Mr. T. A. Hightower is ever generous and thoughtful. He takes the big mill truck late these hot afternoons loaded with nearly a score of boys and girls down to Mr. E. W. Samuel's pond where they take a dip and cool off. It is said to be a real luxury.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Cooper was the scene of much pleasure on last Wednesday evening when their doors were thrown open to forty guests in honor of Miss Marjie Fulmer of Washington, D. C., who is the house guest of Misses Christine and Estelle Cooper.

If you have trouble with your feet—nearly everybody has whether they admit it or not—call at the Corner Store next Monday or Tuesday and consult the Chicago foot specialist. A demonstration of modern appliances for correcting trouble with feet will be given free.

If you want to get a new lease on life, have water installed in your home and take a Baptist or Methodist bath—a full length or shower bath—or both at the close of these hot days. You will wonder how you did without an abundant water supply in your home for so long a time.

The Norris Plan.

Farmer E. J. Norris has hit upon a good plan for fighting the weevil. He is planting a row of corn in the middle furrow of weevil infested cotton and later if the damage by the weevils is very considerable he will plow up the cotton. On the contrary if this hot weather overcomes the weevils he will plow up the corn. In other words it is a case of the "survival of the fittest" crop.

Meeting of County Democratic Executive Committee Called.

A vacancy having occurred in the first magisterial district of Edgefield county, through the death of Magistrate N. L. Brunson, and as he was nominated, or rather recommended for appointment, in the last primary election, with more than three-fourths of the term yet unexpired, the members of the County Democratic Executive Committee are called to meet in the Court House at Edgefield Monday, June 20, at 11 o'clock a. m., to decide whether or not a primary election shall be ordered in the first magisterial district to name a successor to the late Magistrate Brunson, and to provide for the holding of such election, should one be decided upon by the committee.

A full attendance of the committee is urged.

J. L. MIMS,
County Chairman.

Death of Mr. N. L. Brunson.

Monday night about 10:30 o'clock Mr. N. L. Brunson died at his home in Edgefield, after a lingering illness extending over a period of 6 months. For the past four months he has been confined to his home and much of the time to his bed. He was a great sufferer but made a strong fight against the dread disease that seized him nearly a year ago. Although steadily growing weaker as the months and weeks passed, he was hopeful to within the last week that he would recover.

Mr. Brunson was in his 79th year at the time of his death, having given four years of his life to gallant service in the Confederate army and having borne well his part in the stormy days of re-construction. At the time of his death he was magistrate at Edgefield, having served the people in that capacity for about 10 years. Mr. Brunson was a member of the Baptist church, from which the funeral was conducted Tuesday afternoon by Rev. G. W. M. Taylor. Mrs. Brunson and their only daughter, Miss Genie Brunson, died about ten years ago, and his last resting place is beside their graves in our village cemetery.

During his long illness Mr. Brunson was unceasingly ministered to by his niece, Miss Kellah Fair, and nephew, Mr. D. D. Brunson. They gratified every wish and gave themselves unselfishly, both night and day, to contributing to his comfort. Rarely, if ever, does one see such beautiful and unselfish service so nobly rendered. Although the long months of nursing made inroads upon their strength, neither of them relaxed in their vigilance, being faithful to the end.

Miss Sophie Dobson Entertains U. D. C.

The June meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held Tuesday afternoon at "Fairview," the most attractive suburban home of Miss Sophie Dobson, fifteen members being present.

The spacious veranda, willow furniture, crex crugs, handsome potted plants and bowls of cut flowers made a charming scene for the gathering, which was called to order by the president, Mrs. Jeff Wright, with all the members rising to repeat the Lord's prayer in unison.

The president read several letters expressing the appreciation of officers and chapters for the pleasant day enjoyed in Edgefield on the occasion of the recent district conference.

