LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. J. R. Cantelou Tuesday, May 16, at four o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth Metzler of Hogansville, Ga., spent the week-end with Mrs. M. B. Tucker.

During the hot days of May a bare-footed boy's fancy lightly turns to the bathing pool.

Mrs. Agatha Woodson and little granddaughter, Josephine, have returned to Newberry.

Miss Rosada Talbert of Parksville is here visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Parker.

The Corner Store calls attention this week to its superior shoe polish and stain remover.

Miss Lizzie Quarles of Trenton has been the guest of Mrs. A. A. Wells the past week.

Mrs. Martha Barker who has been spending a fortnight with relatives in Augusta has returned home.

Mrs. Jerry Verdery who has been making her home in Georgia is here visiting her brother, Mr. M. D. Lyon.

Mrs. A. M. Harris of Brunswick, Ga., has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Barker for a week or more.

Mr. Israel Mukashy announces that he has a large stock of the celebrated Walk-Over shoes and oxfords for men and women.

Mr. Huggins in his advertisement this week tells poultry raisers not to fool their little chicks by giving them inferior feed but to get his "Chickie Chow."

Mrs. Sam Agner and her little granddaughter, Lizzie Agner, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Agner, were among the visitors in Edgefield Monday.

Thus far the trucking crops around Edgefield, chiefly potatoes and beans, are looking very well, and some of the owners are already wondering how they will spend their profits.

The outlook for making cotton in this section is not very bright. Dr. A. R. Nicholson told us this morning that he saw three weevils on one little stalk of cotton in his field a few days ago.

Dr. H. G. Cannon spent the past week here with his sister, Mrs. A. H. Corley. Dr. Cannon is a physician specialist on one of the naval battleships, the hospital corps being stationed now at Philadelphia.

Mr. Roy Tucker, who has been doing research work at the Addison Mills for the past six months has left our town for La Grange, Ga., where he will take up similar work. Edgefield regrets very much to lose Mr. Tucker.

Little Miss Emily Mitchell was invited to sing at the entertainment in Johnston Friday night. In the introduction she was called the little nightingale of the South, and from the reports we have heard she was true to the name.

The Norris Millinery Company of Johnston announces in its advertisement this week that prices on spring millinery have been greatly reduced. Many hats being sold at and some below actual cost. Read their advertisement in this issue.

Capt W. M. Hunt who accompanied the Bailey minstrels to Edgefield Thursday spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Johnson, being a cousin of Mrs. Johnson. Capt. Hunt teaches Spanish and Latin in the Bailey Military Institute.

The Yonce Motor Company advertises Ford Cars and Fordson tractors this week and ask the pertinent question, What would cars and tractors cost had it not been for Henry Ford's scientific production upon such a large scale. Better get your order in with Mr. Yonce if you want an early delivery.

Concordia Lodge No. 50, A. F. M., will meet in called communication, Friday, May 12, at half past eight o'clock, for work in the second degree.

W. A. COLLETT, W. M.
J. O. SHEPPARD, Sec.

Mr. John M. Mays of Aiken spent Friday in Edgefield, attending the American Legion picnic. That Aiken climate seems to agree with him as the smile and sunshine and vigor of youth have come to him again. In fact we almost wrote the name John M. Mays, Jr., as he appear to be almost the younger of the two.

The announcement of Mr. J. H. Cantelou as a candidate for re-election to the office of Master of Edgefield county will be found in this issue. Mr. Cantelou has discharged the duties of this office to the entire satisfaction of the people since he was first elected. His books and records are accurately kept and whenever his office is examined by the grand jury he is always highly commended for the manner in which it is kept.

Hon. James F. Byrnes has announced his candidacy for re-election to congress from the second district of South Carolina. For ten or twelve years Mr. Byrnes has served the people in this capacity, having been re-elected without opposition two years ago. My Byrnes is a hard worker and a close student of public affairs, always being on the job to protect the interests of his constituency, as well as to promote interests of the country at large. He will meet with our people as the campaign progresses and give an account of his stewardship.

Services at the Methodist Church.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Rev. P. P. Blalock will preach at the Methodist church. At 8 p. m. the pastor, Rev. G. W. M. Taylor will preach.

Marriage Notice.

Miss Emmie Hall and Mr. Butler Covar were married at the home of Mr. John George in the Mill Village Monday night at 8 o'clock, Rev. G. W. M. Taylor officiating. The young couple are very well known in Edgefield and at the Addison Mills where they have positions.

Something Good to Go To.

There is a delightful surprise coming soon when the Parent-Teachers Association will provide entertainment in a new and novel way for the purpose of making some money for improvement of school grounds. Look out for an announcement later.

Parker-Warren.

The following invitations have been issued:

Mr. and Mrs. Mott C. Parker request the pleasure of your company at the marriage of their daughter Rosela to

Mr. Leon Carson Warren on Wednesday, the 24th of May at high noon At Home Edgefield, South Carolina

Interesting Meeting for Music Club.

Mrs. P. P. Blalock, Sr., will be hostess for the May meeting of the Philharmonic Music club on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, May 18. At this time the club will be honored by the presence of distinguished guests, Signora De Fabritiis and Monsieur Roger Chaudon of Paris, who will give a varied program of French Italian and English songs.

Strom-Corley.

Miss Martha Strom and Mr. Curtis Corley were married in Greenwood Sunday afternoon by Dr. Jester, pastor of the First Baptist church. Miss Strom is a daughter of Mrs. S. E. Strom who with her mother had been making her home in Greenwood for the past three years and Mr. Corley is a prominent young business man of Greenwood. Mr. and Mrs. Corley arrived in Edgefield yesterday to spend several days with Mrs. Corley's brother and sister, Mr. E. S. Strom and Mrs. J. W. Quarles.

