LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Joe Darlington of Georgetown is here visiting relatives.

Mrs. Roy Brezeale of Greenville, is the guest of Mrs. Capers Madden.

Everybody seems to be in a better humor since the war-time time was discontinued.

Miss Margaret Madden who is attending school in Columbia came home for the week-end.

Hon. Walter McDonald came over for a hurried visit to Mrs. Agatha A. Woodson early in the week.

Miss Edith Pearce of Greenwood, and Miss Myra Pearce of Augusta, are the guests of Miss Justine Cantelou.

The friends of Mr. George A. Adams of Colliers deeply regret that a mule threw him last Sunday and broke his collar-bone.

Miss Louise Woodward, the very capable telephone operator, spent Sunday at her home in Aiken.

Miss Helen Tillman is spending Fair week in Columbia as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. B. R. Cooner.

Miss Eleanor Mims and Master Hansford Mims spent Saturday and Sunday in Augusta as guests of Mrs. Walter McDonald.

Mrs. S. M.G. Simkins is among the Fair visitors in Columbia this week, being with her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Graydon.

A great host of people left this morning for Columbia to see the pigs and "punkins" at the State Fair, as well as to "take in" the midway.

Gen. M. L. Bonham arrived from Anderson early this morning on professional business and has been very cordially greeted. He always receives a royal welcome in Edgefield.

Clerk of Court W. B. Cogburn has requested The Advertiser to announce that there will be no court next week. Jurors and witnesses need not report for duty Monday.

Miss Patsy Major is in Columbia this week on duty at the fair, having had a large part in arranging the county exhibits of the home demonstration week under the auspices of Winthrop College.

Mrs. Lillie Cogburn is spending this week in Edgefield. She was awarded two prizes at the Greenwood fair last week. A barrel of flour for the best cake and a half-barrel for the best biscuits.

Mr. Horace Cogburn is over from Columbia believing Mr. Madden as engineer this week, who is off duty for a few days. Horace always receives a very cordial welcome from his Edgefield friends.

How many feet or yards or rods or miles of pasture fence wire have you ordered? Don't let the weevil put you to rout. Begin to prepare now—not for its coming, for the pest is already here.

Dr. E. G. Lee will speak at Republican church next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The people of that church and community have something rich in store for them. Dr. Lee always has something good to say.

County Demonstration Agent A. B. Carville who is making his value felt in all parts of the county has been spending several days in Columbia assisting in making the several county exhibits of the farm demonstration work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Nicholson motored to Greenwood Sunday to visit their daughter, Miss Mary Nicholson, who is attending Lander College. They were accompanied by Miss Besie Dunovant and Miss Kate Mims and Mr. Joe Darlington.

Dr. R. G. Lee returned last night from his vacation. He has been working in the 75 Million Campaign much of the time instead of resting, but he has been greatly benefitted by the change. Mrs. Lee and little Beulah are in Greenville with Mrs. Lee's mother but will return to Edgefield in a short time.

Col B. P. Davies, editor of the Barnwell People, was in Edgefield Tuesday, being the guest of Mr. J. L. Mims while here. Col Davies has been appointed supervisor of the census for the second congressional district and came to Edgefield to look after matters pertaining to his duties as supervisor.

Messrs. Stewart and Kernaghan are steadily growing. The latest evidence of their enlarged capacity is the installation of a up-to-the-minute gasoline tank of six-hundred gallon capacity. Their sales on gasoline run from 1,200 to 1,600 gallons per week and their former storage tank was inadequate.

Little Welling Lagrone, the dear little three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerald LaGrone, celebrated his third birthday Tuesday afternoon and invited a number of his little friends to share the pleasure of the occasion with him. After they became surfeited on games and outdoor sports, refreshments were served.

Col. R. E. Babb of Laurens was a visitor in Edgefield Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mims entertained the faculty of the High and Graded School on Tuesday evening at tea. Thirteen guests were present.

The members of the Baraca class have decided to postpone their oyster supper which was to have been given Friday night. The date for it will be announced later.

