Declamation and Reading Contest at High School.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock, a very entertaining program was presented in the High School auditorium, when a contest in reading by the young ladies was given in order to select contestants for High School Week in Columbia.

Miss Eleanor Mims, president of the Literary Society presided over the meeting; Rev. A. T. Allen led in prayer, and Mr. W. O. Tatum, principal of the High School explained the purpose of the occasion.

Miss Alice Prescott opened the program with a piano solo.

Eight young ladies took part in the reading contest as follows: "Uncle Gabe's White Folks," Isabelle Byrd.

"Bobby Shafto," Mary Lyon. "The Jacket of Gray," Corrie Cheatham.

"Mrs. McMillan and the Lightning," Rhett Morgan.

"The Palmetto and the Pine," Elizabeth Lott.

"Billy Bred and the Big Lie," Gladys Lawton.

"After Ten Years," Sam Reeves. "Higher Culture in Dixie," Elyse Hudgens.

Miss Gladys Lawton was the successful contestant, and will go to Columbia to contest for the state prize, where the young ladies from all over the state will be entertained at the Colonia.

There was a general expression of hearty congratulation from all the audience on account of the splendid courage and fine spirit as well as the success of the participants in their undertaking.

Miss May Rives gave a piano solo between the program given by the readers and the next numbers which were as follows:

"The Traitor's Death Bed," Robert Ouzts.

"Ingersoll at the Death of His Brother," Allen Edwards.

"Flag Day Address," Dixon Timmerman.

The judges awarded the ten dollars in gold given by Mr. Claude Burnett to Robert Ouzts, presented by Mr. E. H. Folk. The gold piece awarded Miss Lawton was the gift of Mr. T. B. Greneker, presented by Mrs. Mammie N. Tillman.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson another of Edgefield's promising musicians, gave a piano solo.

One of the interesting features of the program was the presentation by Rev. A. T. Allen, of a gold basket ball in miniature, the gift of the Athletic association to Miss Corrie Cheatham, as the most valuable player.

Easter Egg Hunt.

The large garden and lawn of Mrs. Kate Butler was transformed into a veritable Fairyland Monday afternoon, the occasion being the annual Easter egg hunt arranged by the Guild of the Episcopal church. Nearly one hundred children gathered early in the afternoon, after impatiently waiting for the hour to arrive. Having attended previous egg hunts given by the Guild, they knew what pleasure was in store for them. More than 300 eggs had been hidden about the lawn and among this vast number was a golden egg, the finder of which would receive prize. Not only did the youngsters vie with each other as to which should find the greatest number of eggs but each one was doubly eager to locate the golden egg. After much searching, William Byrd, Jr., found the golden egg and received the prize, a beautiful box of candy. While the climax was now reached in the search for the eggs, yet there was much fun in store for the rollicksome boys and girls as they engaged in various games and outdoor sports. The occasion will be a source of pleasant memories to all who were present. The gate receipts and the proceeds of the sale of ice cream amounted to $18.10, $15.00 of which will be donated to the Armenian sufferers.

You can do it in a FORD.—Yonce Motor Company.

Rawl Granted Bail.

Chief Justice Gary yesterday granted bail to L. K. Rawl, white man charged with robbing stores at Trenton and being connected with robberies in Fairfield county. The chief justice fixed at $5,000 as the amount after a habeas corpus before him in the afternoon.

In fixing bail for Rawl, who was brought to the court room under heavy guard, Chief Justice Gary made it plain that crime in South Carolina must be stopped, and that one way to stop it was to keep criminals in jail. He told attorneys for Rawl that if the man before him was not a South Carolinian he would have fixed the bond at $10,000. Chief Justice Gary said the laws are too sacred to be trampled upon and at this time outsiders are invading the state to break its laws.

In case Rawl is able to take advantage of the bail it was indicated yesterday that several additional warrants are awaiting him, including one federal.—The State.