Bankrupt Stock Sale.

This issue of The Advertiser contains a page advertisement of C. H. Schneider & Company of Augusta in which they tell our readers of the sale of the bankrupt stock of The Hub store next door to the Farmers Bank. This large Augusta firm bought this stock very cheap when it was sold to the highest bidder by the trustee in bankruptcy. It will pay you to read carefully the prices that are being made in this advertisement. This bankrupt sale will begin Friday of this week Call early so you can get what you want. The merchandise will not remain long at the prices named by Schneider & Company. They expect to convert it into cash at once, without regard to wholesale cost.

Members of Auxiliary Grateful

The members of the committee of the auxiliary to the American Legion are deeply appreciative of the splendid cooperation of the people in making the dinner on the day of the picnic such a great success. Owing to the rain that fell as dinner was being served, some things were misplaced. If any persons have lost any articles or have any that belong to someone else, they will please communicate with Mrs. Feltham and she will assist in having the property restored to the owners.

B. M. I. Minstrel Great Success

The school auditorium was filled Friday evening to greet the boys of the B. M. I. who had come over for the day to furnish the music for the American Legion picnic and to stay over for the minstrel. Accompanying them were Col. F. N. K. Bailey, who was greatly cheered and applauded when he appeared on the platform for a short greeting to the audience, Capt. Cain, Major and Mrs. Lyon and Capt. and Mrs. Burnside, and Miss Thelma Bailey, the latter two accompanying the orchestra on the piano. The music was good and the minstrel was one of the best.

Railroad Crossties.

For some time Mr. R. M. Winn has carried an advertisement in our columns and also one in the McCormick Messenger advertising for railroad crossties. Since last November Mr. Winn has bought more than 40,000 crossties for the C. & W. C. railroad, all delivered at Plum Branch. This has meant the paying out of about $30,000 in cash at Plum Branch for crossties since last November. Mr. Winn is a good business man and he has given his best efforts to this enterprise since he began last fall. He says the advertisements in The Advertiser and the McCormick paper have helped him to swell the volume of his business. He has, in fact, supplied the C. & W. C. railroad with 60 per cent of the ties it has brought since last fall. Not only has Mr. Winn built up a good business for himself, with possibilities of great increase yet, but the cross tie business has meant so much to the people who have sold them. The cash which has been paid to them by Mr. Winn has helped many to make tongue and buckle meet.

Mrs. J. G. Holland and Miss Ruth Tompkins Entertain for Miss Rosela Parker.

Miss Rosela Parker was honoree at a delightful party given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. G. Holland and Miss Ruth Tompkins at the former's charming new home.

The guests registered in the bride's book on the front porch. The bridge tables were arranged in the attractive reception rooms that were en suite for the occasion, tally cards having been passed around to the guests by little Virginia Holland, who was prettily dressed in pink organdy.

The bride's table during the refreshment hour was exquisitely appointed, centered with a miniature bride adorning a cake on a crystal stand, this dainty centre piece being the bride's souvenir. Mrs. John Rainsford won the souvenir for top score. A delightful tea in two courses completed the function. Mrs. Arthur Tompkins, Jr., of Columbia, and Miss Rosada Talbert of Parksville, were out of town guests.

NOTICE.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for Mayor of your town in the coming election and solicit the votes of the people.

W. W. ADAMS.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate of warden of the Town of Edgefield from the second ward and solicit the support of the voters in that ward.

Mrs. J. S. Byrd Entertains for Miss Margaret May and Miss Rosela Parker.

Mrs. J. S. Byrd entertained on Saturday afternoon last very elaborately for two popular brides-elect, Misses Rosela Parker and Margaret May.

The guests were invited to register in the brides' books by Miss June Rainsford and Miss Genevieve Norris.

Attractive score cards, painted in sweet pea design, were given out by little Ethelyn Byrd and Marjorie Mitchell, attired in adorable organdy frocks.

The wide hall, library and dining rooms were adorned with quantities of roses and sweet peas. Two mammoth Paul Neyrons marked the places at the head table for the two honor guests.

After bridge was enjoyed for a while, a delicious salad course with ice tea was served.

Each of the honorees was given a hand embroidered guest towel as an acceptable souvenir of the lovely party. Mrs. P. M. Feltham won head prize, a pair of hemstitched linen towels. Miss Virginia Addison was presented with the booby, which was also a pretty embroidered guest towel.

WORN NERVES.

Nervous troubles, with backache, dizzy spells, queer pains and irregular kidneys, give reason to suspect kidney weakness and to try the remedy that has helped your neighbors.

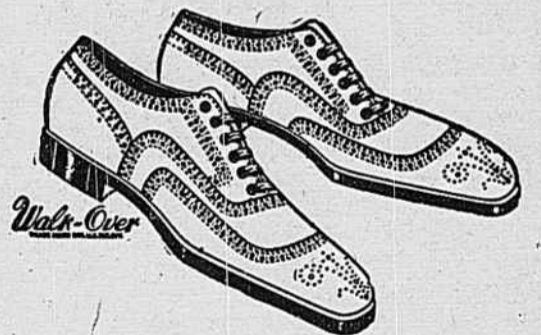

Mrs. J. D. Sharp, 703 Gully Row, Edgefield, says: "When I over-do, it affects my kidneys. My kidneys acid irregularly and my nerves were in bad shape. My back hurt severely and there was a constant ache across my kidneys from morning till night. The longer I was on my feet the worse it pained. Dizzy spells came on when I stooped and severe catches caught me in the small of my back without warning. I felt miserable, but I am thankful to say I received good benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved the trouble and I keep a box on hand now in case of a recurrence of it."
