Governor Dorsey doubtless meant well but he made a bad break.

A problem already looming up is, What to do with the boys in vacation?

The farmer who plants cotton after grain under present conditions needs a reservation in the State hospital.

The present exorbitant freight rates raise an almost insurmountable barrier between produce on the farms and the far away city consumer.

If you believe wealth always brings happiness, ask James A. Stillman who until recently was president of the mightiest banks on Wall Street.

In the boll weevil warfare, the most powerful weapon is the corn planter. It will be as effective in routing the enemy as the "tank" on the fields of France.

It appears that the Mexicans, after seeing how shamefully the Germans played their part on the world's stage, have decided to behave themselves better.

It is all right to organize labor, and it is all right for organized labor to lay down a job; but it is never right for organized labor to interfere with others who would take up that job.

The management of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel has entered into a contract to pay its chef $500,000—$50,000 a year for ten years. That's a big price but it is at the same time a big advertisement for the hotel.

While the courts of the South are engaged largely in the trial of murder cases, the courts of the North are occupied with disgraceful divorce suits. After all, it's only a case of the pot calling the kettle black.

It is being said that the immorality of Paris will cause that once fair city to meet the fate of Rome. About all that some Parisian actresses are said to wear is a bracelet on their arm or a necklace around their neck.

It is probable that the hotel rates of Florida are responsible for so many tourists taking to tents. If they would inquire about hotel rates in Edgefield as they turn their faces homeward, they would fold their tents and repair to our Waldorf-Astoria.

Liquor and Automobiles.

It is true, we have a little blind tiger liquor, but suppose whiskey were hauled into Edgefield by the car load, like it was in the old dispensary days, don't you know that with hundreds of automobiles now going up and down our public roads, many of them driven by negroes, we would have lynchings almost every week? We would need public roads five hundred feet wide, and then some more width tacked on besides. Let the man who has the temerity to raise his voice against prohibition forever hold his peace. Like oil and water, whiskey and gasoline will not mix, so the good Lord wiped out most of the liquor before He permitted the use of automobiles to become so general.

Better get that Fordson tractor at once to harvest your grain with.

Would Fix Rate of Interest.
While Senator Smith—"Cotton" Smith, we mean—is not in the limelight as much as some of the more noisy fellows, yet he does not fail to score occasionally in a way that contributes to the welfare of the masses. The interests of the classes generally take care of themselves, especially is this true in national legislation.
Senator Smith, seeing what havoc has been wrought by the steady increase in the interest rate charged by the regional reserve banks, has introduced a bill fixing the rate by enactment, rather than leave so important a matter to the whims of one man or a few men. If the regional reserve banks were established to stabilize the finances of the country, or serve as a sort of balance wheel to preserve the financial equilibrium of the country, we see no reason why the rate of interest should not be fixed, and not be subject to as sudden (and unwarranted) fluctuation as the cotton market. Senator Smith favors fixing a rate of not exceeding five per cent. While we are not a financier, nor the son of a financier, yet we venture the assertion that had such a rate been maintained by Governor Harding during the past eight months, this country—we mean, the people—would be something like a score of billions of dollars better off. Of course, the mere increase in the rate of interest did not alone precipitate a greater calamity than the World War, so far as this country was concerned, but Governor Harding rather boasts that this was the first step in his deflation policy.
