Wednesday, February 19.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Sarah Collett is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wright near Saluda.

Miss Sophie Abney has returned from an extended and delightful visit to her niece, Mrs. A. J. Ives in Savannah.

Announcement has come from Augusta of the arrival of a little girl in the home of Hon. and Mrs. Walter McDonald.

Miss Virginia Addison entertained about thirty of her friends on Tuesday evening at a delightful and elaborate luncheon.

Plan to see Smith Damron, the magic potter in the Opera House March 5th. A similar programme to this has never been seen in Edgefield.

Mrs. H. C. Porter who went to the University Hospital for treatment and an operation, has returned to her home in Edgefield, we hope greatly benefited.

The special sale of I. Mukashy continues and the people are going to his store in large numbers to avail themselves of the cut prices that he is offering.

Mrs. Minnie Love of Columbia is in Edgefield visiting her friend Mrs. Moore and aiding in the nursing of little Frances Moore who is very ill at this time.

Mrs. C. E. May went over to Augusta on Wednesday morning accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. B. Kennerly and mother, Mrs. Ida Sheppard, where she went for treatment.

We will pay a straight salary of $35.00 per week for man or woman with rig to introduce Eureka Poultry Mixture. Six months contract. Eureka Mfg. Co., East St. Louis, Illinois.

Mrs. Mamie N. Tillman went to the Baptist Hospital last week for a minor operation, and her many friends will be delighted to know that she is recuperating rapidly and will soon be at home.

Mr. W. A. Strom left Saturday night to attend the conference of the farmers, bankers and business men of the cotton growing States to consider the cotton situation. His report will be eagerly awaited.

The Civic League has heard from the Lyceum Bureau in regard to the continuation of the course and the first number will be a unique lecture on the "Potter's Clay" demonstrated by actual making of pottery on the stage.

One of our soldier boys, Earle Hammond, came in and paid The Advertiser a visit and renewed his subscription. The boys are coming home one by one, and enlivening and cheering the country and town by their presence.

The Methodists of our town are being urged to keep the Centenary Movement in their minds and hearts. We cannot accomplish our aim or reach our goal unless we give more and pray more. Remember, another country is now asking for spiritual aid, are we going to allow them to be neglected on account of our lack of interest in this great movement?

Let's do our part and do it with generous giving and more prayer.

Watch Your Label.

Watch the label on your paper and renew your subscription before it expires. We are compelled to discontinue the paper at the date of expiration of every subscription. Absolutely no exception is made of anyone. The government has made us discontinue the old way and enforce the paid-in-advance system. We find that a vast majority of our subscribers like the new way better.

Mass Meeting Called.

A mass meeting will be held in the court house Saturday morning looking to making plans for the curtailment of the cotton acreage. Those who are in New Orleans attending the cotton conference will report in person the result of the conference. This meeting Saturday should be attended not by the farmers only, but by bankers, lawyers, doctors, merchants and business men generally. Farmers are not the only class who are interested in holding up the price of cotton. Every business and profession are as vitally affected. We must make a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together, if we expect to win this fight.

Another Naval Hero Returned.

One of Edgefield's most popular and beloved sons, J. H. Carmichael, came over for the week-end and was the guest of Julian Strother. Hammond was one of the first naval volunteers and served on the U. S. S. Nashville which cruised in the Mediterranean, on the coasts of Spain and Africa and back and forth on the High Seas. Those who have been fortunate enough to hear him talk say he has many wonderful incidents to relate in a most charming manner. He is now at Kathwood, S. C.

Death of Mr. M. S. Walker.

After a lingering illness which extended over several years, Mr. M. S. Walker died at his home six miles northwest of Edgefield, Thursday night. He had been confined to his bed for nearly two years. Mr. Walker was in his 88th year at the time of his death. While he did not mingle with the outside world, Mr. Walker was a great reader and was well informed upon the leading topics of the day and could converse very interestingly upon such matters when his friends called to see him. Mr. Walker's life was one of almost entire seclusion, having visited Edgefield but twice since the Civil War. He possessed remarkable business ability and managed his farming interests very successfully, especially in the active years of his life.

Mr. Walker is survived by an only brother, Mr. Herbert Walker, who resided with him. The interment took place in the family burying ground at the Talbert place.

Church Debt to be Paid.

