Mr. Elwyn Moore has just completed his junior year at the Citadel and had made a fine record all through the past three years. The past session he has served as quartermaster sergeant and recently he won the distinction of being the best drilled cadet in the entire corps, being presented with the Star of the West medal.

The Corner Store announces this week that it has a large assortment of bathing suits for men and women. Get one and take a plunge in some near by pond these sweltering afternoons. It will take some of the grouch out of a fellow, as well as have other beneficial effects—if you take a cake of "Octagon" along.

In our candidates' column this week will be found the announcement of Mr. John W. Bledsoe as a candidate for the position of magistrate of the 6th magisterial district. Mr. Bledsoe is a sterling citizen of the Meeting Street section who if chosen by the people for this position will do his utmost to give entire satisfaction.

The college boys and girls are still arriving. Robert Taylor is at home from Randolph-Macon and Edwin Folk, William Folk, William Thurmond and Mitchell Wells are at home from the University, the former having graduated with high honors. Miss Edith Ouzts is at home from the G. W. C. and Elwyn Moore and Ralph Byrd will arrive tomorrow from the Citadel.

The Yonce Motor Company announces this week that they are now equipped for charging batteries of all kinds. Furthermore, their skilled mechanics can make a battery for you, if your car requires a special type of battery. They will also rent you a battery while yours is being charged, so you will not be deprived of the use of your machine. They guarantee satisfaction on their battery service.

Miss Anne Murphy, representing the Tuberculosis Association, which is arranging a wonderful free clinic for Edgefield arranged a meeting with interested citizens at the hotel Thursday evening of this week. Particulars of the clinic will be published and it will afford a wonderful opportunity for the county to fight the great white plague. Only by the concerted efforts of everyone who is interested in our county's welfare, can the maximum of good be derived from this offer held out to us.

We now have the agency for the celebrated Styleplus clothes for men and boys. The best made.

B. Y. P. U. Party.

Miss Lela Bland Tompkins was hostess for the B. Y. P. U. party Friday evening at her beautiful country home to welcome the returned college students. About thirty young people were present and progressive conversation and music were enjoyed during the evening. About eleven o'clock the guests were served with delicious block cream and cake.

Card of Thanks.

I take this means of extending sincere thanks to relatives and friends for their thoughtful kindness to me during the illness and death of my beloved wife. I shall always remember their expressions of sympathy and their kind attentions, holding myself ready to return their kindness should opportunity be afforded. Again I wish to express my profound gratitude.

F. L. TIMMERMAN, Jr.

Y. W. A. to Meet.

The Young Woman's Auxiliary will meet at the home of Miss Emmie Lanham Thursday afternoon, June 22nd at 5 o'clock. This meeting will be of particular interest since the members have divided themselves into two groups, vying against each other to see which can win the most new members and do more for the raising of the standard of the organization. At this meeting reports of the progress will be made. All members are urged to come. Every Baptist young woman who is not a member is cordially invited.

Very Cordial Welcome.

For some months Mr. T. J. Paul has spent every week end in Augusta, and occasionally his visits would extend far into the week, but his friends were not until recently fully apprised of the reason for his fondness for Augusta. On December 28, last, Mr. Paul and Miss Leila Jeffries were married at the home of her mother, Mrs. Genie Jeffries, but as it was impossible for her to leave her mother then to make her home in Edgefield, Mr. Paul did not make a public announcement of their marriage until recently in Edgefield. Saturday he made his last week-end trip to Augusta, for Monday he brought Mrs. Paul with him to reside permanently in Edgefield. They are for the present occupying rooms in the Addison building. Edgefield extends a very cordial welcome to Mrs. Paul.

Planting Late Potatoes.

More attention ought to be given the growing of late potatoes in this section. There is a ready market in the South for more potatoes than the South grows any year. Two varieties are recommended. The Lookout Mountain and the Peachblow. The peachblow is an improved variety of the Lookout Mountain. In Virginia enormous yields of these potatoes are grown, often as many as fifty to one. I see no reason why fine crops should not be grown here.

Do not plant before the first of August. If you plant them in July the probability is that the long hot dry September spell will catch them when the young potatoes have formed and they will be injured. Planting after the first of August will more likely enable them to weather out that spell and when the rain comes late in October they will make.

Plant them in deep rich soil, bottom land preferred. Lay off your rows late in the afternoon and early next morning drop your potatoes and cover them with a big furrow to protect them from the hot sun. In a few days, before the spud comes through drag off the furrow, leaving your field as near level as possible. A half ton 7-5-5 per acre is necessary to get a good crop. They require little work-

BATTERY SERVICE STATION

In order to supply the increasing demands of our patrons for modern and improved battery service we have installed a complete battery station. We can charge and repair any type of battery or we can make a new battery for your car, as we are so well equipped in every detail.

We will rent you a battery while yours is being charged, so you will not be deprived of the use of your car.

Our Prices are Reasonable

Death of Mrs. F. L. Timmerman, Jr.

The sudden death of Mrs. F. L. Timmerman, Jr., in Edgefield at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cogburn, early Sunday morning cast a gloom over our community. All severing of human ties is sad but the taking of a young mother, leaving a little son but a little more than a day old, is inexpressibly sad. During Saturday Mrs. Timmerman was resting well but grew worse Saturday night. She received the best possible attention during her short sickness, everything possible being done that would in any way contribute to her relief and comfort.

Before her marriage Mrs. Timmerman was Miss Carolee Cogburn. She was born and reared in the Meeting Street section of the county. In her girlhood days she attended school in Edgefield three years, winning several medals for her excellent record. She also made many friends here who remember her very pleasantly. Soon after their marriage about two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Timmerman made their home in Atlanta. During her stay in Atlanta she placed her church letter with the First Baptist church, of which she was a member at the time of her death. Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Timmerman moved to the Berea community, where they have since resided.

Besides her devoted husband and a dear little son, Mrs. Timmerman is survived by her parents, two brothers, Earl and Stevens Cogburn, and five sisters, Mrs. C. J. Eager of Chattanooga; Mrs. Clint Hill of Meeting Street; Mrs. J. H. Major of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. D. C. Fleming of Columbia and Miss Reba Cogburn of Atlanta.

The funeral was conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock at Stevens Creek church by Rev. W. P. Brooke and the interment took place in the family square in the cemetery.

McKendree News.

The rain has about stopped in this community and we hope for a week or two of fair weather so the farmers can plant some more corn, as there has not been very much planted yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Zonnie Dorn spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner.

We are sorry to learn of the sad death of Mrs. F. L. Timmerman, Jr., which occurred at the home of her parents at Edgefield, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cogburn.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Walker spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Lucinda Dorn.

Messrs W. E. Turner and A. J. Ouzts made a business trip to Edgefield Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Walker attended service at Stevens Creek church Sunday morning.

Time for Action.

Whatever the subcommittee of the senate finance committee appointed to investigate the rise in the price of gasoline is to do should be done quickly.

The increase, in the last two months, of four cents, or thereabouts, a gallon in the price of this commodity imposes a terrific tax on the American people. In a year it would take nearly two million dollars out of the pockets of users of gasoline in South Carolina.

Gasoline production is an industry concentrated in the direction of a few corporations. The public is at their mercy. They are entitled to just treatment, they should be heard for their cause, but it is highly necessary that the representatives of the public exercise energy and vigilance to see that it is not ruthlessly imposed upon in a period when other prices are declining and the buying power of the dollar is increasing.

Senator Smith of South Carolina is a member of the subcommittee, and if it shall not "get busy" it will not be his fault.—The State.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is
