

JOHNSTON LETTER.

but she remained another year to be with some of her girls who would graduate. The names of these four girls were Frances Land, Marion Wong, Pauline Chang and Emma Kiang. The prayers of all were asked for those who had graduated at the Normal School, for it will be their work which will decide the future of the Normal school.

The principal work of the South Carolina Y. W. A. is medical missions and this she told of. She is a magnetic speaker and is a wonderful young woman, and is a power for God. She concluded with this thought, "To give time, strength and thought to our girls who do not realize how much they owe to Christ." Her principal thought to the Y. W. A. was from Hebrews-6-1, "Let us press on to Perfection."

The afternoon session was occupied with the Y. W. A., G. A., and the R. A. and they all formed an interesting part on the splendidly arranged program.

The Batesburg Y. W. A. was placed on the Honor Roll.

The Johnston G.A. and also Red Bank G.A. was placed on Honor roll and the two leaders, Mrs. W. S. Brooke and Miss Leila Attaway, receiving the badges of honor. The badges were presented by Mesdames Tillman and Chapman in a most happy manner.

Rev. Canada, Superintendent of Edisto Academy, spoke on "State Missions at Edisto."

During the summer he said that the boys and girls who had gone out from this school had worked for the Lord. One Y. W. A., two R. A. societies and seven B. Y. P. U. had been the result of their labors. There school would begin Sept. 4, and all present were invited to attend this third opening. They had passed over the breakers and could now launch out for better work.

An evening service was held and Miss Janie Lide addressed a very large audience, who heard her with rapt interest and were thrilled with her message.

Friday morning was a most interesting session, being in charge of the Sunbeam superintendent.

The Sunbeams have done most praiseworthy work and every one enjoyed the exercises. The Johnston Sunbeam band under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Hatcher was the honor band, having given $80.-25. Mrs. Hatcher took part on the program and her remarks were much appreciated and enjoyed, Miss Lide again addressed the young people, who heard her with keen interest, and no doubt each little heart was stimulated to better work for her Master.

The afternoon was taken up with various reports and plans for the coming year's work.

The National League for Woman's Service held their last meeting on Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. L. Walker. The women of Johnston have been very enthusiastic in their patriotic endeavor, so at this meeting there was a full attendance. Mrs. M. T. Turner conducted the meeting, and the chief feature in this was the league deciding to take up the "over-sea relief" work, circulars as to the garments needed being distributed. The league decided to send a box of one hundred garments, following out the specifications. The detachments all had good reports.

Mrs. J. L. Walker, chairman D. A. R. Detachment, which is composed of 30 members, reported having sent on 100 pillow slips.

Miss Clara Sawyer stated that the U. D. C. detachment had a second box of Red Cross supplies almost ready for shipment.

Mrs. J. A. Lott, chairman of the league cannery, stated that over 3000 cans of fruits and vegetables had been put up by the league members and others. The league voted to express sincere thanks to Mr. McCraith for the kind use of his cannery. After the meeting the hostess served fruit punch and sandwiches which all enjoyed.

Beginning on Sunday afternoon, September 2 at 4 o'clock, Rev. W. P. B. Kinard will begin a series of revival meetings, a second service of the day to be held in the evening. He will again use his tent, and Prof. Landrum, the blind musician, will again accompany him and have charge of the music.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marsh are visiting relatives in Spartanburg and Laurens, making the trip in a car.

Mrs. Charlotte V. Spearman returned this week to Newberry after a visit in the home of her niece, Mrs. M. T. Turner.

Miss Alma Woodward has gone to Hendersonville, N. C., to spend awhile and joined a party of friends here.

Miss Sue Sloan is at home from a three months stay at northern points, having gone in May to the national music festival in New York as a guest of honor.

Mrs. Frank Landrum and children are spending awhile here with Mrs. Annie P. Lewis.

Gov. Manning has issued a call that on Sunday, all of the ministers of the gospel will hold a special service for the spiritual welfare of the soldier boy as he goes forth in defense of his country. On Sunday morning Rev. Brooke will hold a special service, and a sermon will be preached to the young men, and prayers offered in their behalf.

At the evening service he will preach a special sermon to the college boys and girls who will be leaving during the week following. There will be quite a large number going from here to the colleges of the State.

Misses Mary Bouknight, Vera Trotter who have been visiting Misses Myrtis and Sue Smith have been the recipients of much social attention during the past week. On Friday evening, Mrs. Walter Sawyer entertained with a lovely tea; Mrs. M. W. Crouch gave in their honor a dining, and a picnic was planned for them by Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Smith at Smith's pond, which was most pleasant. There were several car trips and other pleasures.

Miss Emmie Wright has gone to Silver, N. C., to spend awhile.

Miss Elise Mobley will leave on Saturday for Summerton where she will teach music in the school.

Mrs. L. C. Latimer has gone to Columbia to visit her cousin, Miss Annie Bonham.

Messrs. David and Willie Ouzts and Robert Kenney have been here a few days with the home folks.

Every one was glad to see these noble, patriotic young men, who are now in service for their country.

Lieut. John Quincy Kinard spent Saturday and Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. J. R. Hart has gone to Batesburg to visit her daughter, Mrs. Kneece.

Rev. W. S. Brooke has just closed a meeting a Sardis church, which was a splendid one. This is the fifth meeting he has conducted this summer.

