

Office No 61
Residence, No. 17

Wednesday, November 14.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Helen Tillman is visiting friends in Greenville.

Miss Janie Echels of Black Mountain, N. C., is visiting Mrs. J. C. Sheppard.

Mr. John L. Holston secured a furlough and came over from Camp Jackson for the week end.

Mr. John T. Nicholson, of Ridge Spring, is being very cordially greeted by his friends here to-day.

Mr. H. H. Sanders has been in Greenwood the past week attending the United States district court as juror.

Mrs. Norwood Cleveland, of Greenville and Norwood, Jr., are spending a week under the parental roof.

Mr. Ralph Tucker and mother of Abbeville visited Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Y. and family of the Red Hill section last Sunday.

Mr. T. S. Glover, a prominent horse man of Aiken, was in Edgefield Wednesday and bought five horses from Dr. B. F. Jones' stable.

Mr. M. D. Lyon and Mr. W. A. Strom spent Monday and Tuesday in Greenville, visiting the Edgefield boys at Camp Sevier. All of them are doing well.

Study some way of adding to the Christmas cheer of some soldier in camp. Any little attention that is shown them will, we are sure, be greatly appreciated.

Cadet William Thurmond came home from the B. M. I., at Greenwood, for the week-end. He has made a fine record from the day he entered the institution.

Mr. Shields Johnson spent last week at home and was very cordially greeted by his friends. He is very much pleased with military life at Camp Sevier, near Greenville.

No matter if Outing is going higher every day we still can sell you extra heavy Outing Gowns at $1.00—same as last year.

Rubenstein.

"A solid foundation upon which to rest our hopes", that is, "the old time Christianity", will be the subject of discourse in the Presbyterian church this Sunday morning at 11:15.

The man who gives grudgingly or refuses to give of his means to improve the conditions surrounding our boys in camp is the worst type of slacker. Don't be a shirker or slacker in any form.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sullivan of Callison were among the visitors in Edgefield Monday, being accompanied by bright and sweet little J. P. Jr. He and his father paid The Advertiser a very pleasant call.

Messrs. Rector and McClean held very successful auction sales of horses and mares at Johnston and Aiken Wednesday and Saturday, the sale at Aiken being the best yet held. Dr. B. F. Jones has been accompanying these gentlemen in the purchase of their stock in Tennessee. Another auction sale will be held at Edgefield in a short time.

Mr. Bailey says he enjoyed his visit to the hospitable town of Seneca last week which he spent at the Presbyterian Synod. Seneca is in full view of the mountains and in a pretty section of the state. Among the interesting things observed there were the "prairie dogs", which have a village in Seneca. The Synod enjoyed their visit to Clemson College where they saw many interesting sights.

Good Reports Coming In.

Good reports are coming in from the committees that are canvassing for the army Y. M. C. A. fund. Mr. Walter Smith and Mr. W. G. Ozts are doing good work in the Harmony section. Mr. Lewis gives a good report from Philippi and Mr. Luther Brunson says good work is being done in Cleora. Mr. Frank West states that Antioch will make a good showing. We are satisfied that the other sections are doing well also.

Business. Adjournment.

Alford's Ginnyery.

Every day in the week, except Sunday, Alford's ginnyery is running, giving satisfactory yields of lint by thoroughly cleaning the seed. Have you been sending your cotton to the Alford ginnyery? If not give it a trial, and you will be convinced of the splendid service that is given the farmers of this vicinity. Mr. Alford gives personal attention to his ginnyery, seeing that everything is properly managed. He also buys your seed, if you wish to sell them, giving the highest market price. Give the Alford ginnyery a trial and you will be satisfied with results.—Adv.

Colored Soldiers Deport Themselves Well.

According to the following dispatch from Columbia to the Greenville News the negro soldiers at Camp Jackson are making a good record for themselves:

"One of the best indications that Columbia will not have any serious trouble with the negro soldiers at Camp Jackson, says a dispatch of the Greenville News, is that, although there have been upwards of 3,000 negroes at the camp for the past several weeks, not a single one has been arrested by the military police. One negro soldier was arrested by the civilian police on a charge of being drunk, and this is the only arrest of a negro soldier here to date.

Col. Edwin Bell, commander of the military police, said Tuesday morning that the conduct of the negro soldiers have been most exemplary. "The donning of the uniform of the army has not given them the 'big head' as some persons expected it would," said Col. Bell. "On the contrary I believe it has instilled a desire in them to make themselves worthy of the uniform they wear and of the responsibility it has placed upon them."

Colored Fair Association.

The colored fair which took place at the fair grounds on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week was a decided success. While the crowds were not so large on any one day as those of last year, the average attendance on the four days measured up well to the expectations of the promoters of the enterprise.

There was a good display of stock and horses, some driving around the arena most of this time.

There were several carnival features, which added to the interest of the fair, and yet there were no objectionable things attending them as is the case so often with carnivals. The exhibits were splendid.

The farm products, some of which were arranged from individual farms were displayed in a very creditable and artistic manner.

The canned fruits and vegetables were varied and many. One noticeable jar was tomatoes placed whole in the can and arranged very attractively. Another pretty arrangement was with Elberta peaches.

The fancy work booth was unusually good, showing that many of the persons who did the work, were experts. Many quilts with splendid applique and intricate patterns were displayed.

Altogether the management seemed to think that the fair of 1917 was the best yet.

Meeting of the Edgefield Chapter U. D. C.

Mrs. Jefferson Wright was hostess at a very interesting meeting of the U. D. C. Chapter last Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. P. Jones' the president, was in the chair, and presided with her usual dignity. The session opened with the Lord's prayer by the Chapter. In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. B. B. Jones was requested to read the minutes and take down the proceedings of the session.

