

Miss Grace Tompkins and Mrs. Bettis Cantelon of Edgefield were visitors here Saturday.

Dr. Wallace Wright and Miss Starr of Alabama, were married on Sunday, the affair being witnessed only by a few friends and the immediate family, owing to a bereavement in the bride's family. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Fairfax where the groom is engaged in business. Dr. Wright is the youngest son of Mr. Wallace Wright of this place and hearty congratulations are wanted to him. Miss Emmie Wright and Messrs. Joe, Luther and Janius Wright, Mrs. John Wright and Mr. Joseph Cox attended the wedding.

Mr. Tillman R. Denny died here at his home on Monday about 3:30 o'clock, the immediate cause of his death being heart failure, and the town is bowed in sorrow by the passing away of one of its most honored citizens. He had been sick only a few hours. On Sunday he attended both services of the Baptist church, and on Monday when he started to go on his mail route, he felt indisposed and thought best to remain at home. A short while before his death he went into his bedroom to rest, and his wife hearing a noise of loud breathing went to his side to find him passing away. In the death of Mr. Denny there is an irreparable loss. Especially in the church work will be sadly missed, for he was one of the deacons and Bible class teacher and clerk of the church. In the W. C. T. U., of which he was an honorary member, he labored earnestly to further the cause.

Spotless integrity, unflinching fidelity to every trust, unswerving faith in God, and unswerving consecration to Christ, characterize and sum up the life of this now sainted Christian. Besides his widow are left three children, Mrs. Ona Reese and Mr. Claud Denny and Miss Antoinette Denny. The latter was at Converse college, and pathetically sad was her return to find such a change in her home, after an absence of a few days. The interment was made in the Mt. of Olives cemetery and upon his bier were many floral offerings sent from the departments of the Sunday school and church, the local and county W. C. T. U. and from many loving friends.

The missionary society was holding the regular monthly meeting and the news of the death of Mr. Denny came to them and after a prayer for the family and the wife who was such a faithful member, the body adjourned and silently went to the home to convey their sympathy.

Interesting Letter From Hardy's.

Our little W. M. S. met Thursday afternoon at Hardy's church with very small attendance. We were so glad to see our president, Mrs. T. J. Briggs, was able to come out and meet with us. Mrs. Briggs, Miss Georgia Reese, Miss Beatrice Stevens, Misses Mary Townes and Lilla Bunch, members of the society, and Mrs. H. F. Cooper and Miss Mattie Shaw visitors were our members at the meeting. We decided to send the amount our delegates promised Mr. T. H. Posey for his table, right off to him, so our treasury will forward it at once and hope it will reach him in good time. We were invited to meet with Miss Georgia Reese next monthly meeting. We hope to have a better attendance then, as we are to have an election of officers at that meeting. We hope to be able to retain the same ones now in office. We most assuredly cannot afford to lose Mrs. Briggs as
