Candidates For State Offices Spoke.

About 100 people, including a dozen or more ladies, assembled in the Court House Friday to hear the candidates for the State offices speak. The meeting was presided over by the county chairman, J. L. Mims, who requested Rev. G. W. M. Taylor to offer the invocation.

Governor Cooper was at the time in San Francisco attending the National Democratic Convention and wrote to the chairman expressing his regrets at being unable to be here to thank the people of Edgefield for their loyal support of him. As the candidates for State superintendent of education, State treasurer, attorney general, comptroller general and commissioner of agriculture are unopposed, the candidates for these offices were not present.

The first to address the meeting were the three candidates for the office of lieutenant governor, these speaking in the order named Octavus Cohen of Charleston, W. G. Harvey, of Charleston and O. K. Mauldin of Greenville. There are really no issues and these gentlemen spoke along practically the same lines—education, good roads, law enforcement, etc.

The candidates for the office of adjutant and inspector general, Capt. A. H. Marchant of Orangeburg and Gen. W. W. Moore of Columbia, spoke 15 minutes each. Capt. Marchant referred to his military training as a graduate of the Citadel and of his service in the Spanish-American war and recently in the war with Germany. Although 40 years of age at the time he volunteered for service and after his training in the camps here, he spent nearly two years in overseas service. Gen. Moore is seeking re-election on his record of service as adjutant general for the past ten years. He promises the same faithful service in the future as he has endeavored to render in the past, if elected.

The four candidates for the office of railroad commissioner next spoke in the order named. R. L. Moss, a conductor on the Southern railroad briefly stated his reasons for aspiring to the office and he was followed by D. W. Gaskill of Kershaw, who has been treasurer of Camden county for a number of years, D. L. Smith of Walterboro and Frank W. Shealy, of Lexington, who reviewed his record of service in this office for the past six years.

Mr. Walter Duncan of Aiken, a candidate unopposed for the office of comptroller general arrived before the meeting closed expressing great pleasure upon being able to meet and greet the people of Edgefield.

Smoker For Tank Company.

All young men of Edgefield county are invited to attend a smoker which will be given by the tank company in the Court House Friday evening, July 2nd at 8:30 p. m. All members of the company have been notified of the meeting and are expected to attend without fail.

For the past several weeks the officers of the company owing to pressing business have been unable to recruit very actively but now it is planned to put on a recruiting campaign and complete the quota for the company. It is only necessary to recruit ten or twelve more men and then the company will be mustered in. Quite a number of college men have returned home and have announced their intention of joining the company so it is believed that the quota can be completed with little trouble.

Good smokes will be provided at the smoker Friday night and it is hoped that a large number of young men will attend.

Barbecue Monday.

On Monday, July 5, we will serve a barbecue dinner on the campus of the Edgefield High School, consisting of hash, barbecued meats, bread, pickle, onion sauce, tomatoes, etc. Price 75 cents.

When you know the cause of a disease a cure may often be effected. This is particularly true of headache. Headache often results from constipation or a disordered condition of the stomach which may be corrected by taking a dose or two of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it.
