

Office No 61
Residence, No. 17

Wednesday, March 10.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Jerald LaGrone and Mr. H. M. Reynolds motored to Savannah and spent the week-end.

Mr. E. P. Arthur has installed a lath machine at his shop near the depot and is sawing laths every day.

Miss Margaret May came home from the Greenville Woman's College for the week-end.

Miss Mamie Dunovant spent the week-end in Aiken as the guest of Miss Louise Coleman.

Mrs. Berta Hill and Miss Janie Hill came up from Augusta and spent the week-end at "Cedar Grove."

Miss Katherine Mims entertained a few friends very delightfully at tea Friday evening. The occasion was one of unusual pleasure to those present.

Mr. W. D. Allen came down from Chappell and spent Sunday here, being very cordially greeted by his Edgefield friends.

Attention is directed to the quarterly statements of the Bank of Johnston, the Farmers Bank of Edgefield and the Bank of Edgefield in this issue.

Mr. C. M. Thomas is having his attractive residence on Main street repainted. Who'll be the next to improve his premises and thus contribute to the beauty of the old town?

Mrs. Arthur Childress of Greer, accompanied by her son, Master Benjamin Jones, has been spending several days in Edgefield and vicinity with relatives.

Miss Grace Brumbaugh, the public health nurse, has greatly endeared herself to many people in Edgefield whom she has visited recently, proving herself to be indispensable in the community and in the county.

Mr. T. A. Broadwater opened a store near his residence in Eastern Edgefield. Before many years the old town will spread until it reaches the Cross-Roads, which will be the terminus of the street railway system.

Mr. J. D. Holstein, Jr., has just received a car load of Overland-4 automobiles. The Overlands have stood the test in Edgefield county for a number of years and their popularity is increasing.

Mr. D. A. G. Ozuts of Greenwood has sold his law business to his partner and is now engaged in organizing another bank for Greenwood to be known as the American Bank, with capital stock of $200,000.

Messrs. Yonce & Mooney announce that they now have a limited supply of genuine Ford starters for Ford cars and trucks. Better have your car equipped with one before the supply is exhausted. A Ford is a good thing without a starter, but it is two-fold a better thing with one.

Mr. W. A. Strom and Mr. T. A. Broadwater will erect a modern gin-ery north of Edgefield just beyond the town limits at the Jackson place on the Ninety Six road. A modern equipment has been ordered and will be installed by the opening of the next season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mathis of Trenton, who have been visiting in Florida for about two months, have returned to Trenton. They came a little earlier than expected on account of the illness of little Kathleen, who has now improved. Mrs. Mathis' friends all over Edgefield county have been greatly interested in her improvement.

Rev. G. W. M. Taylor, the beloved pastor of the Edgefield and Trenton Methodist churches, has been engaged to teach in the Trenton school, filling the place made vacant in the teaching force by the recent resignation of the principal of the school. On account of the sickness of several teachers, the Edgefield school is closed this week.

Will Advertise Edgefield.

The Atlanta Constitution will issue a special edition by way of celebrating the official opening of the Dixie Highway some time early in the summer. The town of Edgefield, through the members of the chamber of commerce and other citizens, purchased an entire page of space in which to advertise the town of Edgefield, paying $600 therefor. The old town is comin' to the front and will stay there, or a "leetle" ahead of the procession. A cut of the new hotel will be placed in the centre of the page.

Many Buildings Going Up.

Building goes merrily on in Edgefield. Mr. J. G. Alford is making good progress with his handsome bungalow; Mr. J. W. Morgan is adding several rooms to his residence near the High School building; Mr. A. A. Edmunds will soon complete the addition to his large boarding house near the Presbyterian church; Mr. H. H. Hill is making good headway with his residence in south Edgefield; Mr. Bettis Cantelou is transforming the Timmons house which he purchased some time ago; Mr. Israel Mukashy's new bungalow, erected by Mr. Heath, will soon be occupied; Mr. J. Rubenstein is making an addition to his residence; Mr. E. S. Johnson is adding to his brick store near the depot and will soon begin work on the two stories above for a hotel or large boarding house; Mr. Heath has commenced work on the two bungalows for Mr. J. L. Mims. Mr. James O. Sheppard is planning to erect a bungalow in south Edgefield.

Betrothal Announced.

Cards containing the following announcement were received in Edgefield Saturday:

Miss Nelle Braxton Jones
and

Mr. Thomas Lawrence Nicholson
Betrothed.

This announcement which has been the leading topic of conversation in Edgefield for the past few days was not altogether a surprise, as Cupid does not always effectively conceal his plans. Miss Nelle Jones came home from Converse college Sunday, where she has been engaged in special work since the opening of the present session, and will remain here permanently, or at least until her marriage to Mr. Nicholson early in June.