Mr. Juror, instead of reporting for jury duty next week, you can sow oats. Sow every available foot of ground you can. Every acre put in grain is a blow to the boll weevil.

Tell your friends about the lyceum entertainment to be given in the Opera House next Monday night. Tickets on sale at the Mitchell Drug Store.

The lyceum entertainment in the Opera House Monday night, November 3, will afford pleasant diversion for all who attend. A miscellaneous program will be presented that will not fail to give pleasant diversion to all ages.

The second Lyceum attraction will be here November 17th, just two weeks later. Hear them and forget the Knowltons. Their work is superb. They will present the very best in high class comedy. Look for more about them next week.

Mrs. Mamie N. Tillman went over to Columbia on Wednesday to assist in looking after the booth and rest room of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Mrs. Tillman being superintendent of the department of Pairs and Open Air meetings of this organization.

Encourage the ladies of the Civic League who are managing the lyceum course by purchasing a season ticket and attending the first entertainment of the season Monday night November 3. It will be a strong attraction.

Mr. Abram Daitch, second only in real estate deals to Mr. A. A. Edmunds, has purchased the hotel property from Mr. H. C. Porter. He will probably move his family into the house later.

The Hallowe'en window of the Corner Store is being greatly admired. Mr. W. H. Turner, the manager of this popular store, is progressive and is never satisfied to move along in the same rut.

Mr. Walter Pierce Ryan has received on honorable discharge from the military service and is at home again to remain permanently. He is now wearing his artificial foot and walks apparently without the slightest difficulty. He is contemplating taking some special course of study at the expense of the government.

Call at the store of Stewart and Kernaghan and ask to see the new Blue Ribbon oil stoves. They are economic and altogether satisfactory. In this day of labor shortage and high priced wood these stoves should become very popular. Read what Stewart and Kernaghan say about them in this issue.

Mr. J. M. Quarles, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Quarles, has just completed a two months' course in auto mechanics in one of the largest schools of the kind in the country located in Kansas City. He is now well equipped as an automobile mechanic. He was unwilling to enter upon the work of a mechanic without being properly equipped, and he is right.

New Pastor Accepts.

Rev. W. B. Barnes has been called to the pastorate of Republican, Antioch and Red Hill churches and has accepted. Mr. Barnes preached at Red Hill Sunday, October 19, and the people were greatly pleased with him. He has been preaching at Kingsburg, S. C., for some time and will come to Edgefield county some time before Christmas.

Long Record of Service.

Mr. Arthur S. Tompkins resigned from the board of trustees of the Edgefield school several weeks ago and Mr. Bettis Cantelou has been appointed in his place. Mr. Tompkins has a long record of faithful service behind him, having served on the board for nearly or quite forty years. He and Mr. A. J. Norris and Mr. J. L. Addison were the faithful three in the years of the long ago.

Delco-Light System.

Read what is said of the Delco-Light in the large advertisement in this issue. There are literally hundreds of rural homes in Edgefield county that should be supplied with electric lights through the Delco system. Mr. Spann Toney of Johnston is the agent for this county for the Delco-Light. Write him or call on him and he will give you all of the information bearing upon this splendid system.

The Knowlton Glee and Banjo Club will be here November 3rd.

Dr. Parry says "Hear the Knowltons and quit talking about the Hawaiians."

The Pittsburgh Press says "When the Knowltons let loose with a song and banjo the audience sits up and takes notice. Six banjos skillfully handled produces an arousing effect." Don't fail to hear the Knowltons.

REWARD: I will pay a reward of $25 dollars for evidence to convict the party who took a new Fisk tire 32x4 from the rear of my Chalmers car Sunday afternoon between 5:30 and 8:00 o'clock.

Civic League Appreciative.

The members of the Civic League desire to thank the public for the splendid patronage given "The County Fair" on last Friday night. They also thank, most sincerely, the children and grown people who took part in the performance, the musicians and singers who helped in so large a measure to make it the success it was. The sum of $116.68 was realized on the entertainment.
