Death of Mr. Dozier A. Lynch.

The entire community was deeply saddened by the death of Dozier A. Lynch, which occurred here today about 12 o'clock at the home of his mother, Mrs. Kate Lynch. While he has not made his home in Edgefield during the past ten years, yet he was universally beloved and his home coming has always brought real joy to the hearts of his friends.

Mr. Lynch was born February 9, 1889, and graduated from Davidson college with honors in 1910, which institution he entered after completing the course in the Edgefield graded school, there being no high schools in those days. The session following his graduation from Davidson he entered the law department of the University of North Carolina and at the close of his junior year there he decided to take his senior year in law at the University of South Carolina. While in his senior year at Carolina he accepted a position as private secretary to Judge Woods. Mr. Lynch was from his early boyhood a hard student, and made a splendid record at college, being recognized as having few equals as an orator. In every institution which he attended he was selected as the most suitable person to participate in the intercollegiate oratorical contests, never failing to bear off the honors.

Early in the spring of 1912 Mr. Lynch became a victim of tuberculosis and spent three years in a private sanitarium in Asheville, and later went to Fort Stanton, New Mexico, where he has resided for the past six years. All along he has made a stubborn fight against this dread disease, never losing courage until a few hours before the end came today. Just two weeks ago he came to Edgefield from Fort Stanton to visit his mother and since that time there has been a steady decline in his condition.

Mr. Lynch was an exceptional young man—an exception in his laudable ambition to fill a large and useful place in life, an exception in his intellectual attainments, an exception in his splendid character. In fact, a generation produces but few young men of the quality and calibre of Dozier Lynch. His high ideals, sterling qualities and rectitude of life have been an inspiration to the young men who have come in contact with him, always inspiring them to higher and nobler living.

Mr. Lynch was a devout Christian, having united with the Presbyterian church in early boyhood. He was conscious almost to the end which he faced bravely, the passing through the valley of the shadow of death having no terrors for him.

The funeral will be held at the residence of his mother tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock and the interment will take place in the family square in the village cemetery, Rev. T. P. Burgess of Clinton, who was Mr. Lynch's pastor when he resided in Edgefield has been requested to officiate at the funeral.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Kate Lynch, Mr. Lynch is survived by two brothers, Mr. W. C. Lynch of Edgefield and Mr. W. E. Lynch of Rowland, N. C.

Flower Show in Fall.

The members of the Civic League have decided to hold a flower show next fall similar to the floral fairs that were held in Edgefield a decade ago. Instead of confining the flowers to chrysanthemums, as was done then, the exhibit will be thrown open to all kinds of flowers. If the flower show next fall is to be made a success, and surely it will be, preparations must begin now during the planting season. It will be too late to decide in the summer or early fall to enter flowers. They must be grown, and in order to grow them the planting must be done in March and April. See how many exhibits you can provide, covering as great variety as possible. Of course, everybody will grow fine chrysanthemums as they did in the years gone by. Begin now, if you would win some of the valuable prizes to be offered next fall.

Testing Seed Corn.

Clemson College, March 8.—One of the best and most reliable ways of testing seed corn, says Prof. C. P. Blackwell, Agronomist, in answer to recent inquiries from farmers, is with the germination box. Any farmer can make his own box at very little expense. It may be made any size to suit the needs of the individual. The sides should be made of 2x4 timbers while the bottom may be made of any convenient material. A box the size suggested here will test two hundred ears at one time. This is enough seed to plant about sixteen acres. It usually requires about 12 ears to plant an acre.

The Box.

1. Make a box 48 inches long, 28 inches wide and 4 to 5 inches deep.
2. Procure a good piece of muslin one inch larger each way than the box.
3. Mark the muslin with heavy lines into squares two inches. Leave a margin of 4 inches the outside row of squares and the edge of the cloth.
4. Begin at the left of the upper row of squares (top row first) and number the squares to the right. The squares down the left hand line will then be numbered 1, 21, 41, 51, to 81.
5. Place 1-2 bushels of sawdust or old chaff in a sack and soak well in warm water (at least two hours).
6. Drain and afterward press surplus water out of sawdust.
7. Place about 2 inches of sawdust in the box and press firm and smooth with a brick.
8. Place marked muslin on this sawdust and tack to box around edge.
9. Prepare another piece of muslin 2 inches shorter each way than the one marked.
10. Secure another piece of any coarse, strong cloth twice as long each way as the one mentioned in 9.

The Corn.

11. Number the ears of corn to be tested from 1 to 200. Use tag in butt of ear fastened by pin or shingle nail. Preserve the identity of the ear until the test is complete.
12. Remove 6 kernels from each ear as follows. (a) Two from about 2 inches from the butt of ear, (b) two about the middle of ear, (c) two from about 2 inches from tip of ear.
13. Place the kernels from ear No. 1 in square No. 1; from ear No. 2 in square No. 2 putting germ side of kernels up and tips pointing toward rows of squares with lower numbers.
14. Wet small sheets of muslin as made in No. 9 and place over kernels to hold in place.
15. Place large sheets of cloth as made in No. 10 over this.
16. Put about 2 inches of wet sawdust on this, press down until firm, and fold edges of cloth over to cover sawdust.
17. Keep from freezing. If warm, sprouts should be long enough in 7 to 8 days.
18. Open by rolling the cloth containing the sawdust, then taking off the loose cloth carefully, not distributing the kernels.

Reading the Test.

19. Do not read until the sprouts are at least two inches long.
20. If all the kernels grow well, the ear is considered "strong."
21. If the sprouts are weak, call that a "weak ear."
22. If two or more kernels do not grow call that a "bad" ear.
23. All but the strong ears are rejected for seed purposes. All sawdust and cloth used should be thoroughly wet. If warm water is used, it will promote early growth. If sawdust and cloths are used repeatedly they should be thoroughly scalded to destroy mold.

He Rose.

He rose! the lilies tell it
With fragrant Easter breath,
From out the tomb's great darkness
He rose, and conquered death.

He rose! the birds are telling
In tuneful Easter song,
How Jesus brought salvation
When earth had waited long.

He rose! the whole world tells it
In every new born flower,
That Christ has conquered Death,
With resurrection power.

He bids us live our Easter,
Not once, but all the way,
And rise above our crosses,
With Him on Easter day!

Emma Graves Dietrick.

Leg Badly Broken.

Master Wayne Derrick, the sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Derrick, had his left leg broken last Thursday while playing on the school grounds of the Lott School. Both bones were not only broken but the large bone protruded from the flesh and a piece several inches in length had to be removed. Wayne was carried at once to the Baptist hospital in Columbia where he is receiving the best attention. The attending physician told his father that he felt confident that he could practically restore the injured member but that it would require about six months. Nature will have to repair the injury sustained through the piece of bone that had to be removed. Wayne is a bright and very popular boy and his misfortune is deeply deplored. No blame or censure attaches to any of his playmates, the unfortunate occurrence being purely accidental.

Fortune's Misfortune.

God pity the man who has never known want
By poverty, never hungry and cold;
Nor never had the horror of starvation, to haunt
Him, night and day, as homeless he strolled.

He cannot appreciate the pleasure of living,
And have the sweet sympathy for others,
He can never know the true happiness of giving
To our poor, less fortunate brothers.

His heart is casehardened to sweet emotions of love,
That thrill your soul through and through;
And comforts day and night like a soft cooing dove,
Singing love songs to his soulmate so true.

Our possession of riches though we be upright and just,
We leave behind in this world some day;
And the only thing we can take with us
Is that which we have given away.
W. S. G. HEATH.
