MAKE PARKS OF BACKYARDS

Baltimore Has Demonstrated That Division Fences May Profitably Be Done Away With.

It has already been convincingly demonstrated, here in Baltimore, that the scheme of tearing down division fences between city home backyards and developing the unobstructed stretch of space thus provided as a continuous flower garden or a grassed lawn, is no chimerical or impractical dream. It has been demonstrated because it has been done on several back stretches and partially accomplished in hundreds of instances. By partially accomplished we mean those instances where two or three or four adjoining householders have thrown their backyards into a common and developed the enlarged spaces into flower gardens. This backyard park idea, developed to the limit of potentiality, would mean the tearing down of all fences on both sides the midway alley and beautifying all the yards upon some harmonious scheme of ornamental gardening.

There are comparatively few block centers in which this complete scheme of ornamentation can be realized, for the reason that many owners wish to build a garage, a stable or some other kind of outbuilding in the backyard and fronting along the alley. While the placing of rear buildings in one or more of the backyards of a block interferes with the complete realization of the backyard parking scheme, it need not prevent the partial carrying out of the plan. And as to back buildings, their ugliness and inharmonious can be greatly modified by planting climbing roses or other climbing vines along their sides and rear ends. There is nothing so utilitarian—not even a stable—that every thought of beautification should be abandoned in connection with it.—Baltimore American.

FIRE PREVENTION PAYS WELL

Safe Construction Lowers Insurance and Reduces Depreciation—Repairs Cost Little.

If the walls and roof of the house are of fire-resistant material fully 60 per cent of the fire hazard is overcome, says the writer of an article on "Common Sense Home Building," which is published in the June issue of Construction. In the interior it is not necessary to eliminate wood from the finishing. There is no objection to trim on doors and even the floors above the first may be of wood.

The basement should, by all means, be cut off from the rest of the house by a masonry floor, protected stairway and fireproof doors connecting with the first floor. Partitions should be of fire-resistive material in order to check the rapid spread of flames. In other words, think of fire as it really is and use common sense in the construction of the house.

In most localities a house of this type is credited with a noticeable reduction in insurance cost. Naturally, too, the cost of maintenance is reduced, painting and repairs are not necessary. Another saving factor is the matter of depreciation. A frame house with wood shingles, built as they are today, will depreciate just three times as quickly as a masonry house with a common-sense roof.

Chicago's City Planning.

Chicago, the premier American city in city-planning work, is about to invade the world of the "movies."

It is going to show other municipalities how to make themselves more attractive, healthful and prosperous, and as an object lesson will display views of present-day and future Chicago to millions of people throughout the United States, Canada and Europe.

To satisfy demands made by more than a hundred American cities which are watching Chicago's planning efforts, the Chicago plan commission has arranged to have the entire Chicago plan put in film form.

The national, state, county and city officials in Chicago, members of the Commercial club, members of the plan commission and the officers and directors of the leading civic, social and commercial organizations, industrial clubs, real estate board and women's clubs are to be visualized.

The Household Incinerator.

An aid in sanitation especially useful in the country is a small garbage incinerator which can be attached to the ordinary kitchen range. The surplus heat from the range will dry the garbage in a short time. After all the moisture has been taken up, a damper is opened, which allows a draft from the firebox to pass over the dried garbage and consume it to ashes in a few minutes. The ashes can be removed from the incinerator without being mixed with those of the range. The garbage ashes constitute a valuable fertilizer.

Good Accompaniment.

"How can I impress the class with the fact those stirring lines must be delivered in trumpet tones?"
"Just drum it into them."
