LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Vann of Trenton were among the visitors in Edgefield Tuesday.

These crisp mornings make one feel that the sausage and spare-rib season will soon open.

Hon. and Mrs. Walter McDonald of Augusta spent Sunday in Edgefield with Mrs. Agatha A. Woodson.

Mrs. T. B. Culbreath, Misses Lucile and Annie Mae Culbreath, were among visitors in Edgefield Monday.

Tell your friends about the raising of the County Service Flag at Edgefield Friday afternoon, November 15.

Julian D. Holstein, Jr., came down from Camp Sevier on a furlough of several days, being very cordially greeted by his friends.

A trio of pretty Meeting Street girls, Miss Mary Lewis and Misses Emma and Margaret Blocker, were visitors in Edgefield yesterday.

The many friends of Mr. Ben Rubenstein will be pleased to know he is able to be up after an attack of influenza at his home in Augusta.

The influenza has kept people so close at home that the newspapers have little to chronicle by way of the coming and going of people.

Grain sowing goes merrily on in every section of the county. We have observed more seed oats shipped to Edgefield this fall than probably ever before.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cogburn have two sons in the service. Horace arrived safely overseas a short time ago and Paul sailed from an Atlantic port last week.

People did not have to vote early to avoid the rush at the polls yesterday. Our people are entirely too indifferent in the matter of voting in the general election.

Mr. Willie Salter of Columbia visited the home folk last Sunday. He is just up from an attack of influenza. His many friends are delighted that he has recuperated.

The Advertiser household had mustard salad, tomatoes, butter-beans, new-crop Irish potatoes and lettuce from our fall garden yesterday. But our hens never lay an egg.

Three Edgefield boys who volunteered for Naval service, Albert Cheatham, George Broadwater and Roy Ryan, are up from Charleston on a furlough of a few days.

Will you be satisfied to do just a bit for our boys at the front when you are approached for a contribution to the United War Work Fund? DO YOUR BEST, not your bit.

J. T. McManus, Jr., who is at home on a furlough, entertained his friends last week with an ever-interesting hallowe'en party which was greatly enjoyed by all the young people.

Corporals Cephas Posey Derrick, George C. Craig and Private Lawrence Lott of Camp Jackson spent last week-end with friends and relatives in the Philippi community.

After the harvesting season closes it is a mighty good time to have some deep fall plowing done. Just how much should be done depends upon the character of the land one cultivates.

Since cotton dropped so low, the sale has practically stopped, which is as it should be. The public square has been almost as free of cotton the past few days as it is during the month of August.

The many friends of Mrs. T. A. Hightower will be glad to learn that she is now steadily improving at the Steedly hospital in Spartanburg. It is hoped that she will soon be sufficiently strong to return home.

The heavy rush of ginning is practically over in this neck of the woods. Instead of running until the small hours of the night, the gins are idle much of the time. Watch for a heavy falling off of the gin figures in the next report.

The corn crop has been very fine throughout Edgefield county this year. You hear a greater number of farmers than usual say, "I have made enough corn to do me." Quite a number say they will have corn to sell.

While nearly every home in Edgefield has been visited by influenza, we should all devoutly give thanks that there were but few cases of serious illness. Edgefield has been peculiarly blessed during the influenza scourge.

There are more cotton seed on the farms of Edgefield county now than there has been for twenty years during November. The price-fixing has almost stopped the sale. However, before planting time most of them will find their way to market.

Mrs. Manly Timmons, Manly Timmons, Jr., and little Jeanette Timmons have gone to Winterseat to spend several weeks. It is probable that Dr. Manly Timmons will return with them and locate permanently in Edgefield.

Send The Advertiser the letters you receive from our soldier boys. The relatives and friends of the boys in all parts of the county enjoy reading them. The Advertiser cheerfully gives space to them—will devote a page every week if necessary.

Probably the most inspiring occasion ever held in Edgefield will be the raising of the County Service Flag on the public square the afternoon of November 15. The flag will contain a star for every Edgefield county boy in the naval and military service.

In the list of Liberty Bond subscribers through the Farmers bank, as published in The Advertiser, the following names were inadvertently omitted: Mr. M. B. Byrd, $500; Mr. L. H. Hamilton, $500, and Mr. F. P. Walker, $200, A. Daiteh $200, and C. M. Williams, $100.

Mrs. D. T. Mathis, Jr., came home from her school at Paolet and spent several days with her father and sisters at Ropers. Miss Emmie Latham went up to Paolet to nurse Mrs. Mathis who had a case of influenza. She has sufficiently improved to return to her school this week.

The autumn vacation, due to the closing of the school to head-off the influenza, has enabled many children to aid in harvesting the cotton crop. The Advertiser children have picked about a bale and put their money every week-end in thrift and war savings stamps. The children are apprehensive lest there be no more thrift stamps after the war.

Carroll Rainsford, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Rainsford, who has been attending the Citadel has volunteered for military service and will the latter part of November be sent by the local board to the infantry officers' training school at Camp Fremont, California. Carroll is only 18 years of age, and his acceptance for the officers' training school by the Provost Marshal General is a decided compliment to him. He has made an excellent record at the Citadel.

About Croup.
If your children are subject to croup, or if you have reason to fear their being attacked by that disease, you should procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and study the directions for use, so that in case of an attack you will know exactly what course to pursue. This is a favorite and very successful remedy for croup, and it is important that you observe the directions carefully. — Adv.

Johnston, S. C., Nov. 6th, 1918.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Bear in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known.—Adv.

FOR SALE— A lot of best grade of Texas and Fulghum oats for seed. See me before buying. S. F. LOGAN.