A card from the State Historian, Miss Zena Payne, was read begging the chapters to consider entering papers on the many contests open to the U. D. C. She referred to the many excellent libraries in Edgefield where all needed information could so easily be gathered.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Sophie Dobson, and stood approved. The treasurer, Mrs. R. A. Marsh, made her report, supplemented by a report from Mrs. John G. Edwards, who acted as treasurer of the special funds for the conference and Memorial day expenses. She presented a check for $20.00 to the chapter from the American Legion, who wished to contribute this generous amount from their recent successful play, "The Micoobe of Love," toward the expenses incurred by the Daughters in entertaining the old veterans, their wives and widows of veterans and the honorary members of the chapter at a dinner on Memorial day at the Dixie Highway Hotel. The Daughters accepted the check, giving the American Legion a rising vote of thanks.

The record for new members this year bids fair to be remarkable. Mrs. Preston Wright, Mrs. Thomas Lawrence Nicholson, Mrs. J. D. Mathis, Mrs. Wallace Wise, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Walter Nicholson, Mrs. Robert Waring, Mrs. Allen Samuel and Mrs. M. B. Tucker are recently elected members most cordially welcomed into the Edgefield chapter.

Certificates for three members, Mrs. John G. Edwards, Mrs. Walton Fuller and Miss Katherine Earle, had been received from headquarters.

Two wreaths, made of magnolia leaves, tied with the red and white ribbons, Confederate colors, the offering chosen by the chapter, have been sent during the month—expressions of the Daughters' sympathy on the death of Mr. Gadsden Morrall and Judge N. L. Brunson.

The historian, Mrs. Agatha A. Woodson, being absent, no historical program was presented.

The chapter will hold its election of officers at the first fall meeting in accordance with decisions of the conference.

At the conclusion of all business refreshing peach and vanilla ice cream with caramel iced cakes was served, the meeting proving a lovely climax to the chapter's series of 1920-1921 meetings.

Spray for Root and Wilt in Tomatoes.

County Agent Carville says to spray about every two weeks to control rot and wilt in tomatoes. While this treatment will not altogether prevent the above diseases, the tomatoes will do a great deal better where sprayed. Bordeaux Mixture is the material that should be used and can be prepared at home. This material can also be ordered by your County Agent for you in a ready prepared form. If you care for good tomatoes it certainly will pay you to spray.

Pleasant Meeting of Winthrop Daughters.

On Friday afternoon, June the tenth, fourteen young women met with Mrs. W. C. Tompkins for the purpose of organizing a chapter of Winthrop Daughters, discussing ways and means for a greater Winthrop.

The young ladies who attended Winthrop the last term were in the receiving line, also Miss Susan Adams, who had just returned from the State Short Course at Winthrop.

Mrs. W. C. Tompkins read two important letters from Miss Russel, the secretary of the Alumnae association of Winthrop College.

Miss Dunovant read some resolutions on higher education of women. These were approved of and unanimously adopted.

Misses Mamie Dunovant and Katherine Mims acted as an organization committee, and the following women were elected as officers: Miss Sallie Mae Nicholson, president; Mrs. W. E. LaGrone, vice-president; Miss Mamie Dunovant, secretary; Mrs. E. C. Asbill, treasurer; Mrs. A. B. Miller, publicity chairman and Miss Ida Folk, historian.

The program committee is composed of Mrs. C. P. Corn of Johnston, Mrs. E. L. Ryan of Trenton and Miss Katherine Mims of Edgefield. They will get together as soon as possible and make out monthly programs in advance.

After the officers were elected and the meeting was nearing its close, Mrs. Tompkins led the way to the lovely dining room where each was served with delicious block cream and caramel cake.

Just before their departure the daughters were served with refreshing punch.

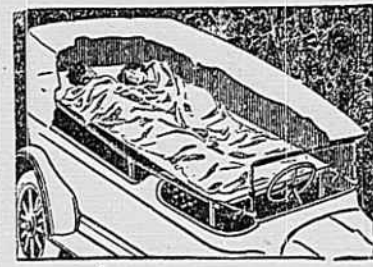

Everyone enjoyed the afternoon and reluctantly departed to wait a whole month before the next meeting.

Mrs. E. C. Asbill is the hostess for the first Tuesday in July and all the Winthrop Daughters are urged to be present.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is