Rev. Robert G. Lee issues a church calendar every week in which he not only announces the services for the week but keeps the members of his congregation informed upon every phase of the church life and activities. The weekly calendars have proven to be a great stimulus to the work of the church. In the calendar of last Sunday, Mr. Lee announced that next Sunday an effort will be made to raise sufficient money to pay off the debt on the church building. He preached a very earnest sermon Sunday morning bearing upon the special undertaking, which greatly increased the enthusiasm and interest in the movement. A full attendance of the membership of the church is desired next Sunday. The debt on the church must be paid off and then soon thereafter the building can be dedicated to the service of God. Although the building has been completed four years or more, it has never been dedicated because of the debt hanging over it. It ought to be raised in full next Sunday.

Death of Mr. J. G. Byrd.

Although not unexpected, because of the serious illness of the past two weeks, the death of Mr. J. G. Byrd which occurred at his home near Berea, Wednesday, caused much genuine sorrow in Edgefield. Not only have his frequent visits to Edgefield during practically all his life caused him to have scores and hundreds of friends, but during the two terms he served as public cotton weigher at this place he was brought into very intimate relations with our people and the more they saw and knew of him the more he became endeared to them. Mr. Byrd was quiet and unobtrusive in his manner yet he never failed to impress favorably the people with whom he came in contact, because of his high sense of honor and his rectitude of character.

Mr. Byrd was in his 58th year at the time of his death and all of his life he had lived in the same community. He was held in the highest esteem and his demise leaves a large vacant place in the community left. He was generous and public-spirited, always willing to do his part in every thing that was undertaken for the public welfare. During the war just closed, Mr. Byrd was 100 per cent loyal and patriotic, willingly giving up his eldest son, William, to go to the front. Mr. Byrd was a Mason and was buried with Masonic honors.

The funeral was held at Gilgal church Thursday afternoon, being conducted by his pastor, Rev. P. B. Lanham.

Mr. Byrd is survived by his wife and the following children to mourn his loss: William J.; Mrs. Ollie Griffiths, Mrs. Joseph Cartledge, Oswald, Osie, Holloway, Hammond, Ellie Edna and Warren.

For the Children.

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drug and most effectual in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.

Death of Much Beloved Confederate Soldier.

Edgefield county lost one of its best citizens last week when Mr. Silas Yonce, familiarly known as "Uncle Silas," died in Charleston. Accompanied by his physician, Dr. Stone and his son, Mr. Wilbur Yonce, Mr. Yonce went to Charleston Tuesday of last week to have his foot treated by a specialist. After Mr. Wilbur took his father up to his room at the hotel Tuesday night, he and Dr. Stone went out in the city to visit the brother of the latter, and on returning to the hotel they found that Mr. Silas Yonce was in a dying condition, having been gassed. It seems that Mr. Yonce turned the gas on the heater in the room and failed to light it or extinguish the flames of the gas heater without fully turning off the gas. He was suffocated by the escaping gas in the room. The odor of gas was detected in the building by the manager just before Mr. Wilbur Yonce returned to the hotel and upon investigation it was found to be in the room of Mr. Yonce. Life was almost extinct when his room was entered. Every possible effort was made to revive him but he was discovered too late for any human effort to save him.

The announcement of his death caused much genuine sorrow among his friends in Edgefield and wherever he was known in the county.

Mr. Yonce was in his 85th year and for more than forty years he was an elder in Mt. Calvary church. He was the incarnation of all that was true and honorable and upright. No man in the county, particularly in the eastern part of the county, wielded a wider and more wholesome influence than "Uncle Silas" Yonce. Truly a good man has gone to his reward.

He served for four years in the Confederate army, rendering faithful and gallant service for his country.

Mr. Yonce died about four o'clock Wednesday morning and his body reached Johnston Wednesday night. Thursday afternoon the funeral and interment took place at Mt. Calvary church, the funeral being conducted by Rev. J. H. Kinard.

He is survived by his beloved wife and three children, Mr. E. L. Yonce, Mrs. Arthur Herin and Mr. J. Wilbur Yonce.

NOT DUE TO SEX ALONE

Edgefield Women Have Learned the Cause of Many Mysterious Pains and Aches

Many women have come to know the sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills, is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There is no other remedy so well recommended by Edgefield people. Read this case:

Mrs. E. P. Jackson, Edgefield, gave the following statement April 12, 1911: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills when I was suffering with a weak and lame back. My sides and hips were sore and lame and I couldn't sleep well on that account. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of that attack of kidney trouble and I am glad to endorse them."

On February 7, 1918 Mrs. Jackson said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have proved themselves splendid when I have used them in the past. I can't recommend anything else but continue recommending them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jackson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