Mrs. W. B. Ouzts entertained the young matrons club on Friday afternoon, and two most pleasant hours were spent in this attractive home with the cordial hostess. The rooms were bright with summer's golden and red blossoms and six tables were arranged for Rook.

After an animated game the prize, a dainty embroidered crepe-de-chine handkerchief was presented to Mrs. J. W. Payne. A very enjoyable repast was served when the game concluded.

Mrs. Irvin Welling of Darlington, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Bland.

Mrs. F. M. Boyd is at home from a visit to Chester.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Augusta spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Lott.

Hopes to Help Others by Telling Experiences.

MISS LENA BURNS, OF GREER, MAKES INTERESTING STATEMENT, WORK WAS TOO HARD.

YOUNG SEAMSTRESS MADE USE OF "TIP" SHE RECEIVED AND PROFITED GREATLY.

"Tanlac is a fine medicine for stomach trouble and it is a good general tonic, too, and I'm glad to recommend it as such to anyone," said Miss Lena Burns, of Greer, S. C., in a statement she gave May 11. "I was troubled with nervousness and weak spells before I took Tanlac. I am a seamstress and my work is very trying, and it brought on my troubles. Indigestion troubled me a lot and my appetite had left me. I certainly was run down in health and feeling badly when I began taking Tanlac.

"I decided to take a course of some medicine, and I had heard so much about Tanlac I took it. The Tanlac helped that nervous trouble right away and soon I had good nerves. My appetite came back and I gained a great deal in strength and weight. I got so I could sleep well, too."

IN THE NAME OF GOD WE WILL SET UP OUR BANNERS

Gray Hosts of South Pass in Grand Review Before the President. Their Sons Answer the Call to the Colors.

Wearers of blue and gray march together in loving proof that the Potomac no longer marks a divided nation. Washington to-day staged a spectacle for the world. Soldiers in Gray, who fought for a sacred cause more than fifty years ago were escorted by veterans in blue against whom they had fought with utmost bitterness through the heart of the nation's capital, which they had almost succeeded in capturing by assault. Together they marched past the president of the United States as living proof to the world that there is no North and South in the United States today; but one re-united country, thinking and acting together; so firmly established by their strife. The "Stars and Bars" of the Confederacy, and the "Stars and Stripes" of the Union tenderly carried, fell lovingly together when dipped in salute as they passed the president. The same spirit that prompted them to do valiant service in defense of their homes and State rights in the 60's is still warm in the breast, was shown by numerous offers of service shown to President Wilson as the veterans passed the review stand. "We will go to France or anywhere you want to send us," was the favorite cry. And another said: "Call on us, if the boys can't do it." A sign attracted the President's attention bearing the inscription, "Dam a man who aint fer his country, right or wrong." Here was a hint to the world that as the veterans of the past fought with valor unsurpassed, so are their sons and grandsons to-day prepared and preparing to repel any affront to the nation or its flag. A stirring call to all sons of Confederate veterans to prove themselves worthy sons of their heroic sires was made by Ernest Baldwin of Roanoke, Va., commander-in-chief of the Sons. "I feel," he said, "we should be unworthy of the heritage of our fathers did we not, with a single mind and a single voice, answer the call that comes to us at this period of our national history. It is a call for renewed spirit of patriotism, and warm co-operation with those into whose hands we have committed the welfare of our country." "We live in a fateful hour in the history of the world; autocracy and Mohammedanism are making their last stand before the triumphant march of Democracy and Christianity. That for which we now struggle was the morning star of hope in the breast of Washington; the shrine at which met Jefferson, Madison and Monroe; the goal sought for at this hour by the commander-in-chief of our army and navy, a son of the South, now a citizen of the Kingdom of Man; a steady and sterling patriot, Woodrow Wilson, the president of the United States. The South is ready to give its blood and its treasure; the sons of the South will be found deep in the first line of defense on the battle front with the Stars and Stripes, by land and by sea. In pledging allegiance to Old Glory, they will not be untrue to their fathers. That flag was baptized with Southern blood in the showers of bullets of a battlefield with a solemn radiance of national glory. This star-lit flag unfurled, and the magic of the Declaration of Independence has beted the earth.

Now That Summer Is Nearly Gone

People are beginning to think what the styles and prices are going to be for the fall and winter.

We are now in the market looking over the styles, and are going to get prices that will not shock our customers—in fact the by-word will be don't buy before you see what The Corner Store is doing to serve its customers.

The . Corner . Store

The store that always says, That You

My Altar.

I have worshipped in churches and chapels; I've prayed in the busy street; I have sought my God and found Him. Where the waves of his ocean beat; I have knelt in the silent forest; In the shade of some ancient tree; But the dearest of all my altars Was raised at my mother's knee.

I have listened to God in his Temple; I've caught his voice in the crowd; I have heard him speak when the breakers Were booming long and loud; Where the winds play soft in the tree-tops My Father has talked to me; But I never have heard him clearer Than I did at my mother's knee.

The things in my life that are worthy Were born in my mother's breast, And breathed into mine by the magic Of the love her life expressed. The years that have brought me to manhood Have taken her far from me; But memory keeps me from straying Too far from my mother's knee.

God, make me the man of her vision And purge me of selfishness! God, keep me true to her standards And help me to live to bless! God, hallow the holy impress Of the days that used to be, And keep me a pilgrim forever To the shrine at my mother's knee! —The Christian Herald.