The faculty of Converse complimented Miss Nelle with an elaborate announcement party in the parlors of the college last week and two other friends in Spartanburg also gave delightful social functions in honor of the bride-elect.

Mr. Nicholson was reared in Crawfordville, Indiana, and volunteered for military service early in the World War. He was on duty about a year at Camp Hancock and served a year overseas. Upon receiving his discharge from the army Mr. Nicholson located in Chicago where he is engaged in the brokerage business.

Edgefield friends of the bride-elect will eagerly look forward to the consummation of their plans in June and in advance extend hearty congratulations and cordial good wishes.

Street Improvement Needed.

If the county launches upon a modern roads building programme the towns of Johnston, Trenton and Edgefield will have to look to the improvement of the streets. Unless Edgefield gives more attention to working the streets, the remote rural districts will have better highways than will be found almost under the shadow of the Court House.

Lumber Business Grows.

The lumber business in and around Edgefield continues to grow and if it continues many years there will not be left a tree for a bird to light in. However, we are not fighting the lumber interests. They mean too much to the prosperity of our people. Preserve the small trees and they will provide fuel and lumber sufficient for coming generations.

Possible Railway Extension.

It has been intimated to Capt. O. P. Bright, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that if the people of Edgefield will make the proper showing, the officials of the Southern Railroad will extend the road to Greenwood, giving Edgefield a northern outlet to the world. This is Edgefield's greatest need, now that we have a modern hotel in sight. Let's put every shoulder to the enterprise and possibly we can draw the cork that has had the old town bottled up for more than thirty years.

Look at Your Label.

There are some of our subscribers who have neglected to send in their renewals and we call attention to the expiration of their subscriptions so they can remit before our list is revised. The Advertiser will never return to the old system, as the cash in advance plan has met with the approval of practically all of our subscribers. All are treated alike and the paper will be discontinued if not renewed upon expiration. Look at your label and renew at once. Unless you do we shall be forced to stop the paper. Don't delay. Act NOW.

Ice Manufacturing Plant.

Mr. W. F. McMurray has completed his ice plant and turned out his first block of ice Monday. The capacity is eight tons for a run of 24 hours. This is a new enterprise for Edgefield and we trust that it will be altogether successful. We confidently believe it will. Mr. McMurray, the proprietor, is a capable, energetic young man who does not stop short of success in whatever he undertakes. There should be no dearth of ice henceforth in Edgefield the year round. Mr. McMurray can supply your needs.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

On Monday afternoon the W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. W. F. McMurray where a very pleasant gathering of the members occurred. Mrs. J. W. Peak led in the devotions and the 23rd Psalm was repeated in concert, all present seeming to know it from memory.

The study on citizenship was unusually interesting, led by Mrs. Tillman and Mrs. W. L. Dunovant was called upon to make some comments, which she did in her charming enthusiasm for the cause. Most of those present were interested in one or more phases of the discussion and gave their opinions or asked questions.

An interesting paper on some of our "Health Problems," written by Miss Grace Brumbaugh was read.

Year books and budget envelopes were distributed and some plans of work discussed.

At the close of the program little Misses Mary and Dooty Marsh served a very dainty salad course with iced tea. A beautiful victrola selection furnished music for the occasion. Mrs. Chesley Wells was a welcomed visitor at the meeting.

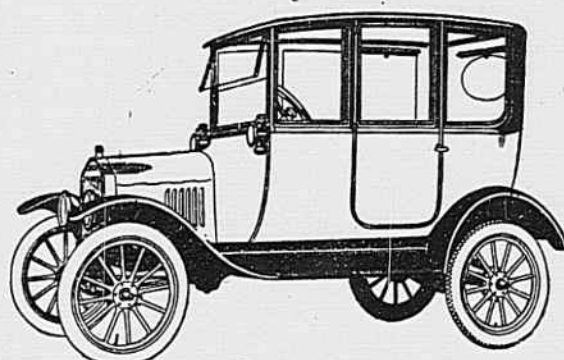

The April W. C. T. U. will be held with Mrs. N. M. Jones on April 5, when Mr. A. B. Carwile has been invited to make a talk on the attitude of the Boy Scout movement towards the smoking of cigarettes. This question is beginning to get its share of discussion at the present time. Kansas has declared her intention of starting the juggernaut in motion which will crush to atoms the American cigarette. Two states, Kansas and Utah, have already banished the little white tyrant from their borders.

STRAYED: From my home on the Gary place, a red sandy sow weighing about 75 pounds. Will pay reasonable reward.