5,000 Stenographers Needed For Workers in Washington.

U. S. Department of Labor
U. S. Employment Service.
Office of Federal Director
Columbia, S. C. Oct. 4, 1918

Mrs. Joseph Sprott, President,
South Carolina W. C. T. U.
Edgefield, S. C.

Dear Madam:

Find enclosed herewith statement of the Government's need for five thousand stenographers for work in Washington. It is our wish to secure the cooperation of the South Carolina W. C. T. U. in advertising this and other needs of the Government for women workers and any mailing list which you may be in a position to furnish us will be appreciated.

Assuring you of our appreciation of any assistance you may render, or suggestions you may offer,

Very truly yours,
H. L. Tilghman,
Federal Director.

Stenography has become so important a war industry, that a nationwide drive for 5,000 stenographers and typists is under way by the U. S. Employment Service. Every possible agency has been asked to cooperate to furnish the desired quota.

Well known manufacturers, including the Remington, Underwood, L. C. Smith, Oliver and Royal typewriter firms have placed the facilities of their offices at the disposal of the Employment Service, and have not only offered the use of their machines, but will supply examining clerks as well. A civil service examiner will be present at each examination held under the auspices of the various companies designated.

Many of the foremost colleges are offering secretarial courses, which include stenography and typewriting.

Stenographers are expected to qualify for one of the three classes:

1. College graduates and women of wide business experience. Salaries, $1,320.00 and up.
2. General Stenographers—salary, $1,200 and up.
3. Typists and stenographers of limited experience—salary $1,100 and up.

The various departments in Washington in need of stenographers and typists will send in each week the number desired and the U. S. Employment Service will pro-rate the assignments according to the need of each department and the supply which the Employment Service has on hand.

Women who make the Civil Service examinations at the suggestion of the U. S. Employment Service, are placed in departments where civil service is required. There are, however, eighteen departments of the Government outside of civil service, and for those desiring work in these departments, it will be necessary to meet the qualifications outlined by the U. S. Employment Service.

Washington offers many attractions to women engaged in war work. The Government has appropriated $10,000.00 to house employees who are serving at the National Capital.

Early in the year, the first of a series of residence halls for women will be completed. The initial residence hall is being erected opposite the Union Station, and will afford a home for 2,000 women. It will be operated on the plan of an apartment hotel. Each bedroom will have running water, and a commodious closet. The furnishings, while not pretentious, will be attractive and in keeping with the latest ideas of interior decoration. In the meantime many private residences are being taken over by the Government to afford homes for women.

Probably no war capital in the world has so many agencies enlisted to provide interesting forms of recreation for girls doing Government work. The activities provided are practically the same as those found in the leading Women's Colleges in the country. The Community Centers of the Washington Public Schools hold dances in the centrally located school houses nightly for the entertainment of the girls and men in the service. In one of the large schools equipped with a big natatorium, swimming classes are held for girls every night at 7:00 o'clock followed by a dance to which are invited soldiers and sailors stationed in Washington or passing through the city.

The outdoor sports include archery, horseback riding, golf, tennis, boating, trap-shooting, and aquatic meets.

Some of the girls form military companies and drill several afternoons a week back of the White House, in order to keep themselves physically fit. They are instructed by regular army officers and non-coms.

In addition to the athletic and social activities, there are free lectures,

SPORTING GOODS

The season is now upon us when sporting goods appeal to our people. At this time of the year, after the harvest is practically over, men who are sportively inclined give some time to recreation, and very properly so. We want them to know that we can supply every wish. If we haven't got what you want we will get it on short notice.

In guns we have a large assortment of Parker 1w-16 and 20 gauge, L. C. Smith and Ithica guns. Come in to see them.

We also have a large stock of Leggins, Hunting Coats and Gun Cases. We have a complete stock of Bicycles, Bicycle Tires, Automobile Tires and Tubes, Hand Horns and Electric Horns, Weed chains and Red-O-Skid chains.

Make your wishes known to us. We can supply them with dependable goods at reasonable prices.

musicals, and classes in various subjects. When it is remembered that 210 Women's Organizations, the Churches of Washington, the Government Recruiting League, the Y. W. C. A. and the War Camp Community Service are all co-operating, it will be seen that the National Capital offers many opportunities for trained women.

A France-Land Lullaby.
Sleep, thou little child of sorrows,
War's harsh din fright not thine ear;
Sleep, and dream of happier morrows,
Rest thine heart and feel no fear.
Bends thy mother's angel 'bove thee,
Leans thy father's spirit near;
France, thy Mother-Land, will love thee,
She'll defend thee, baby dear.

Sorrow's child, did foemen wrest thee
From the breast, serene and sweet,
Where a mother's love would nest thee;
O'er a heart which for thee beat?
Sleep, thy Mother France will hold thee;
Sleep, for other loving arms
Shall with tenderness enfold thee;
Shield thee safe from war's alarms.

Now the sun sinks to its setting;
Shadows slant across the sky.
Dream, sweet child, in sleep forgetting
War's grim specter. Lullaby!
Rises o'er thy birth-land stricken
Hope's clear, shining star of light.
Sleep, no shadows 'round thee
thicken;
Wake to day-dawn, blest and bright.

Japan's First College For Women.

The first attempt at higher education for women in Japan has been taken in the opening of the Woman's Christian College of Japan. Through the cooperation of six mission boards—one Canadian and five American—this institution has been established in the suburbs of Tokio.

In the opening ceremonies, on April 30, there was a large gathering of Japanese, showing the interest they are taking in the movement. The American ambassador, Roland S. Morris, was among the speakers. The college has eighty-four students.—Patriot Phalanx.