If Rawl furnishes bond in the sum of $5,000 and is released he will be at once arrested under other charges and remanded to prison. Sheriff Swearingen had forwarded just a few days ago three additional warrants for Rawl to Solicitor Callison. It will not be an easy matter for him to furnish heavy bond in all of the cases on record against him. If it were possible under the law to hold him, he should not be granted bail at all. Such a villain and desperate character as he is alleged to be deserves a permanent place behind prison bars.

Miss Dorothy Wheale Visits Edgefield.

Miss Wheale of Bridgeport, Conn., spent Monday in Edgefield, the guest of Mrs. W. B. Cogburn and Mrs. J. L. Mims. An afternoon meeting of ladies was held on Monday at the home of Mrs. J. L. Mims.

The songs of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union were sung, and Mrs. J. W. Peak conducted the devotions.

Miss Wheale made a very practical and thought provoking talk to the women, sounding a warning note to mothers in regard to the conditions in many parts of the country. She said that a questionnaire had been sent to Columbia University students recently asking their views on jazz music, on cigarette smoking and other things of like nature, and that the opinion of the young people was divided about half and half, showing the tendency towards lowering of ideals.

In the evening Miss Wheale spoke in the Baptist church, Rev. A. T. Allen conducting the devotions, and giving very pronounced views on the question of prohibition, and his interest in the cause. Rev. G. W. M. Taylor of the Methodist church introduced Miss Wheale, telling some of her qualifications for the work. Miss Wheale was a deaconess, though very young, in the Methodist church for 7 years, and took the two year course in religion at Yale University and several courses at Columbia University. She made an excellent address.

Tuesday morning Miss Wheale addressed the High School, going from Edgefield to Aiken.

Sunday School Notes.

One good thing about the modern Sunday school is that it takes in every age and class of people, from the cradle roll to the old and sedate.

One of the most interesting classes at the Edgefield Baptist Sunday school is No. 2., composed of elderly married women and widows, a class of noble women who have passed through the varied experiences of life, dark and dreary days as well as bright and sunny hours, when every minute was jewelled with a joy.

To them all the Bible is the great source of comfort. No place nor time is so fitted for learning the Bible as when assembled in the Sunday school class.

Another great time is in the House of Worship, surrounded by the peaceful influences of prayer and lulled in a soothing composure by the pealing anthems of the melodious organ, under the magic touch of Mrs. Mammie N. Tillman or Miss Margaret May, and the exquisitely mellifluous melody as rendered by Mr. George F. Mims and his beautiful and gifted daughter, Miss Lois Mims and Mr. Claude Lyon, Mrs. Walter Cantelou, Miss Ruth Lyon and Miss Rosela Parker.

Then we are lifted on the tide of Love till Hope can almost hear the rustle of a wing and Faith can see the glistening of a star.

One Negro Dead, Another Wounded.

Sunday afternoon about five o'clock two negroes, Will Weaver and George Barnes, became involved in a difficulty at an Easter celebration at a school house two miles south of Edgefield. Weaver shot Barnes and thinking the wound would prove fatal fled through the woods and was pursued by about half a dozen of Barnes' friends. They overtook him about half a mile away. Two pistol shots were heard and later the dead body of Weaver was found in the woods. Sheriff Swearingen began at once to work on the case. An inquest was held Monday by Judge J. B. Tompkins and the verdict was to the effect that Will Weaver died of a wound inflicted by Abraham Holmes, Hamp McKie, Ernest Barnes, Claude Jennings, Warren Barnes, Bryan East and James East.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Edgefield resident's example.

L. J. Wood, barber, Palace Barber Shop, says: "My kidneys became affected and I was bothered considerably. My kidneys acted too freely and the secretions were unnatural. My back ached and I couldn't stoop as my back was stiff and sore. This trouble interfered with my work, besides causing me much pain and distress. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. Doan's cured me and I have had no return of the trouble."
