Narrow Escape in Washington

Wednesday night of last week Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lott and their two little daughters who were attending the Southern Baptist convention in Washington came near being asphyxiated. They retired at their hotel about 8:30 o'clock and one of the little girls called Mr. Lott about 3:30 o'clock and complained of being sick. Mr. Lott responded to the call atonce and found that gas was escaping from the gas jet. One of the little girls turned off the gas on retiring but evidently did not cut it off entirely. Mr. and Mrs. Lott and both of the little girls suffered somewhat from the effects of the gas but were able to attend the sessions of the convention the next day. Had not the little girl been aroused from her sleep, doubtless all of them in the room would have been asphyxiated. Their friends in Edgefield are delighted that they sustained no serious