The first business on the program was a report from the committee on the Constitution and by-laws. Mrs. Woodson, Chairman of this committee read the State Constitution and by-laws and discussed the various laws with the members, and spoke of changes to be made in one of them at the coming Convention. Mrs. Jones next gave out the committees to serve for the coming year and it was decided to add to them an Education Committee whose duty it shall be to help in raising money for our scholarship fund, and to try to secure new scholarships. The naming of this committee is in the hands of the executive board. The matter of instructing our delegates as to the amounts of pledges to be given next year was now taken up, after which the meeting was turned over to the historian, Mrs. Wright, who had prepared a most interesting program on Jefferson Davis. A paper was read by little Miss Elizabeth Lott on the life of Davis, which she had prepared to read before the Bald-Eagle-Chapter. Mrs. Marsh then read a paper on the Men in the Ranks prepared by the historian, and Mrs. Wright told of events of the closing years of the war and read a very interesting paper of reminiscences given her by a relative.

Rev. John Lake Writes Letter to Editor of The Advertiser.

Thank you for the June 12th and June 27th Advertisers, and the four July numbers, all six received yesterday, and eagerly devoured, like six home letters. I got a letter from cousin Eliza a few days ago, and I wrote her we had been so long without home mail that we were afraid the submarines had sunk a lot of it. A day or two later I got a good letter from Ed, and now other mail has come from friends and loved ones, and it certainly gives joy to these Wayfarers. When the Edgefield boys whose names I see in the paper, get to France they will know how it feels to be so far from home and loved ones; and how glad they will be to get the letters, the papers, any shape of news, from the home State and county and town! My heart goes out to them, and I wish I could write a personal letter to each and every soldier boy and sailor boy as he goes—some of them my own kinsmen, some my old neighbors, and the sons of my old neighbors. Whether they ever get back to dear old Edgefield or not—God grant that they may, though,—may they go with their confidence in God, who is able to keep them from falling, and to give them a place in the City that has been prepared for those who love him and trust in his Son.

In a way I know what it is to be on the firing line. China, of late years, like Mexico, has been in a chronic state of revolution, and another revolution is on now, while the Parliament (Congress) illegally dissolved in Peking, is reassembling here in our city of Canton, and in our end of the city at that. But whatever comes, the last abortive effort to put the emperor back on the throne shows that the Chinese are determined to have a republic. To get it, the people of this part of the country have gone through some fiery trials, and more than once I have been in the line of fire. But our God is good, and we are safe till our time comes—may this thought comfort many an Edgefield boy's father and mother during the trying days ahead of us.

How we shall watch the papers for news from the front, especially for news of our own Edgefield boys! And now we shall follow with our prayers, from this battle front, those who go to the other battle fronts! In a sense, all battles for the right are one—and will be won! Our best love to you and your dear wife and boys and girls and to the love ones, on both sides of the house, and to all the old friends in Edgefield county. I am writing at once to let you know the papers have at last reached us.

Your old friend and school mate,

John Lake.

Says She Thinks World of Tanlac.

RECOMMENDS IT AS A GENERAL TONIC AND STOMACH REMEDY, PROVED VALUE TO HER.

SAYS "TANLAC DID MAKE A GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN MY CONDITION."

"I just the world of Tanlac as a general tonic and stomach remedy, am glad to recommend it," declared Miss Lilla Shelton of No. 6, Saco St., Greenville, in a statement. "I took Tanlac for a generally run down condition and chronic appendicitis. I had been in bad health about two years and I suffered a great deal with indigestion. I was as nervous as could be. I never ate anything at all hardly. In fact, I ate just like a bird—a little at a time. I suffered awfully with headaches, too.

"The Tanlac greatly improved my condition in a very short time. It made me sleep better than I had slept in two years, for it quieted my nerves. The Tanlac gave me a good appetite, too. I began to sleep all night long, and my whole system was built up and strengthened. The medicine certainly did make a great improvement in my condition.

One Can Depend Upon Statement of His Neighbor

Norris N. Smith, of Rome, Ga., Tells of Bad Stomach Condition and What Vitona Did For Him

Home folks-neighbors are most frequently the people who know and who are willing to tell the world about the benefits derived from a medicine originated in their midst. When they speak in the highest praise of the tremendous help a medicine is to them, declaring they would not be without it in their home under any circumstances, and do this without any pecuniary reward, you can always place absolute dependence upon such statements. Here, for instance, is a statement from Norris N. Smith. He is a well known Real Estate man of Rome, Georgia, from right near which city the mineral is found from which Vitona is made. Here is what Mr. Smith says:

"For sometime I had suffered from a general run-down condition. I had a bad stomach trouble of some kind, and could eat and retain but little solid food. Frequently after a meal, even though I would eat very lightly, I would be sick on the stomach, and in a short time would lose what I had eaten. I began using Vitona because I had heard of its good effects, and I was told that it would give me relief. Within one week's time, after taking as directed, I began to show a steady improvement, and in a short time was absolutely cured. I feel entirely well now, and contribute my condition to Vitona. I would not be without it in my house under any circumstances."

Not only in cases similar to Mr. Smith's, but in all cases of stomach, kidney, liver, catarrhal trouble, Vitona goes straight to the seat of affection.

It is a strong and ideal combatant where one is troubled with sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme lassitude, biliousness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heart-burn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbances of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, and many forms of catarrh, ear affections and allied ailments.

Vitona is the new medical discovery that has made such a wonderful record in sales throughout South Carolina, though introduced into this state only a few weeks ago.
